Ever since I was a kid I’ve liked the UK. It’s such a nice place to live and it’s a great environment for studying too — that’s why I decided to study a pathway course with Kaplan that would help me get into City, University of London.

It was easy to make friends here as everyone is so open. Kaplan International College London has good extra-curricular activities: we play sports on Wednesdays and sometimes there are movie nights. It’s really nice!

I really enjoy my classes at the College too — my teachers are friendly and they have a very good sense of humour.

I think studying abroad helps you open your mind, and provides you with a better understanding of other cultures.

I know I’ll look back at these moments as some of my most valuable, for sure.

Naif from Saudi Arabia

On his path to a City, University of London degree
1. Decide to study abroad
Once you’ve completed your current high school or university studies, we can help you gain access to an undergraduate or postgraduate degree at a great university abroad.

2. Choose your course and apply
If you don’t meet the academic and/or English language entry requirements for a degree, you can get there by studying a pathway course first. You’re guaranteed entry to your chosen degree if you pass your pathway course at the required level, and with good attendance.

3. Study your pathway course in your destination country
You’ll improve your academic skills and English language level, and learn more about the local culture. Your course is often taught on campus at the university you applied to.

4. Progress to your university degree
Once you’ve met the progression requirements for your pathway course, you’ll enrol on your chosen bachelor’s or master’s degree at university, feeling fully prepared and settled into your new country.

5. Graduate from university and start your career
When you finish your degree, you can graduate with a bright future ahead. With a good education and international experience, you’ll be well placed to begin a successful career.

What is a pathway course?
If you don’t meet the requirements to enter a degree abroad directly, Kaplan can help. These 5 steps show your path to university with Kaplan. It’s easier than you might think!

Why study a pathway course?

A pathway course is the perfect way to make sure you can study the degree you want. You’ll start university fully prepared for the challenges ahead.

Benefits of taking a pathway course

Taking a pathway course will really help your education and career prospects. It can enable you to get into a better university, so you’ll end up with a more impressive degree after you graduate. It will give you all the skills and knowledge you need to be prepared for university study, and for life in another country. A big part of this is the chance to make lifelong friendships with people from all over the world. Pathway courses are available for bachelor’s and master’s degrees, whatever level you’re studying at, it’s good to be prepared!

Our guarantee

When you study a pathway course with Kaplan, you are guaranteed entry to your university degree when you pass at the required level, with good attendance.
What can I study?

When you study with Kaplan, you can do things your way. You’ll have a huge range of degrees and subjects to choose from, with options for both pathway courses and direct admission.

Routes to bachelor’s degrees

We offer you a wide range of pathway courses that lead to undergraduate degrees. There are also options for students who qualify to enrol directly onto a degree, or who wish to complete a degree they’ve already started at a different university and transfer existing credits.

Undergraduate pathways in the UK, USA and Australia include the Foundation Certificate (typically leading to the 1st year of a bachelor’s degree), and International Year One (leading to the 2nd year of a bachelor’s degree).

Routes to master’s degrees

There are a number of ways you can enrol on a master’s degree with Kaplan, including through a pathway course, typically taken on the campus of the university you’d like to study at. As well as pathway courses, there are options for direct admission to a master’s degree if you qualify.

Postgraduate pathways – or simply graduate pathways in the USA – will allow you to take your higher education one step further. Available courses include a Pre-Master’s, which can help you progress to a master’s degree.

Before you arrive

There’s a lot to think about before you leave your home country, but don’t worry. We’ll give you lots of support and advice as you take the first steps on your path to university.

First contact
As soon as you first contact Kaplan, we’ll be here to give you step-by-step support, free of charge. We’ll give you expert advice on the universities, degrees and pathway courses available to you, and will make sure you start on the right path.

Easy application
Once you’ve decided on a study option for you, applying is simple, quick and, in many cases, free. We’ll lead you through the admissions process, and will review your application and supporting documents to make sure everything is complete.

Pre-arrival guide
Before you travel abroad, we’ll send you helpful pre-arrival information, containing useful tips about your study destination. This is a great way to learn more about the culture in which you’ll be studying, and what you can do to prepare.

Student insurance
We’ll also advise you on things such as insurance for your time abroad. We can offer a student insurance policy to cover you during your stay in the UK. If you’re heading to the US, we will send you details of the university’s health plan.

After you arrive

Arriving in a new country is both exciting and challenging. We’ll give you all the support you need as you discover your new home, so you can begin your studies with confidence.

Airport welcome

We can meet you at the airport when you arrive, with a friendly face to greet you from your flight. From the airport, we can take you directly to your new home, and make sure you’re comfortable in your accommodation and surroundings.

Support team

Our support staff are here to help; they have years of experience helping international students adapt to life in another country. They’ll organise activities during your pathway course, and will be happy and ready to assist you with any problems.

Progression support

When it’s time to progress to university, we’ll support you through this important step. For example, we’ll advise you on renewing or extending your visa for your degree, and can guide you on back-up options in case you don’t meet the requirements for your first-choice degree.

The best start

Your first week is all about settling in, and we’ll help you with key things like registering with local health services, opening a bank account and more. There will also be lots of activities for you to get involved in, making it a great time to meet staff, explore the area and get to know other students.

Live your way

When you go abroad to study, where you live is so important. Thankfully, you have some great accommodation options with us, offering modern facilities in safe surroundings.

Accommodation designed for you

We offer high-quality housing, so there’s no need to look anywhere else! When you study with us, in many cases you are guaranteed accommodation as long as you apply for it in time.

