Get to know
Pace University

International students benefit from Pace’s exceptional academic and professional preparation in New York, one of the most iconic cities in the world.

2 amazing campus experiences
You will get the best of both worlds at Pace. Its downtown Manhattan campus in New York’s Financial District is surrounded by the biggest concentration of Fortune 500 companies in the world. The beautiful Westchester Campus gives you a more traditional American-style college environment. Located in a prosperous area with a thriving economy, it is just 50km north of New York City.

Brand new facilities
Pace has recently transformed both campuses, with new spaces that have been designed for you to live, learn and collaborate with your classmates. You’ll also benefit from state-of-the-art laboratories, a financial trading room, and media production studios.

A tradition of support
The University offers merit-based scholarships to outstanding students. This generosity dates back to its founders. Following the stock market crash of 1929, Homer Pace, the school’s 1st president, forfeited his own salary and extended $100,000 of tuition credit (over $1 million in current value) to help students pay for their education.

Career connections
Pace University faculty bring real-world expertise, having worked for a wide range of organizations. They use their in-depth industry knowledge to turn theories into practical examples. Their connections provide you with valuable access to professional opportunities and networks. Learn how Pace prepares you for your career on pages 8–11.

Career preparation at the core of your Pace experience

Pace’s Career Services team is dedicated to preparing you for your professional future, with valuable real-world experiences, networking opportunities and career mentoring.

Be INSPIRED
Pace’s unique International Student Professional Readiness Education program (INSPIRE) allows you to complete career training online at any time, to prepare for internship and job opportunities. Topics range from internship and job search strategies to interview preparation. You’ll also be invited to special career panels, networking events and in-person workshops.

Meet employers
Pace brings over 300 employers to campus every year. Career Services builds strong relationships with large, mid-size and small companies who want to hire Pace students. In addition to regular employer visits, panel discussions and information sessions, Pace also organizes an annual career fair for international students.

Stand out from the crowd
Attend workshops that Career Services has developed just for international students. You will learn how to write a résumé that not only shows off your impressive skills, but also has the right keywords to help it get past applicant tracking systems. With expertise in your disciplinary area, your career counselor will work one-on-one with you to develop a personal brand across your résumé, professional introduction and LinkedIn profile.

We aim to provide excellent customer service to all students at Pace, and will help you prepare for your career and connect you to employers. International students face unique challenges in the US job market, especially in a competitive city like New York, so we have developed several resources to address your specific needs. There are a lot of exciting opportunities for your future, and we’re here to provide you with the best tools for success.

Phyllis Mooney
Executive Director of Career Services

“I thought I should list as many things as possible on my résumé, but that’s not the best method. Recruiters don’t have time to read several pages for each applicant. My career advisor at Pace helped me write a much more effective résumé.”

Design your career path

Pace offers so many opportunities to build the skills and experience you need to stand out in a competitive job market.

Rehearse for success
While developing your critical thinking skills, your classes will also prepare you for the day-to-day realities of the working world. Most Pace faculty have been professionals as well as academics, and offer industry expertise along with career connections.

Learn to lead
Gain valuable leadership experience by participating in some of the University’s 100+ student clubs and organizations. The Student Development and Campus Activities office will teach you how to set goals, plan events and organize finances.

Get real-world experience
Participate in one of the highest-ranking and largest internship placement programs in the New York metropolitan area. Last year 1,000+ companies hired Pace students for internships and other practical work experiences.

Join a dynamic network
Before you graduate, you can benefit from the University’s network of over 150,000 alumni around the world. In addition to regular meetups and professional networking events, you can also join Pace’s Alumni-Student Mentoring Program.

Pace Path
If you study a bachelor’s degree, you and your advisor will design a customized 4-year plan. Called the “Pace Path”, it will outline the academic, extracurricular and career experiences that will help you to achieve your personal and professional goals.

For my Business and Professional Speech class, I had to pretend that I was elected President of a major association. I researched the organization and its mission, wrote a speech, and even dressed in professional clothing for my talk. It was a really helpful project because it made me more aware of how I want to present myself in the professional world.

Romina from Peru
Following her path to BA Communications

During my degree, I developed a competition to examine companies that have created diverse workforces and how this affected their business. We enlisted several professors to help out and invited executives from major corporations to act as judges. We had to limit the number of students who could participate because there was so much enthusiasm. It is very difficult to create and organize something from scratch. However, it was an amazing opportunity and I am so happy and proud of what I developed.

