

Crossref

Introducing
Crossref: good to meet you!

We are Crossref, a not-for-profit membership organization for scholarly publishing, working to make content easy to find, cite, link and assess. We do it in five ways: rallying the community; tagging metadata; running a shared infrastructure; playing with new technology; and making tools and services to improve research communications.

It's as simple—and as complicated—as that.

Our truths

- Smart alone, brilliant together
- If you publish, you're a publisher
- One member, one vote
- Love metadata, love technology
- Politic, not political
- Here today, here tomorrow

About us

- Founded in 2000 with 12 publishers
- Not for profit membership organization
- 30 staff based in Oxford, UK and Boston, USA
 - outreach, tech, development, product, operations
- Publishers, libraries, sponsors, affiliated organizations, researchers, all use our services.

Our people

Home > Our people

We are a small team of jovial and diverse individuals who all share the common goal of moving walls... literally and figuratively. There is an open atmosphere where we all take an honest approach to our work. We also like to have fun, whether it's having a meeting in the Play room, or battling it out in the bowling alley at our team outings.

We contribute to numerous industry initiatives through other organizations' working groups, committees, and by speaking at conferences on a range of topics.
