PREAMBLE

We, the people of Kenya –

ACKNOWLEDGING the supremacy of the Almighty God of all creation:

HONOURING those who heroically struggled to bring freedom and justice to our land:

PROUD of our ethnic, cultural and religious diversity and determined to live in peace and unity as one indivisible sovereign nation:

RESPECTFUL of the natural environment that is our heritage, and determined to sustain it for the benefit of future generations:

COMMITTED to nurturing and protecting the well-being of the individual, the family and the community:

RECOGNISING the aspirations of all Kenyans for a government based on the essential values of freedom, democracy, social justice and the rule of law:

EXERCISING our sovereign and inalienable right to determine the form of governance of our country and having participated fully in the making of this Constitution:

ADOPT, enact and give this Constitution to ourselves and to our future generations.

GOD BLESS KENYA

CHAPTER ONE

SOVEREIGNTY OF THE PEOPLE AND SUPREMACY OF THE CONSTITUTION Sovereignty of the people

1. (1) All sovereign authority belongs to the people of Kenya and may be exercised only in accordance with this Constitution.
- (2) The people may exercise their sovereign power either directly or through their democratically elected representatives.
- (3) Authority is delegated to the following State organs, which perform their functions in accordance with this Constitution –
 - (a) Parliament and the legislative structures in the devolved governments;
 - (b) the national executive and the executive structures in the devolved governments;
 - (c) the Judiciary and other independent tribunals; and
 - (d) the constitutional Commissions and State offices.

Supremacy of the Constitution

2. (1) This Constitution is the supreme law of the Republic and binds all State organs at all levels of government and all persons throughout Kenya.
- (2) The validity or legality of this Constitution is not subject to challenge by or before any court or State organ.
- (3) A law that is inconsistent with this Constitution is void to the extent of the inconsistency and any action or omission in contravention of this Constitution is invalid.
- (4) A person, or a group of persons, may bring an action in the High Court for a declaration that any law is inconsistent with, or is in contravention of, this Constitution.
- (5) If the High Court makes a declaration under clause (3), it may also make any order necessary to give effect to the declaration.

Defence of the Constitution

3. (1) Every person has an obligation to respect and defend this Constitution. (2) Any attempt to establish a system of government otherwise than in compliance with this Constitution is unlawful.

The Laws of Kenya

CHAPTER SIX THE BILL

OF RIGHTS

Part I – General provisions relating to the Bill of Rights

Fundamental rights and freedoms

- 28. (1) This Bill of Rights is an integral part of Kenya's democratic State and is the framework for social, economic and cultural policies.
- (2) The purpose of the recognition and protection of human rights is to preserve the dignity of individuals and communities and to social justice and the realization of the potential of all human
- (3) The rights and freedoms set out in this Chapter –
- (a) belong to each individual and are not granted by the State;
 - (b) do not exclude other rights not mentioned in this Chapter, recognised or conferred by law, except to the extent that they are inconsistent with this Chapter; and
 - (c) are subject only to the limitations contemplated in this

Applic

ation of the Bill of Rights

- 29. (1) The Bill of Rights applies to all laws and binds all State organs persons.
- (2) Every person shall enjoy the rights and freedoms in the Bill of Rights, to the greatest extent consistent with the nature of the
- (3) When applying a provision of the Bill of Rights as required by clause
- (a) shall develop the law to the extent that legislation does not effect to that right or freedom;
 - (b) shall adopt the interpretation that most favours the enforcement of a right or freedom; and
 - (c) may develop rules of law to limit that right or freedom in a manner consistent with Article 33.
- (4) When interpreting the Bill of Rights, a court, tribunal or forum –
- (a) shall promote the values that underlie an open and democratic society based on human dignity, equality, equity and freedom; and
 - (b) shall promote the spirit, purport and objects of the Bill of
- (5) When interpreting and applying a particular right or freedom, if State claims that it does not have the resources to implement the right or freedom, a State organ, court, tribunal or forum shall be
- (a) it is the responsibility of the State to show that the resources are not available;

- (b) in allocating resources, the State has an obligation to give priority to ensuring the widest possible enjoyment of the right having regard to prevailing circumstances, including the vulnerability of the groups or individuals claiming the violation of their right; and
- (c) a court, tribunal or the Commission on Human Rights and Administrative Justice may not interfere with a decision by a State organ concerning the allocation of available resources, solely on the basis that the court, tribunal or forum or the Commission would have reached a different conclusion.