University residences

You’ll often be able to stay in a university residence, with modern rooms, social spaces and easy access to your classes. In the UK and Australia, you will usually have your own bedroom, while the tradition in the USA is to share with another student.

Kaplan Living

At some study centres, you can stay in Kaplan’s own accommodation, Kaplan Living. You’ll enjoy a private bedroom with quiet study space, and social areas with TVs and games. You’ll be close to class and live with international students like you.

What is typically included?

- Your own private bedroom (shared in the USA)
- Private or shared bathroom
- Utility bills
- Internet and WiFi
- Private or shared kitchen

In some cases you’ll have a meal plan, so there’s no need to worry about cooking. In the UK, we will give you a student pack with essential items such as bedding and cooking utensils to get you started. It’s one less thing to think about when packing!

Other options

In addition to a Kaplan or university residence, you have other options for where to live. You might want to take advantage of a homestay, so you can live with an English-speaking host and experience traditional life. Whichever kind of accommodation you prefer, we’ll help you live your way.

Student Ambassadors

Studying abroad is a big decision. To help you make up your mind, why not hear what students who have already done it have to say? Our Student Ambassadors produce interesting blogs and videos all about their lives as international students, so you can see exactly what it’s like to live and study abroad.

Life as an international student

Kaplan’s Student Ambassador programme gives international students just like you the opportunity to share their experiences of life abroad. They regularly share exciting content like pictures, videos and blogs, and offer advice to other students who are thinking about studying in another country. They can give you a clear picture of what life as an international student is really like — after all, who knows better about student life than the people who are living it?

Become an Ambassador

Vlogging and writing articles are great ways to improve your English, and as a Kaplan Student Ambassador, you’ll be doing both! It will also look great on your CV, as you’ll learn skills like networking, and will receive a certificate to prove your participation. Ambassadors also receive great rewards for taking part in the programme, such as a free travel card, or a short stay at a Kaplan residence. There’s even a special bonus gift for oversachievers!

Glossary

Below are definitions of some of the commonly used words and phrases you’ll see in this brochure.

United Kingdom

Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB)
A business school which is AACSB-accredited has been proven to meet rigorous standards and provide the highest-quality education in business subjects.

Ancient university
The "ancient universities" are a group of 7 institutions in the UK and Ireland, including Oxford and Cambridge, that were founded before the year 1600, making them more than 400 years old.

Campus university
A campus university has all its buildings and facilities on 1 or more self-contained sites. At a campus university, you’ll often be able to live, study and socialize all in the same place!

Credit / credits
In the US university system, you need to gain a certain number of academic "credits" to successfully graduate, usually 120–130 for a bachelor’s degree and 30–64 for a master’s degree.

Fortune 500 companies
Fortune 500 companies feature in Fortune magazine’s list of the 500 US corporations with the largest total revenues.

Major
US bachelor’s degrees are designed to develop a broad base of knowledge through the study of many subjects in the first 2 years. In the final 2 years, you’ll focus on your chosen “major”, the subject in which you’ll gain your qualification.

Optional Practical Training (OPT)
OPT allows international students with an F-1 visa to stay in the USA to do paid work related to their degree after graduation. You can work for up to 1 year, or 3 years if your degree is in an eligible science, technology, engineering or mathematics (STEM) field.

Private university
Private universities are primarily funded by private donors and operate independently of state government. They tend to be smaller, and may have a particular academic focus, like liberal arts or technology.

Public university
Public universities are primarily funded by the state. They are often much larger than private universities, with bigger class sizes and a wider range of degree options.

Undergraduate transfer
It is common in the USA for undergraduate students to change university after 1 or 2 years and complete their degree at another institution, using the transfer system.

Very high research activity
Within the official classification of US universities, this is the highest level, and is measured by research expenditure and number of research-focused faculty, among other factors.

Australia

Group of Eight (Go8)
The Go8 is a group of Australia’s leading research-intensive universities. Go8 members are typically highly ranked, and focused on leading research policy and forming international partnerships.

Innovative Research Universities (IRU)
The IRU is made up of 7 Australian universities who are committed to promoting inclusive learning, research and teaching. Their focus is on enhancing local communities through education and addressing problems through research.

Young university
A young university is generally under 50 years old. These new institutions often have a reputation for innovation, with a focus on solving modern-day problems and equipping graduates with the skills they need to succeed in today’s job market.
There was no greater thrill than watching a student’s face at that moment of revelation when they finally grasped an idea.

Stanley Kaplan – Founder, Kaplan Inc.

About Kaplan

Kaplan International Pathways is a leading provider of global education, centred around you. Whoever you are, and wherever you are in the world, our goal is to help you achieve your goal.

Our story

We wouldn’t be where we are today if it weren’t for a man named Stanley Kaplan. Stanley faced challenges in getting an education in the 1930s. This led him to start a university preparation business, so he could help other students take advantage of the opportunities he couldn’t. Stanley’s success led to the creation of a whole new industry.

Our people

Sadly, Stanley died in 2009, but his passion for education lives on through our people. Kaplan’s staff come from all over the world, and many studied abroad, just like you. They know the unique challenges international students face, and are here to help you get the great education you deserve.

80+ years since Kaplan was founded
120+ nationalities represented by new Kaplan students in 2019
40+ universities for you to choose from
This brochure has been drafted in advance of the academic year to which it applies. Every effort has been made to ensure that the information is accurate at the time of publishing, but changes are likely to occur given the interval between publishing and commencement of the course. It is therefore very important to check the website or contact us for any updates before you apply. Once you have applied, any change which impacts the terms and conditions of your offer or a significant part of your programme will be communicated to you.
