CCWI2017 Figshare Repository

This is the Figshare repository for the papers for the Computing and Control for the Water Industry (CCWI) conference held at Sheffield 5th to 7th.

The papers included in the repository will be remain to be available after the conference and all have an individual d.o.i. and will be completely discoverable by common and academic search engines.

The papers should appear ordered as they are in the Conference booklet, ordered by theme. You can also reorder the papers as you desire or search by author or title. In addition you will find the items that relate to the conference themes these include a list of papers for each theme and a direct link to each paper via the d.o.i.

We hope you enjoy the conference and find it a useful and engaging 3 days.
