

Miscue Analysis
Grandma's Garden
by Beverly DeVries

Level 2.2
275 words

Ruth

skip read again

skipped read again

	Substitution	Mispronunciation	Insertion	Omission	Repeats	Self Corrections	Syntax Unacceptable	Meaning Disrupted
"Megan, today <sup>we're</sup> we are going to Grandma's house. She wants us to help her pick vegetables in the garden."
"Goodie! I love to visit Grandma and help her in her <sup>so</sup> her garden. She has <sup>much</sup> such beautiful flowers." When they got to Grandma's house, she was standing on the porch, waving to them. Megan went running to Grandma and gave her a big hug. "We are here to help you pick <sup>help(s)</sup> vegetables, ] Grandma." "Super! I need help picking <sup>the</sup> beans and peas: Here is a basket for you, one for your mom, <sup>the</sup> and <sup>missed period</sup> grandma and one for me. And here is a sun hat for you, one for your mom, and one for me. I <sup>don't</sup> do not want you to get a sun burn." In the garden, they began to pick her beans.
Megan filled her basket first. Grandma gave her another basket. "Now you can fill this one with peas," Grandma said. ] After all the baskets were filled, Grandma said, "Now let's see if the carrots are big enough to pick."
Grandma took Megan to <sup>are(s)</sup> the row of carrots. "Here they

	Substitution	Mispronunciation	Insertion	Omission	Repeats	Self Corrections	Syntax Unacceptable	Meaning Disrupted
are," Grandma announced. "I don't see any carrots," Megan said. "You cannot see them, but watch." Grandma took a bunch of green tops and pulled straight up.
"Wow!" said Megan. "That is magic! May I eat this big			1 carrot?" "Of course, but first help me pick two more:					1 one for your mom and one for me. Then we will wash them and enjoy them," Grandma said. And that is just				1		1 what they did. They washed the carrots and went					11 to sit on the porch swing to eat their big, fat carrot.	1

total errors 13 -
Repeats are not errors

6 self-corrections =
1 total errors
2 errors disrupted
meaning

luth repeats words when she is unsure of words.
She skipped parts - which may come from her love of silent reading instead of oral reading.
(Her eyes skip ahead.)

She omits some periods, which may disrupt meaning.