

WEBSITE RESOURCE W16.3

Digital texts that I like

Start keeping a list like this for yourself. You may find it easiest to create an online file so that you can add to it.

Title and source	Age range	Notes
Dr Seuss apps Oceanhouse media (https://apps.oceanhousemedia.com)	4 upwards	All the favourites plus games and activities. Good for word play.
Comic Life (https://comic-life.en.softonic.com)	6 upwards	Create comic strips using own photographs.
Clock Tower (2014) Cara Antonelli. Ringling College of Art and Design, Sarasota, Florida (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ui93y-7BXm8)	7 upwards	Very short film with no dialogue but compelling music and sound effects. The clock in a clocktower in a village is powered by a cog-girl who tries to leave the tower but finds that if she escapes, time ceases. Brilliant for imaginative writing.
The Heart and the Bottle . (2010) [Mobile application software], Version: 1.0. Harper Collins.	7 upwards	Beautiful poignant story – useful for PSHE.
Super Great Kids Stories (http://wardourstudios.co.uk/super-great-kids-stories/)	7 upwards	Stories from all over the world (about 25 minutes) You can stop and predict, or role play characters . . .

Website Resource W16.3

Title and source	Age range	Notes
Crime scene investigation activities (http://stem-works.com/subjects/10-crime-scene-investigation/activities)	9 upwards	For CSI lovers! Masses of activities associated with crime scene investigations. Access to virtual tours of forensic labs.
Podcast – William Shakespeare narrates (briefly) A Midsummer Night's Dream (https://www.bbc.co.uk/sounds/play/p03r22b9)	10 upwards	Great for encouraging listening skills as well as lively and engaging.

Title and source	Age range	Notes