Implementation of rights and freedoms

- 30.
- (1) It is a fundamental duty of every State organ to observe, respect, protect, promote and fulfil the rights and freedoms in this Chapter, as appropriate, in the exercise of all their powers and functions.
 - (2) The State shall take legislative, policy and other measures to achieve the progressive realisation of the rights guaranteed under Articles 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65 and 66.
 - (3) Parliament and the Commission on Human Rights and Administrative Justice shall establish standards for the achievement of the rights mentioned in clause (2).
 - (4) The State shall recognise and facilitate the role of civil society in the promotion and protection of the rights and freedoms in the Bill of Rights.
 - (5) All public officers and State organs, and their employees have the responsibility to equip themselves to understand and deal with the needs of special groups within society including women, older members of society, persons with disabilities, children, youth and members of minority and marginalized communities and of particular ethnic, religious and cultural communities.
 - (6) The State shall fulfil all its international obligations in respect of human rights and for that purpose the State shall –
 - (a) report on time to international human rights bodies on the implementation of human rights treaties and other instruments;
 - (b) publish reports intended for submission by the State to international bodies for a reasonable period and facilitate public discussion and debate on them before the reports are revised and submitted; and
 - (c) facilitate submissions by civil society organizations to international human rights bodies.
 - (7) The comments and recommendations of international bodies relating to the international obligations of the State shall be disseminated to the public, and the Government shall make a statement to Parliament on whether and how it intends to implement those recommendations.
 - (8) The State shall establish the necessary machinery to give full effect to the provisions of the Bill of Rights.

Enforcement of the Bill of Rights

- 31. (1) A person referred to in clause (2) has the right to complain to the Commission on Human Rights and Administrative Justice, and to institute court proceedings, alleging that a right in the Bill of Rights has been denied, violated, infringed or threatened.
- (2) The persons who may complain to the Commission or institute court proceedings in accordance with clause (1) are –
- (a) a person acting in that person's own interest;
 - (b) a person acting on behalf of another person who cannot act in their own name;
 - (c) a person acting as a member of, or in the interest of, a group or class or persons;
 - (d) a person acting in the public interest; and
 - (e) an association acting in the interest of one or more of its members.
- (3) The Chief Justice shall make rules providing for court proceedings mentioned in clause (1), which shall satisfy the following criteria –
- (a) that the rights of standing provided for in this Article are fully facilitated;
 - (b) that formalities for starting proceedings are kept to the minimum, in particular that the court shall, if necessary, be prepared to entertain proceedings on the basis of informal documentation;
 - (c) that the court, while observing the rules of natural justice, shall not be unreasonably restricted by technical requirements;
 - (d) that no fee may be charged for commencing proceedings under this Article; and
 - (e) that an organisation or individual with particular expertise may, with the leave of the court, appear as a friend of the court.

Authority of the court to uphold and enforce the Bill of Rights.

- 32. (1) The High Court has jurisdiction to hear applications for redress for a violation of a right contained in the Bill of Rights.
- (2) Parliament shall enact legislation to give original jurisdiction in appropriate cases to subordinate courts to hear applications for redress for a contravention of the Bill of Rights.
- (3) In any matter brought before it under Article 31, a court may grant appropriate relief, including –
- (a) a declaration of rights;
 - (b) a declaration of invalidity of any law that infringes the Bill of Rights and is not justified in terms of Article 33;
 - (c) an order of compensation against the State or any person responsible for the violation of the rights; and
 - (d) orders of judicial review.

- (4) In proceedings against a public authority for a violation of human rights, a court may not award costs against the plaintiff, or applicant, unless the court determines that the case was frivolous, vexatious or devoid of merit.

