

department for education and skills

Inspiration, Identity, Learning: The Value of Museums

The evaluation of the impact of DCMS/DfES Strategic Commissioning
2003-2004: National/Regional Museum Education Partnerships
June 2004

Eilean Hooper Greenhill
Jocelyn Dodd
Martin Philips
Ceri Jones
Jenny Woodward
Helen O'Riain

Inspiration, Identity, Learning: The Value of Museums

The evaluation of the impact of DCMS/DfES Strategic Commissioning 2003-2004: National/Regional Museum Education Partnerships

This report has been prepared by the Research Centre for Museums and Galleries for the Department of Media Culture and Sport in collaboration with the Department for Education and Skills
June 2004

DCMS
2-4 Cockspur Street
London
SW1Y 5DH

DfES
Westminster
Caxton House
6-12 Tothill Street
London
SW1H 9NA

Research Centre for Museums and Galleries
Department of Museum Studies
105 Princess Road East
Leicester
LE1 7LG

department for education and skills

Contents

Summary	Inspiration, identity, learning: the value of museums	1
Section 1	Context and background	7
	1.0 Context for the Evaluation	7
	1.1 Research aims and intentions	9
	1.2 Specific research objectives	11
Section 2	Research methods	12
	2.0 What evidence of impact was gathered?	12
	2.1 Methods of data collection	13
	2.2 Museums involved in Strategic Commissioning National / Regional Partnerships	14
	2.3 Designing the data-gathering process	21
	2.4 Familiarisation visits	22
	2.5 The evaluation packs: Form A and B	23
	2.6 Collecting numbers of pupils using Form C	24
	2.7 Recording numbers of participants at community activities using Form E	24
	2.8 Summarising the project using Form H	25
	2.9 Organisations completing Forms A, B, C, E and H	26
	2.10 Numbers of Evaluation Packs distributed and returned	31
	2.11 Case study visits	35
Section 3	The 12 Projects Described	37
	3.0 Introduction	37
	3.1 The Story of Money	38
	3.2 Texts in Context	40
	3.3 Partners in Time	42
	3.4 People, Places, Portraits	44
	3.5 Understanding Slavery	47
	3.6 Anim8ed	51
	3.7 Creative Canals	55
	3.8 Supporting Regional Schools	57
	3.9 Image and Identity	61
	3.10 Take One Picture: North, East, South, West	65
	3.11 Engaging Refugees and Asylum Seekers	67
	3.12 Moving Minds	71
Section 4	Data collection using Forms C and E	74
	4.0 Summary	74
	4.1 Numbers of contacts with school pupils between September 2003 and March 2004	75
	4.2 Recording community-based activities between August 2003 and March 2004	83

	4.3	Conclusions	97
Section 5		Developing a picture of the impact of museum provision for schools: the teachers, the pupils and the schools involved	98
	5.0	Evaluation Packs completed and included in the data	98
	5.1	The Museums and Galleries visited by school groups who completed Evaluation Packs	101
	5.2	Numbers of school visits, pupils, teachers and accompanying adults	103
	5.3	Reaching schools from areas of deprivation	106
	5.4	School and Key Stage breakdown	122
	5.5	The pupils who completed Form B	124
Section 6		How museums are used by teachers	13
			3
	6.0	Evidence from the teachers' questionnaires	133
	6.1	Conclusion	142
Section 7		Valuing the five Generic Learning Outcomes	14
			3
	7.0	Introduction and comparison with Renaissance in the Regions	143
	7.1	How teachers at KS2 and below and KS3 and above value the five Generic Learning Outcomes	146
	7.2	How teachers on visits with different themes value the five Generic Learning Outcomes	148
	7.3	Enjoyment, Inspiration, Creativity	152
	7.4	Knowledge and Understanding	155
	7.5	Attitudes and Values	157
	7.6	Action, Behaviour, Progression	159
	7.7	Skills	161
	7.8	Conclusion	164
Section 8		What did the pupils learn? The teachers' views	16
			5
	8.0	Introduction	165
	8.1	Enjoyment, Inspiration, Creativity	166
	8.2	Knowledge and Understanding	182
	8.3	Attitudes and Values	196
	8.4	Action, Behaviour, Progression	211
	8.5	Skills	243
	8.6	Differences between teachers of KS2 and below and KS3 and above pupils	268
	8.7	Differences between teachers on visits for different themes	270
Section 9		What did the pupils learn? The pupils' views	274
	9.0	Summary	274
	9.1	Pupils' views of their own learning as a source of evidence	275

	9.2	Who completed questionnaires?	276
	9.3	Summary of results	277
	9.4	Comparing the DCMS/DfES results with Renaissance in the Regions	279
	9.5	The learning outcomes for KS2 and below pupils	281
	9.6	Learning in the museum at KS2 and below	298
	9.7	The learning outcomes for KS3 and above pupils	299
	9.8	Learning in the museum at KS3 and above	323
	9.9	Conclusion	324
Section 10		The case-studies	325
	10.0	Background to the case-studies	325
	10.1	Take one picture North East	329
	10.2	Anim8ted	342
	10.3	Image and Identity	352
	10.4	Engaging Refugees and Asylum Seekers	360
	10.5	Moving Minds	369
	10.6	Partners in Time	376
	10.7	Understanding Slavery	385
	10.8	People, Places & Portraits	396
Section 11		Conclusions – inspiration, identity, learning: the value of museums	403
	11.1	The twelve projects	403
	11.2	Common themes, and shared convictions about the potential of museums	406
	11.3	The character of the projects: ambitious projects, multi-stranded and geographically dispersed	410
	11.4	An opportunity for innovation and experiment	412
	11.5	Partnerships and project management	414
	11.6	Critical success factors for projects	418
	11.7	The impact of the DCMS/DfES programme on schools - the use of museums by teachers	422
	11.8	The impact of the DCMS/DfES programme on learning - two illustrative examples	425
	11.9	The impact of the DCMS/DfES programme on learning in schools: The five Generic Learning Outcomes	430
	11.10	The impact of the DCMS/DfES programme - the use of museums by communities	438
	11.11	The impact of the DCMS/DfES programme on museums	443
	11.12	Key issues for the future	446
Appendices			453
	1	Research Tools	453
	2	Completed Form H	463
	3	Teachers' Themes	484