William from Vietnam
Following his path to BA Economics

I interned at MasterCard’s worldwide operations and technology headquarters in St. Louis. It was amazing because I got to integrate all the different skills and concepts I’d learned in my classes at Pace within a professional environment. You get a lot of experience working with people from many different backgrounds at Pace. The working world is full of surprises so it really helps to be prepared for unexpected challenges.

Vaibhav from India
Following his path to MS Information Systems, now a Senior Specialist in Fraud Intelligence and Strategy at MasterCard in New York

I followed my path to MS Investment Management, now a Finance and Operations Manager at Alurate New York.

Stian from Norway

Pace’s network provides so many opportunities to meet other students and alumni working for major companies here in New York. In any week, there might be 20 or more different events you can attend on campus. It’s so helpful for making the transition from being a student to becoming a future professional.

Luwen from China
Following her path to MS Accounting, now a Senior IT Auditor at Pfizer in New York

Pace offers so many opportunities to build the skills and experience you need to stand out in a competitive job market.
International Pathways at Pace University

Through Pathways, we help you gain entry to Pace University. Our pathway programs, taught at the New York City Campus, will give you the skills you need to qualify for a bachelor’s or master’s degree at Pace.

New York experience
Your classes will be taught in the heart of the city’s financial center. Pace is located just minutes from Wall Street, the World Trade Center, Brooklyn Bridge, and lots of restaurants and shops. You’ll also find it easy to explore other neighborhoods using the city’s extensive and affordable public transport network.

Engaging campus life
You’ll be a part of the Pace community as soon as you arrive on campus, with access to everything the University offers. You can use the libraries to study, the computer facilities to do research, and join sports clubs and many types of student organizations to socialize with your classmates.

Quality teaching
We understand that with extra support, you can achieve your very best. Our instructors are experts in international student education and bring great knowledge to their teaching. Small class sizes, 1-on-1 mentoring and private tutoring will help you to build your confidence and ensure that your academic grades stay on track.

Dedicated support
Your academic program starts with an extended orientation to help you find your way around campus. You will feel fully settled in by the time your classes begin. Together with Pace’s International Students and Scholars office, we can offer expert advice on course options, visas, employment regulations and life in New York.

Guaranteed progression to Pace University when you pass your pathway program
You can also earn transferable degree credits during your pathway program, at both bachelor’s and master’s levels.

94% of pathway program students were admitted to a Pace University degree in 2017/18

Catrillia Young
Director of International Pathways at Pace University

We’ll make sure you get the support and guidance you need to succeed, and you’ll develop both skills and confidence in a supportive global community. Pace University and New York City provide great work and internship opportunities to build your career. We look forward to welcoming you to campus!
Support at every step

Start your studies ready to embrace new experiences, knowing that you’ll receive dedicated support from our staff every step of the way.

Simple application process
You don’t need to pay an application fee or get outside assessments of your transcripts when you apply to study at Pace University through International Pathways. Additionally, if you don’t have an official English test score, contact us to arrange to take the free KITE exam. This specialized English test is accepted for all of Pace’s pathway programs and degrees.

Expert admission guidance
The US university admissions process can be complex, so we’re here to answer any questions you may have, and to make sure your application best reflects your unique skills and strengths. We also provide free advice on how to apply for your US student visa, and will remind you of important deadlines and actions.

Scholarships
Outstanding performance in your previous studies could qualify you for a partial scholarship on Global Pathways tuition. If you’re applying for direct admission to a degree, your application will be evaluated for a Pace University merit-based scholarship (undergraduate applicants for Year 1 must submit an SAT or ACT score to be considered, transfer applicants are evaluated without an SAT or ACT score).

Raise your English proficiency
You can join the Intensive English Program at Pace University’s English Language Institute in New York City, before a pathway or degree. The program will help you improve your English skills to meet the entry requirements for a Pace academic pathway, or refresh your language skills for a Pace degree.

"The list of services that Pathways provides is endless. A bit like a premium customer in a bank is given extra care, each Pathways student is given special attention. This includes answering admissions questions, processing your application, giving pre-arrival information, and orientation week. It is a one-stop solution for students who are looking for a helpful person. As an international student, I know what it is like to arrive in a new place with lots of questions. The Pathways staff make the process simple for students.""
Assistance after you arrive

From the moment you land in the USA, we are here to help.