Limitation of rights

- 33. (1) A right or freedom set out in the Bill of Rights may be limited only –
- (a) by a limitation or qualification expressly set out in the provision containing that right or freedom and may be otherwise limited only by a law of general application; and
 - (b) to the extent that the limitation is reasonable and justifiable in an open and democratic society based on human dignity, equality and freedom, taking into account all relevant factors, including –
 - (i) the nature of the right;
 - (ii) the importance of the purpose of the limitation; (iii) the nature and extent of the limitation;
 - (iv) the need to ensure that the enjoyment of rights and freedoms by any individual does not prejudice the rights and freedoms of others; and
 - (v) the relation between the limitation and its purpose and whether there are less restrictive means to achieve the purpose.
- (2) Despite clause (1)(b), a provision in legislation is not valid in the case of legislation enacted or amended after the effective date, unless that legislation specifically expresses the intention to limit that right or freedom and the nature and extent of the limitation.
- (3) Despite clause (1), a provision in legislation –
- (a) shall not be construed as limiting a right or freedom set out in the Bill of Rights unless the provision is clear and specific about the right or freedom to be limited and the nature and extent of the limitation; and
 - (b) shall not limit a right or freedom set out in the Bill of Rights so as to derogate from the core or the essential content of the right.
- (4) The State or a person seeking to justify a particular limitation, shall demonstrate to the court, tribunal or forum that the requirements of this Article have been satisfied.
- (5) The provisions of this Chapter on equality shall be qualified to the extent strictly necessary for the application of Islamic law to persons who profess the Muslim faith in relation to personal status, marriage, divorce and inheritance.

Part II – Fundamental rights and freedoms

- (2) The principles in this Article apply to goods and services offered by State organs, public and private persons and other entities.
- (3) Parliament shall enact legislation to provide for consumer protection and for fair, honest and decent advertising.

Fair administration

- 70. (1) Every person has the right to administrative action that is expeditious, efficient, lawful, reasonable and procedurally fair.
- (2) Every person whose rights have been adversely affected by administrative action has the right to be given written reasons for the action.
- (3) Parliament shall enact legislation to give effect to the rights in clause (1) and such legislation shall provide for the review of administrative action by a court or, where appropriate, an independent and impartial tribunal.

Right not to obey unlawful instructions

- 71. (1) Every person has a right not to obey unlawful instructions.
- (2) A person shall not be liable to punishment under any law for disobeying unlawful instructions.

Access to courts

- 72. (1) Every person has the right to have any dispute that can be resolved by the application of law decided in a fair public hearing before a court or, where appropriate, another independent tribunal or forum.
- (2) Any fee required to be paid by a person under clause (1) shall be reasonable and not serve to impede access to justice.

Rights of arrested persons

- 73. (1) Every person who is arrested has the right –
 - (a) to be informed promptly in language that person understands of the reason of the arrest;
 - (b) to remain silent;
 - (c) to be informed promptly in language that person understands –

- (i) of the right to remain silent; and
 - (ii) of the consequences of not remaining silent;
 - (d) to communicate with that person's lawyers and other persons whose assistance is necessary;
 - (e) not to be compelled to make any confession or admission that could be used in evidence against that person and where that person freely chooses to make a confession, it shall be made before a court or magistrate;
 - (f) to be held separately from persons who are serving a sentence; (g) to be brought before a court as soon as reasonably possible, but not later than forty eight hours after being arrested or not later than the end of the first court day after the expiry of the forty eight hours, if the forty eight hours expire outside ordinary court hours or on a day that is not an ordinary court day;
 - (h) at the first court appearance after being arrested, to be charged or to be informed of the reason for the detention to continue, or to be released; and
 - (i) to be released on bond or bail pending a charge or trial on reasonable conditions unless there are compelling reasons to the contrary.
- (2) A person shall not be remanded in custody for an offence if that offence is punishable by a fine only or imprisonment for not more than six months.

Fair trial

- 74. (1) Every accused person has the right to a fair trial, which includes the right –
- (a) to be presumed innocent until the contrary is proved;
 - (b) to be informed of the charge with sufficient detail to answer it; (c) to have adequate time and facilities to prepare a defence;
 - (d) to a public trial before a court established under this Constitution;
 - (e) to have the trial begin and conclude without unreasonable delay;
 - (f) to be present when being tried;
 - (g) to choose, and be represented by, an advocate and to be informed of this right promptly;
 - (h) to have an advocate assigned to the accused person by the State and at State expense, if substantial injustice would otherwise result, and to be informed of this right promptly;
 - (i) to remain silent, and not to testify during the proceedings; (j) to adduce and challenge evidence;
 - (k) not to be compelled to give self-incriminating evidence;

- (l) to have the assistance of an interpreter without payment if the accused person cannot understand the language used at the trial;

