Francis Griffin
Director of International Pathways at Northeastern University
One of the great activities that International Pathways organizes is the Conversation Partner Program. I think it’s extremely helpful for students. The conversation partners are usually American students, and you meet with the same person every week. You choose what you want to talk about: classes, American culture, Boston, anything you like. It’s a great way to get to know more about America and also to make new friends.

Jing from China Progressed from Pathways to MPS Digital Media
The US learning style is very different compared to my home country. Here we develop more critical, in-depth thinking, which is good for me. My classes have a lot of projects, individual and group presentations, as well as more traditional class lectures. Personally, I like classes that are more interactive. They’re much more interesting to me.

All of my professors are really good. They let us know why we need to study a particular course and how we can improve through it. They’re really easy to talk to, and if you send them an email they usually respond within 24 hours!

Xin Xian from Malaysia
Studied in the Bachelor’s Completion program

I’m here to help students develop their critical thinking skills. I don’t simply tell them the answers, but instead guide them to develop their own conclusions based on the evidence available to them. They see the primary sources and they ask themselves important questions to come to an answer. Through writing essays, giving presentations, and having conversations outside of class, they then pursue answers to these questions. It gives them a great chance to develop their own thinking on a topic or issue.

I love to see my students grow in confidence and become excited by what I am teaching. I’m so passionate about the material I teach, and students can see that.

THIS PATHWAY IS RIGHT IF YOU WANT: > to improve your fluency and confidence in spoken and academic English > extra time and support in adjusting to American university life > to earn academic credits before starting full-time degree study > to enjoy social activities organized for international students

My TOEFL score when I first arrived at Northeastern was 68, and by the time I finished my pathway program a year later, it had climbed to 108. But aside from that, the program helped me understand what was going to be expected of me at an American university, and what I had to expect from myself. I wasn’t learning just to get a good grade; I was learning for myself and for the experience, which in my opinion is the most valuable part about being in the United States.

Cellphone image: I chose the Global Pathways program because it helped me adapt better to life in the USA. When I first came here, I was very shy and didn’t know how to communicate with others because I always thought my English was very poor. I worried a lot about making mistakes, but through the program I got lots of practice. My instructors helped me a lot, and my English really improved too. I also know much more about the culture here, which is very useful for me.

Before I came to Northeastern, I had tried to study at a different US university, but found the credit transfer process to be complicated. I was told I would have to study for 4 years to get my bachelor’s degree, even though I had already finished an associate degree back home.

With Bachelor’s Completion, I can complete my degree in just 2 years. I like that the program has a set of required courses, so you don’t need to struggle to choose and register for classes.

How to apply

Want to study at Northeastern? Our global team of multilingual advisors will help you through the application process, with expert support at every stage.

1. SUBMIT AN APPLICATION

DOWNLOAD A PDF APPLICATION FORM: internationalpathways.northeastern.edu/application-form

OR

TO GET HELP FROM OUR ADVISORS, APPLY ONLINE: internationalpathways.northeastern.edu/apply

Both forms list the documents you must send with your application. Also see the checklist on page 67.

2. INITIAL APPLICATION REVIEW

When we receive your signed application form and supporting documents, we will carefully review them and advise if you need to send more information. Once complete, we will then send your application to the University for an admission decision.

3. ADMISSION

If successful, you will be offered admission to the University, either through a pathway program or directly to a degree. If you are international, visit pathways.northeastern.edu/application-form

When we receive your signed application form and supporting documents, we will carefully review them and advise if you need to send more information. Once complete, we will then send your application to the University for an admission decision.

4. ACCEPT OFFER WITHIN 30 DAYS

To secure your place at the University, you will need to accept your offer within 30 days of receiving it or before the I-20 deadline (whichever is sooner). For some programs, you may have to deposit (specified in your offer letter).

5. RECEIVE I-20

After you have accepted your offer and we have received the required financial documents from you, a visa eligibility document (Form I-20) will be issued. You need a hard copy of the I-20 to apply for a student visa.

6. APPLY FOR A VISA

Allow enough time to receive your visa after sending the US embassy or consulate your complete visa application and payment. Visa appointment and processing wait times vary greatly. Apply up to 120 days before the start date on your I-20. Your representative can help with the visa process. In the case of visa denial, your deposit will be refunded.

7. PAY PROGRAM TUITION

Once you have your visa, you must pay tuition for your program before enrollment. Instructions on how to make payment will be included in your offer letter.

8. RECEIVE PRE-ARRIVAL INFORMATION

You will be sent all the information you need, including your orientation schedule, housing information and the forms you must submit before you arrive.

9. ARRIVE IN THE USA

Enroll in the University, then join your new classmates in the orientation program to receive a full introduction to university life.

10. CLASSES BEGIN!