Airport pickup
We offer a meet-and-greet service at the airport on popular arrival dates for a fee. You can relax with a safe and simple transfer directly to your accommodation by private vehicle.

Helping you get settled
In your first week, you will join an orientation program. Enjoy tours around the campus, student facilities and the city. We will show you how to open a bank account and offer tips on US culture. You will also learn more about your program of study and meet your teachers. Orientation is a great time to make friends with other international students.

Comprehensive services
As an international student, you’ll have access to support services to help you make the most of your time at Pace University, including:
• Visa information and travel advice
• Advice on renting an apartment in New York
• Academic counseling
• Information about American culture
• Career and employment guidance
• Tutoring services
• Updates on local attractions and events

Optional Practical Training (OPT)
Pace will help you navigate one of the major benefits of studying in the USA: the opportunity to get paid work experience while on your student visa. OPT allows you to work in the USA for 12 months after you graduate. Students in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) majors can extend their OPT to 36 months. To find STEM majors, look for the symbol on degree lists.

Meet a Pathways teacher

Our teachers have a wealth of knowledge and expertise, and work hard to provide our students with the best possible preparation for an American university-level classroom.

Annette Miller, who teaches Academic Writing in Pace’s Undergraduate Global Pathways program, discusses some of her methods for making classes more engaging.

“I believe student participation is important, as it makes the class more engaging and brings a new knowledge into the classroom through students’ ideas. It also develops their confidence in sharing their own opinions.

For example, I might have students watch 2 short videos, discuss similarities and differences, and then together we will outline an essay that compares and contrasts both the videos. Or I’ll show a piece of writing and have the whole class make suggestions for how to improve it.

I challenge my students because their assignments will become more demanding as they progress in their studies. They are going to meet professors with high expectations in their upper level classes. I also hope my class introduces them to aspects of American culture that will help them make friends with American students and feel comfortable participating in mainstream classrooms.

I love working with international students because I want to see them succeed. Higher education in another language can be challenging for them, so offering them support is very satisfying. I also love learning from them — international students bring diverse ideas and experiences to the classroom that I would not be able to learn elsewhere.”

For many Pace degrees, you can choose to study in either New York City or Westchester. Both campuses offer incredible experiences for international students.

Selecting one campus doesn’t mean you can’t experience the other. Many courses are offered in both New York City and Westchester, so you can take classes at either of the locations. You can also elect to change campuses during your degree or after your pathway program.
New York City has it all: fascinating history, iconic culture, food from around the world, and some of the USA’s most famous landmarks.

The world in one city
People in New York speak more than 800 languages, and bring food, art, music and cultural festivals from so many countries. Ranked the 2nd best student city in the USA (QS Best Student Cities 2018), New York attracts first-rate students and scholars.

Capital of culture
If you love arts and culture, you’ve come to the right place. New York is home to hundreds of museums and art galleries, a world-famous fashion week, an international film festival and more theaters than any other city in the world.

Non-stop city
New York’s safe, extensive and low-cost public transport system is open all day and night, and its 13,000 famous yellow taxis are widely available. Yet when you need a break from the daily rush, the city provides over 30,000 acres of public parkland.

Endless sightseeing
New York’s skyline is a favorite backdrop for TV and film, and is home to iconic landmarks including the Empire State Building, the Brooklyn Bridge and the Statue of Liberty.

New York City Campus

Why choose this campus?
• Study in the heart of Lower Manhattan, just steps from Wall Street
• Build professional skills with unique internship and learning opportunities
• Combine campus and city life for world-class student experiences
• Enjoy newly renovated study spaces

A place for every taste
New York bursts with life, and each neighborhood has its own unique energy. With the city’s excellent public transport system, you can easily visit bustling tourist attractions or quieter residential streets. Head to One World Trade Center, just minutes from Pace, for spectacular views of the entire city.

Get involved
The atmosphere in Pace’s New York City Campus is welcoming and enthusiastic. It’s easy to make friends and enjoy exploring the many attractions of the “Big Apple” together. There is always something interesting for you to do on campus too. You can join any of the University’s student organizations, watch world-class productions in the Schimmel Center theater, and view exhibitions at the brand-new art gallery.

Excellent facilities
Pace University is investing in its future, and recently completed a $200 million state-of-the-art renovation of the New York City Campus. Business students can access Bloomberg technology computers and view a built-in stock ticker that’s only minutes behind Wall Street. If you are interested in artificial intelligence, go to Pace’s Robotics Lab, where students and faculty collaborate.