 - (e) to exercise and education, and to work in return for reasonable remuneration;
 - (f) to observe that person's religion, and not to be subjected to treatment that violates that person's religious practices and convictions;
 - (g) to communicate with that person's lawyers, religious advisers, spouses, close family, and other persons whose assistance is necessary and to visits of reasonable frequency and duration;
 - (h) to privacy, including the separation of women and men, to the extent compatible with the preservation of law, order and discipline;
 - (i) to be informed by authorized persons of the rules and decisions that affect that person;
 - (j) to a fair hearing in any disciplinary proceedings;
 - (k) to fair consideration for parole or remission of sentence and for other rehabilitative measures;
 - (l) to complain to the Kenya Correctional Service, the Commission on Human Rights and Administrative Justice or any similar institution, and to communicate with the press;
 - (m) to vote; and
 - (n) in the case of persons with disabilities, to facilities modified as necessary to fit the circumstances of such disabilities.
- (3) The State shall ensure that the Kenya Correctional Service, so far as it relates to convicted prisoners, observes the minimum standards laid down under relevant international law and international standards.

State of emergency

- 76. (1) A state of emergency may be declared only in accordance with Article 153(4) –
- (a) the State is threatened by war, invasion, general insurrection, disorder, natural disaster or other public emergency; and
 - (b) the declaration is necessary to meet the circumstances for which the emergency is declared.
- (2) A declaration of a state of emergency, and any legislation enacted or other action taken in consequence of that declaration, is effective only –
- (a) prospectively; and

- (b) for no more than fourteen days from the date of the declaration, unless the National Assembly resolves to extend the declaration.
- (3) The National Assembly may extend a declaration of a state of emergency –
 - (a) by resolution adopted –
 - (i) following a public debate in the National Assembly; and
 - (ii) by the majorities set out in clause (4); and
 - (b) for no more than two months at a time.
- (4) The first extension of a state of emergency shall be adopted with a supporting vote of sixty-five per cent of the members of the National Assembly, and any subsequent extension shall be adopted with a supporting vote of at least seventy-five per cent of the members of the National Assembly.
- (5) The High Court may decide on the validity of – (a)
 - a declaration of a state of emergency;
 - (b) any extension of a declaration of a state of emergency; or
 - (c) any legislation enacted, or other action taken, in consequence of a declaration of a state of emergency.
- (6) Any legislation enacted in consequence of a declaration of a state of emergency may derogate from the Bill of Rights only to the extent that –
 - (a) the derogation is strictly required by the emergency; and
 - (b) the legislation –
 - (i) is consistent with the Republic’s obligations under international law applicable to a state of emergency;
 - (ii) conforms to clause (7); and
 - (iii) is published in the Gazette as soon as reasonably practicable after being enacted, and does not take effect until it is so published.

- (7) An Act of Parliament that authorizes a declaration of a state of emergency, or legislation enacted or other action taken in consequence of any declaration, may not permit or authorize the indemnification of the State, or of any person, in respect of any unlawful act.

CHAPTER SEVEN

LAND AND PROPERTY

Principles of land policy

- 77. (1) Land is Kenya's primary resource and the basis of livelihood for the people, and shall be held, used and managed in a manner which is equitable, efficient, productive and sustainable.
- (2) The State shall define and keep under review a national land policy ensuring the following principles –
- (a) equitable access to land and associated resources;
 - (b) security of land rights for all land holders, users and occupiers in good faith;
 - (c) sustainable and productive management of land resources; (d) transparent and cost effective administration of land;
 - (e) sound conservation and protection of ecologically sensitive areas;
 - (f) elimination of gender discrimination in laws, regulations, customs and practices related to land and property in land; and
 - (g) encouragement of communities to settle land disputes through recognized local community initiatives consistent with this Constitution.

Vesting and classification of land

- 78. (1) All land in Kenya belongs to the people of Kenya collectively as a nation, as communities and as individuals.
- (2) All land in Kenya is designated as public, community or private.

