

FORM INSTRUCTIONS

Complete Part 1 – Student Declaration, to declare your ability to meet expenses for your entire program. If you will be funded by other personal sources (like a family member), that individual must complete Part 2 –Personal Sponsor Declaration, to tell ISSS how much money they will provide to you per year of study.

Upload the required support documentation into the ISSS Portal I-20/DS-2019 Request record. Support documentation may include bank statements, certificates of deposit, scholarship, graduate assistantship, loan, or government financial support letters issued within the last three months. Support documentation may not include salary statements, or statements from investment accounts. Detailed funding requirements are listed at issu.uconn.edu > New Students > Financial Requirements.

The total funding must equal at least the minimum amount listed in the table below for your program.

ISSS will issue your Form I-20/DS-2019 listing the funding sources you provide for your first year (F-1 students) or for your entire program (J-1 students). This must be an accurate representation of how you will meet your expenses. If you are showing your own personal bank statements, or a family member’s bank statement to meet your educational expenses, ISSS will list on the form only the minimum amount required for your program.

PART 1: STUDENT DECLARATION

I hereby declare that I will have funding available to cover estimated expenses for the duration of my program at UConn. I have attached support documentation to demonstrate I can readily meet expenses for at least the first academic year of study in my program, and I expect to maintain the same level of funding for future years in my program, acknowledging that UConn fees may increase in future years. I understand that I am responsible for all additional expenses incurred if I decide to stay in the U.S. when my program does not require summer/winter enrollment in its curriculum. I declare that any funding support documentation I have submitted electronically or as copies are taken from official original documents or were issued to me or my financial sponsor from original sources.
