Why choose The University of Tulsa?

Expand your educational horizons at a top-ranking US university with strong global connections. The University of Tulsa (TU) offers world-class research and academics, top-level sports, and a vibrant campus experience.

Faculty mentors
With an impressive student-to-faculty ratio at TU of just 11:1, you will get to know your professors personally. Faculty members here don’t just teach; they can also become your trusted advisors and mentors. They can even help you to conduct your own advanced research project—an opportunity not always available to undergraduate students at other universities. You’ll receive the attention you need to succeed in your degree and beyond.

→ See what you can study at TU on page 5

Outstanding facilities
At TU, you will have access to laboratories designed to build real-world skills. Business students can use professional-level Bloomberg technology computers and finance databases, while engineering students practice on a full-sized drilling rig on campus. If you love the arts, you can book the Lorton Performance Center’s state-of-the-art music rehearsal studios, performance spaces and post-production labs for film editing.

Perfect location for study
Tulsa, Oklahoma combines Southern charm and hospitality with the benefits of a major city. Easy access to shops, restaurants, and entertainment options makes this a great place to live and study. Tulsa has a dynamic economy that supports both large industries and young entrepreneurs, and is in the top 15 best US cities for economic opportunity (Yelp 2017).

Find your route to TU

We have a route that's the right fit for you. Whether you need extra preparation in your English, or you're ready to start your degree immediately, we're here to guide you to your best option.

Your English level

- Beginner through intermediate (TOEFL below 61 or no test score)
- High intermediate (TOEFL 61-69)
- Advanced (TOEFL 70+)

Route to TU

- On-campus English preparation
  - see page 8
- On-campus pathway program
  - see page 8
- Direct admission to TU
  - see page 5

Preparation for university

- Intensive English Program (IEP) at The University of Tulsa
  - 8-40 weeks
- Pathway to Academics at The University of Tulsa
  - 1-semester program (4 months)
- Bachelor's degree
  - typically 4 years

Full-time university study

Graduation

Your future

- Master's degree at TU or another university
- Optional Practical Training
  - 1-3 years' paid work experience
- Start your career in your home country or abroad

Do I need a pathway or English preparation?

If you are academically qualified for a TU degree but have an English test score slightly below the minimum requirement, you will first join the pathway program. If you have a lower English level or no English test score, you can be conditionally admitted to The University of Tulsa via an English preparation program. By successfully completing either program, you are guaranteed progression to your chosen TU bachelor’s degree (select from list on page 5).

Can I enter a degree directly?

Yes. If you meet all the academic and English language requirements of the University, we can help you apply for direct admission to any of the TU bachelor’s degrees listed on page 5. You will start full-time undergraduate studies as soon as you arrive on campus. Our education advisors are experts in the US admissions process, and will provide valuable support during your application. We will review your English language and academic qualifications, and ensure you have all the necessary supporting documents.

Quick guide to US undergraduate study

- Bachelor’s degrees include courses in your chosen “major” and a broad range of other subjects. It is common for students to change major in the 1st or 2nd year.
- Optional Practical Training (OPT) is a work benefit that allows international students with an F-1 visa to stay in the USA and do paid work related to their degree after graduation.

SAT and ACT are standardized high school tests for undergraduate admission. However, international students are not required to take these tests when applying to TU.
Pathway and English preparation overview
You can be placed in one of two on-campus programs, depending on your English language level:

Intensive English Program (IEP)
Build your skills in reading, writing, grammar, listening and speaking in 1 to 5 levels, each lasting 8 weeks. All levels of English are offered, including beginner. On completion of Level 5, you will progress into your bachelor’s degree at TU.

Pathway to Academics
Improve your fluency in spoken and written English, while also earning 6-8 college credits in mathematics and college writing. These credits are transferrable to your TU bachelor’s degree when you successfully complete the program.

Warm welcome
TU’s new student orientation will help you get off to the best start possible. You’ll meet key faculty and staff mentors, and also learn about important organizations and resources on campus. In some cases, you can attend a 2-day session designed especially for international students, where you’ll learn how to adjust to a US university. There’s also plenty of time for you to have fun: activity retreats, an athletics rally, and an outdoor dance party, to name just a few!

Get involved
No matter what your interests are, you’ll find a welcoming community at TU. With 200 student organizations, there are many ways to make friends and participate in campus life. The Association of International Students has almost 500 members from 66 countries. Students can also attend weekly on-campus ministries for Jewish, Muslim and several Christian faiths.

Enjoy sports
Take a break from your studies at the well-equipped Fulton and Susie Collins Fitness Center, which includes 3 basketball courts, a workout area with more than 200 pieces of exercise equipment, a game room and an indoor running track. You can join one of the campus recreational leagues, or watch any of the University’s 17 Division I sports teams compete on campus for free using your TU student ID!

Explore Tulsa
Though you will find lots of events and activities on campus, there’s also lots to see and do in Tulsa. The city has amusement parks, museums, concert halls, boutique shops and delicious local and international foods. The city also has over 135 parks and 50 miles of scenic trails for biking and running. Tulsa’s warm southern climate allows you to enjoy these outdoor activities all year round.

Student life at TU
Experience the vibrant energy of American university culture on TU’s 200-acre campus close to the heart of Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Popular TU events

October: Homecoming
Join TU alumni and other students for 5 days of fun, including the annual pep rally and bonfire, an exciting event featuring parades, music and fireworks. It’s a great way to get everyone excited for the Homecoming American football game.

November: International Night Market
Travel the world without leaving campus. Sample traditional foods from different countries and enjoy international music and dance at this event modeled on popular street markets found across the globe.

December: Festival of Lessons and Carols
At this campus favorite, listen to readings by TU faculty and students and traditional Christmas music sung by the Cappella Chamber Singers.

March / April: Springfest
Taking place between Spring Break and final exams, Springfest is a full week of music, free food, and fun activities.

In addition to an academic transcript, TU graduates receive a co-curricular transcript. This highlights membership in clubs, leadership positions, and other marketable skills gained outside of your studies.