Public land

- 79. (1) Public land is –
- (a) land which at the effective date was unalienated government land as defined by an Act of Parliament;
 - (b) land lawfully held, used or occupied by any government Ministry, department or agency of local authority, except where such land is occupied under a private lease;
 - (c) all minerals as defined by any law;
 - (d) land transferred to the Republic by way of reversion or surrender;
 - (e) land in respect of which no individual or community ownership can by any legal process be established;
 - (f) land in respect of which no heir can by ordinary legal process be identified;

- (g) government forests other than forests to which Article 80(2)(e) applies, game reserves, and water catchment areas, national parks, animal sanctuaries, specially protected areas;
 - (h) all roads and thoroughfares specified by an Act of Parliament; (i) all rivers, lakes and other areas of water as defined by an Act of Parliament;

Property rights of spouses

- 82. A surviving spouse shall not be deprived of a reasonable provision out of the estate of a deceased spouse whether or not the spouse died having made a will.

Landholding by non-citizens

- 83.
- (1) A person who is not a citizen may hold or use land on the basis of leasehold tenure only, and such a lease however granted, shall not exceed ninety-nine years.
 - (2) An agreement, deed or conveyance or whatever nature which confers on a person who is not a citizen an interest in land greater than a ninety-nine year lease, is void.
 - (3) On the effective date, any interest in land greater than a ninety-nine year lease held by a person who is not a citizen shall revert to the State and the State shall grant to a person who held such a greater interest, a ninety-nine year lease.
 - (4) Parliament shall enact legislation to bring into effect the provisions of clause (3).

Regulation of land use

- 84.
- (1) The State has the power to regulate the use of any land, interest or right in land in the interest of defence, public safety, public order, public morality, public health, land use planning or the development or utilization of property.
 - (2) The State shall encourage and provide a conducive, social, economic, political and legal atmosphere for the creation, development and management of property.
 - (3) The State shall ensure –
 - (a) the establishment of a housing development fund to enable the people of Kenya to gain access to more and better housing; and
 - (b) the development and review of a national housing policy with a view to increasing, regulating and maintaining the national housing stock.
 - (4) Parliament shall enact legislation –
 - (a) requiring the State and relevant organizations including devolved governments to encourage the use of acceptable, affordable and reasonable intermediate technologies, building materials, innovations and methods in the property sector provided their use is not harmful and injurious to persons and the environment; and

- (b) ensuring that major investments in property benefit local communities and their economy.

National Land Commission

85. (1) There is established the National Land Commission. (2) The functions of the National Land Commission are –

- (a) to manage public land on behalf of the national and devolved governments;
- (b) to formulate and recommend to the Government a national land policy;

- 125. (1) An election of members of either House of Parliament shall be held on the Tuesday immediately preceding the twenty-eight days before the expiration of the term of that House.
- (2) Whenever a vacancy occurs in the office of a member of the National Assembly or of a member of the Senate referred to in Article 122(1)(c) –
 - (a) the relevant Speaker shall, within twenty-one days of the occurrence of the vacancy, give notice in writing of the vacancy to the Electoral and Boundaries Commission; and

- (b) subject to clause (4), a by-election shall be held within ninety days of the occurrence of the vacancy.
- (3) Whenever a vacancy occurs in the office of a member of the Senate referred to in Article 122(1)(a) or (b) –
 - (a) the Speaker shall, within twenty-one days of the occurrence of the vacancy, give notice in writing of the vacancy to –
 - (i) the district council by which the member was elected; or
 - (ii) the regional legislative assembly for the relevant region; and
 - (b) that council or assembly shall nominate a replacement member within a further period of twenty-one days.
- (4) A by-election shall not be held within three months before the holding of an election.

Vacation of office of member of Parliament

- 126.
- (1) The office of member of Parliament becomes vacant –
 - (a) if the member resigns in writing addressed to the respective Speaker;
 - (b) if that person becomes disqualified for election under Article 124(2);
 - (c) upon expiration of the life of Parliament;
 - (d) if the member is absent from eight sittings of the relevant House without permission, in writing, of the respective Speaker during any period when the House is sitting, and is unable to offer satisfactory explanation for the absence to the relevant committee;
 - (e) if the member is removed from office under legislation made under Article 100;
 - (f) if the member leaves the political party for which the member stood as a candidate for election to the National Assembly; or
 - (g) if, having been elected to Parliament as an independent candidate, the member joins a political party.
 - (2) The creation or dissolution of a coalition of which a member's political party forms part or the dissolution of a political party or a merger of more than two parties shall not amount to the member's leaving the party for the purposes of clause (1)(f).