Everyone on the Westchester Campus seems to love Pace. It’s a smaller campus, so you’re going to bump into the same people 10 times a day. I think that’s amazing, because it can be so daunting coming to a university not knowing anyone. The faculty here really get to know their students, and I’ve found that I get the most out of the classes when I’ve bonded with the professor.

Annie from the United Kingdom Following her path to BA Business Economics at Pace Westchester

Westchester Campus

Why choose this campus?
• Experience a traditional American campus in calm and beautiful surroundings
• Study near a rich business and technology scene with access to diverse internships
• Enjoy campus sports and a close-knit student community
• Live less than 1 hour’s train ride from the center of New York City

Golden Apple
Pace’s campus in Westchester County offers a traditional American-style college community in a beautiful setting. Nearby Pleasantville is home to lush, green scenery, a lively arts and theater scene, and many historic sites. Westchester County has the nickname of New York’s “Golden Apple” because of the high number of Fortune 500 companies that operate here, including Mastercard, IBM and more. It also has fast-growing tech and biotech industries.

Get active
A well-rounded education exercises your body and your mind. The Goldstein Fitness Center houses a 2,400-seat arena, a running track, cardio equipment and a 50-meter swimming pool. Recent renovations to the campus include impressive new fields for American football, soccer, lacrosse and baseball. Here you can cheer on Pace’s teams when they compete, or join one of the many on-campus University sports leagues yourself.

Engaging student life
Join in the active student life at Westchester, where you’ll find over 60 student societies including student government, performing arts groups and a range of fun fraternities and sororities. Brand new residence halls and a new, modern student center give you plenty of opportunities to learn outside of class and make new friends.

What can I study at Pace?

You can choose from a number of majors in your undergraduate or graduate studies, with multiple paths to a degree at Pace University.

- See all available degrees on page 38
- Learn about pathways to a bachelor’s degree on page 40
- Learn about pathways to a master’s degree on page 44
- Learn about direct admission to a degree on page 48
Find your path to Pace

We will guide you to your best option, whether you’re ready to start at Pace University immediately, or you need a pathway program.

What is a pathway program?
A pathway program lets you start your studies at Pace’s campus, while you improve your English to meet the requirement for full-time degree studies. Undergraduate students can also use the pathway program to meet the academic grade requirement. You will take a combination of university-level English language classes and credit-bearing academic courses. By successfully completing your pathway program, you are guaranteed a place in a full-time degree at the University, with no extra required tests or other qualifiers.

Do I need GMAT preparation?
If you are applying to a business master’s degree, you can choose this option if you don’t have the required English level, and also need to get a qualifying GMAT test score.

Do I need the Intensive English Program?
If you don’t have the required English level for Global Pathways, you can be conditionally accepted and first join the Intensive English Program. You can also choose to take a short refresher course before entering a Pace degree directly.

Can I enter a degree directly?
Yes, if you meet all the academic and English requirements, you don’t need to study a pathway program. We can help you apply for direct admission to selected bachelor’s or master’s degrees.

Can I transfer to Pace?
Yes, if you have already completed at least 1 year of undergraduate study. Existing credits will be evaluated for transfer into a Pace bachelor’s degree. The Global Pathways program also accepts transfer students.

Quick guide to US higher education

> Bachelor’s degrees include courses in your chosen “major” and a broad range of other subjects. It is common for students to change major in the 1st or 2nd year.
> Transfer admission is common in the USA: many undergraduate students change university after 2 years to complete their degree at another institution.
> Master’s degrees are advanced-level study, and are more focused than bachelor’s degrees. Masters are also known as “graduate” degrees.
> Optional Practical Training (OPT) allows international students with an F-1 visa to stay in the USA and do paid work related to their degree after graduation.
Choose your degree

When you enroll in a degree at Pace, you’ll join one of the University’s prestigious colleges or schools focused on the discipline you are studying. Most degrees can be accessed through a pathway program or directly, but some degrees are only available for direct admission (as shown).

What is Undergraduate Global Pathways?

The Undergraduate Global Pathways program will help you improve your English language and academic grades and study skills, so you can progress to a bachelor’s degree. You also earn credits that will transfer to your Pace degree, and will help you to graduate on time.

What will I study?
The program combines university-level English preparation with specialized academic coursework. Some courses are credit-bearing and count toward your degree graduation requirements. Successful completion of the program guarantees your progression to a Pace University bachelor’s degree.