Determination of questions of membership

- 127.
- (1) The High Court shall hear and determine any question whether –
 - (a) any person has been validly elected or nominated as a member of Parliament; or
 - (b) the seat of any member has become vacant.
 - (2) A question referred to in clause (1) shall be heard and determined within six months of the date of lodging the petition.

Part II – Officers of Parliament

Speakers and Deputy Speakers of Parliament

- 128. (1) There shall be –
- (a) a Speaker for each House of Parliament who shall be elected by that House in accordance with the Standing Orders, from among persons who are qualified to be elected as members of Parliament but are not such members; and
 - (b) a Deputy Speaker for each House of Parliament who shall be elected by that House, in accordance with the Standing Orders, from among the members of that House.
- (2) The office of Speaker or the Deputy Speaker shall become vacant – (a) when a new House of Parliament first meets after an election; (b) if the office holder becomes disqualified under Article 124(2);
- (c) if the relevant House so resolves by resolution supported by the votes of not less than sixty-five per cent of its members;
 - (d) if the office holder dies; or
 - (e) if the office holder resigns from office in a letter addressed to the relevant House.

Presiding in Parliament

- 129. At any sitting of a House of Parliament – (a) the Speaker presides; or
- (b) in the absence of the Speaker, the Deputy Speaker presides; or
 - (c) in the absence of the Speaker and the Deputy Speaker, such other member of the relevant House as the House may elect for that purpose presides.

Leader of the Opposition

- 130. (1) The largest parliamentary party or coalition of parliamentary parties in the National Assembly not forming the Government shall elect from among their members of Parliament, the Leader of the Opposition.
- (2) In relation to the conduct of the business in the National Assembly, the Leader of the Opposition shall –
- (a) rank in precedence immediately following the President, the Deputy President, the Prime Minister and the Speaker;
 - (b) the right of participation at all official state functions; and
 - (c) have the right of second reply, after the Prime Minister, to an address to the National Assembly by the President.
- (3) The Standing Orders of the National Assembly shall provide for the effective participation in the National Assembly of the Leader of the Opposition.

Clerks and staff of Parliament

- 131. (1) There shall be a Clerk for each House of Parliament who shall be appointed by the Parliamentary Service Commission with the approval of the relevant House.
- (2) The office of Clerk and offices of members of the staff of the Clerk shall be offices in the parliamentary service.
- (3) Subject to clause (4), a Clerk shall retire on attaining the age of sixty- five years.
- (4) Either House may by resolution supported by the votes of not less than sixty-five per cent of all the members of that House remove the Clerk.

Part IV – Legislation and Procedure in Parliament

Exercise of legislative powers

- 132. (1) Parliament shall exercise its legislative power by Bills passed by Parliament and assented to by the President.
- (2) Any member, or committee, of Parliament may introduce Bills in Parliament.
- (3) A Bill may originate in either House but a money Bill may originate only in the National Assembly.
- (4) Every Bill for legislation introduced in Parliament must be accompanied by an explanatory memorandum, outlining -
- (a) any Bill of Rights limitations or derogations, or any other constitutional implications;
 - (b) any public participation during the preparation of the Bill; and
 - (c) any further public participation that is recommended before the Bill is enacted.
- (5) The relevant Committee shall-
- (a) determine the nature and extent of public participation for each Bill for legislation introduced in Parliament; and
 - (b) facilitate that participation, and ensure that it is adequately carried out.
- (6) Parliament shall equitably allocate time for consideration of Bills.

Money Bills

- 133. (1) A money Bill may be introduced only by a Minister.
- (2) In this Chapter “money Bill” means a Bill that contains provisions dealing with –
- (a) the imposition, repeal, remission, alteration or regulation of taxes;
 - (b) the imposition of charges on the Consolidated Fund or any other fund of the Government or the variation or repeal of any of those charges;

- (c) the appropriation, receipt, custody, investment, issue or audit of accounts of public money;
 - (d) the grant of money to any person or authority or the variation or revocation of public money;
 - (e) the raising or guaranteeing of any loan or the repayment thereof; or
 - (f) subordinate matters incidental to any of those matters.
- (3) In clause (2), the expressions “tax”, “public money”, and “loan” do not include any tax, public money or loan raised by devolved governments.

Consideration by the other House

- 134.
- (1) When a Bill has been passed by one House of Parliament, the Speaker of that House shall refer it to the Speaker of the other House for introduction, consideration and passage.
 - (2) If both Houses pass a Bill in the same form, the Speaker of the House in which the Bill originated shall within seven days refer the Bill to the President for assent.
 - (3) If one House passes a Bill and the other House rejects it, the Bill is defeated unless it is a money Bill.
 - (4) When a Bill that in the opinion of the Speaker of the National Assembly is a money Bill, in terms of Article 133(2), is referred to the Senate from the National Assembly it shall bear a certificate of the Speaker of the National Assembly that it is a money Bill.
 - (5) Where a Bill that is referred to the Senate in accordance with clause (4) is not passed by the Senate within fourteen days after it is so referred, the Bill shall be presented to the President for assent.
 - (6) If one House passes a Bill, other than a money Bill, and the other House passes an amended version of it, the Speaker of the originating House shall call for a second vote on the Bill as amended, and shall present it to the President for assent if that House passes the Bill as amended.
 - (7) If a Bill referred to in clause (6) is not passed in its amended form by the originating House the Speakers of both Houses shall appoint a mediation committee consisting of equal numbers of members of each House to review the different texts and attempt to develop a compromise text.
 - (8) If the mediation committee agrees on a compromise text each House may vote to approve or reject the compromise text.
 - (9) If both Houses approve the compromise text, the Speaker of the originating House shall within seven days present the Bill to the President for assent.
 - (10) If the mediation committee fails to reach a compromise within thirty days, or if a compromise text is rejected by either House, the Bill is defeated.

Presidential assent and referral

- 135. (1) Within fourteen days after receipt of the Bill, the President shall –
- (a) assent to the Bill; or
 - (b) refer the Bill back to the Speaker for reconsideration by Parliament, noting any reservations that the President has concerning the Bill.
- (2) If the President refers a Bill back for reconsideration by Parliament, Parliament may either –
- (a) amend the Bill in light of the President’s reservations; or
 - (b) pass the Bill a second time without amendment.
- (3) If Parliament has amended the Bill, the appropriate Speaker shall submit it afresh to the President for assent.
- (4) If Parliament, after considering the President’s reservations, passes the Bill a second time, by vote supported by two-thirds of all members of each House, without amending it –
- (a) the appropriate Speaker shall within seven days re-submit it to the President; and
 - (b) the President shall within seven days assent to the Bill.
- (5) If the President refuses or fails to assent to a Bill within the period prescribed in clause (1), the Bill shall be taken to have been assented to upon the expiration of that period.

Coming into force of laws

- 136. (1) A Bill passed by Parliament and assented to by the President –
- (a) shall be published in the Gazette within seven days of the assent; and
 - (b) comes into force on the fourteenth day after its publication in the Gazette unless the Act otherwise provides.
- (2) An Act which confers a direct pecuniary interest on members of Parliament shall not come into force until after the dissolution of the Parliament that passed the Act.
- (3) Clause (2) does not apply to an interest which members of Parliament have as members of the public.

Right to petition Parliament

- 137. Every person has a right to petition Parliament to enact, amend or repeal any legislation.

Quorum

- 138. The quorum of either House shall be thirty per cent of all members of that House.

Official language in Parliament

- 139. The official languages of Parliament shall be Kiswahili, English and sign language.

Voting in Parliament

- 140. (1) Except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, any question proposed for decision in Parliament shall be determined by a majority of the members present and voting in each House.
- (2) On a question proposed for decision in either House –
- (a) the Speaker shall have no vote; and
- (b) in the case of a tie, the question shall be lost.
- (3) The vote of a member who votes upon a question in which the member has a direct pecuniary interest shall not be counted.