This program might be right for you if you want:
- to improve your fluency and confidence in spoken and academic English
- to enroll in a degree at Pace but don’t have eligible high school grades
- extra time and support in adjusting to American university life
- guaranteed progression to a bachelor’s degree (with a TOEFL waiver) on successful completion
- to earn academic credits before starting full-time degree study — students completing the 3-semester program with maximum transfer credits will progress into bachelor’s Year 2
- to enjoy social activities organized for international students

"Learning English has opened up the world to me, so I think it’s important to expand my knowledge of the language. The Global Pathways program at Pace helped me so much. I also visited Pace’s academic support centers, where they identified my challenges and gave suggestions on how to overcome them. I don’t feel like I’m treated differently here because I’m an international student. In fact I’m treated really well, which makes me love Pace even more."

In Fall 2017 78% of undergraduate international students received some form of merit-based scholarship money from Pace.

It took me a while to find a master’s program that I really wanted to study, and when I finally did, I had only a short amount of time to apply before the deadline. The Pathways team helped me so much and was on top of everything. They helped me with my application, getting all my documents together, and securing my I-20 form so I could apply for my study visa in time to begin my degree.

How to apply
Want to study at Pace University? Our global team of multilingual advisors will help you through the application process, with expert support at every stage.

Fill in an application form
Download a PDF application form: kaplanpathways.com/pace-application-form or Apply online: kaplanpathways.com/apply-pace

Initial review of your application
When we receive your signed application form and supporting documents, we carefully review them and advise if you need to send more information.

Application checklist
A complete application to Pace includes:

- Application form completed and signed
- Proof of English language proficiency
- Official transcripts for all high school and post-high school institutions attended, with supporting grade scale, translated into English if necessary
- GMAT or GRE score (if required: master’s applicants only)
- SAT or ACT score (optional: bachelor’s applicants only)
- Minimum 500-word personal statement answering:
  - Undergraduate applicants: Why you want to study at Pace; why you chose your major; your future plans; what makes you stand out, etc.
  - Graduate applicants: Why you are applying to your chosen degree; your expectations, outcomes, and goals; your professional/academic experiences and accomplishments related to the degree.

Reference letter(s) from professor/instructor or employer:

- Global Pathways program applicants: 1 letter for undergraduates; 1 letter for graduates (except 2 letters for master’s in Dyson School of Arts and Sciences)
- Degree admission applicants: a letter (except 1 letter for master’s in Seidenberg School of CSIS)

CV/Resume listing work/school history, languages, awards, certificates, volunteer work, and accomplishments (required for master’s, optional for bachelor’s applicants)

Passport copy (including visa if you are already working or studying in the USA)

Recent bank statement or scholarship letter showing no less than the minimum funds required in Pace’s Financial Affidavit form (search “affidavit” at kaplanpathways.com/download)

Submission to Pace
Once complete, we submit your application to the University for an admission decision. See next page for more information on what to do next.
Admission: next steps

Received an offer from Pace? Congratulations! Learn more about what you’ll need to do before you start classes. We’ll guide you through every step.

1. Admission to Pace
   If your application is successful, you are offered admission to Pace University, either through a preparation program or directly to a degree. If you are admitted to the Global Pathways or Intensive English program and submit a higher English test score before classes begin, your offer may be changed to direct admission or shorter duration preparation.

2. Accept offer within 30 days
   To secure your place at Pace University, pay a deposit (specified in your offer letter) within 30 days of receiving your offer or before any I-20 deadline.

3. Receive I-20
   After we receive the required financial documents from you, a visa eligibility document (Form I-20) is issued. You need a hard copy of the I-20 to apply for a student visa.

4. Apply for a visa
   Allow enough time to receive your visa from the US embassy or consulate. Visa appointment and processing wait times vary greatly. Apply up to 120 days before the start date on your I-20. Your representative can help with the visa process. In the case of visa denial, your deposit will be refunded.

5. Pay program tuition
   Once you have your visa, you must pay tuition before enrollment. Payment can be made by bank draft, bank transfer or credit card. If you are enrolling in the Global Pathways program, you can also use Flywire, our convenient online payment system.

6. Get pre-arrival information
   You are sent all the information you need, including your orientation schedule, housing information and the forms you must submit before you arrive. It is important that you read and understand it all.

7. Arrive in the USA
   Enroll in Pace University, then join your new classmates in the orientation program for a full introduction to university life.

8. Begin classes!

We hope to see you at Pace very soon!