Decisions of Senate

- 141. (1) In the Senate, except where this Constitution provides otherwise –
- (a) each region, and the marginalized groups, shall have one vote, to be cast on behalf of the region or marginalized group by the head of its delegation or, in the absence of the head of the delegation, by another member of the delegation acting on behalf of the head of the delegation; and
- (b) all questions shall be determined by a two-thirds majority of those delegations.
- (2) When the Senate votes on a question not affecting regions and districts, clause (1)(a) does not apply, but instead –
- (a) each Senator has one vote;
- (b) at least one-third of the Senators must be present before a vote is taken on the question; and
- (c) the question is decided by a majority of the votes cast, but if there is an equal number of votes, a second and third vote may be taken, after which the matter lapses and may be re-submitted after three months.
- (3) National legislation which is enacted in accordance with the procedure established for the passing of bills affecting regions and districts, shall provide for a uniform procedure in terms of which the delegations in the Senate shall consult for the purposes of clause (1)(a).
- (4) A Senator representing a region –
- (a) may, on the Senator's own motion; and
- (b) shall, at the request of the relevant regional legislative assembly, attend, and speak at, a meeting of that assembly, but shall not vote.

CHAPTER FOURTEEN DEVOLVED

GOVERNMENT

Part I – Structure and principles of devolved government

Objects of devolution of government

- 206. (1) The objects of devolution of government are –
- (a) to ensure the democratic and accountable exercise of sovereign power;
 - (b) to foster national unity by recognising diversity;
 - (c) to give powers of self-governance to the people at all levels and enhance the participation of people in the exercise of the powers of the state;
 - (d) to recognize the right of local communities to manage their own local affairs, and to form networks and associations to assist in that management and to further their development;
 - (e) to protect and promote the interests and rights of minorities and marginalized groups at all levels;
 - (f) to promote social and economic development and the provision of proximate, easily-accessed services throughout Kenya;
 - (g) to ensure equitable sharing of national and local resources throughout Kenya, with special provisions for less developed areas; and
 - (h) to facilitate the decentralisation of State organs and functions from the capital territory.
- (2) All persons and bodies exercising and performing powers and functions in accordance with this Chapter shall take account of the objects set out in this Article.

Principles of devolved government

- 207. (1) The district is the principal level of devolution.
- (2) The principal role of Regional Government is to co-ordinate the implementation, within the districts forming the region, of programmes and projects that extend across two or more districts of the region.
- (3) The principal role of the Senate is to provide an institution through which the devolved levels of government share and participate in the formulation and enactment of national legislation and to protect the interests of the Regional, District and Locational Governments.
- (4) Parliament is responsible for the enactment of framework legislation applicable to the devolved levels of government.

Co-operation between government at the different levels

- 208. (1) Government at every level shall –
- (a) exercise and perform its powers and functions in a manner that does not encroach on the geographical, functional or institutional integrity of government at any other level and shall respect the constitutional status, institutions and rights of government at all levels;

- (b) assist, support, and consult with other levels and shall, as appropriate, implement the laws of other levels; and
 - (c) maintain liaison with government at each other level for the purpose of exchange of information, co-ordination of policies and administration and enhancement of capacity.
- (2) Governments at different levels, or different governments at the same level, shall, to the extent necessary in any particular circumstances, co-operate in the performance of functions and, for that purpose, may set up joint committees and joint authorities.
 - (3) Governments involved in an inter-governmental dispute shall make every reasonable effort to settle the dispute by means of procedures provided by Act of Parliament for that purpose, and shall exhaust all other remedies before they approach a court to resolve the dispute.
 - (4) For the purposes of clause (3), an Act of Parliament shall provide procedures for the settlement of inter-government disputes by negotiation, mediation or arbitration.

Assignment of functions

- 209.
- (1) Except as otherwise provided by this Constitution or by legislation, the functions and powers of the various levels of government are as set out in the Fourth Schedule.
 - (2) Every District Government shall decentralize the provision of services and other functions of government by providing, for their devolution to Locational Government to the extent that it is efficient and practicable to do so.
 - (3) When powers and functions are re-assigned from one level of government to another level of government, arrangements shall be put in place to ensure that the funds necessary for the exercise and performance of those powers and functions are transferred accordingly.
 - (4) A function that is assigned to more than one level of government is a function within the concurrent jurisdiction of each of those levels of government.
 - (5) Associations, federations and networks of local communities or villages, within the framework of their statutory powers and functions, likewise have the right of self-management as set by national legislation.

Conflict of laws

- 210
- (1) This Article applies to conflicts between legislation in relation to matters falling within the concurrent jurisdiction of the various levels of government.
 - (2) National legislation prevails over regional and district legislation if –
 - (a) the national legislation applies uniformly throughout Kenya and any of the conditions specified in clause (3) is satisfied; or

- (b) the national legislation is aimed at preventing unreasonable action by a region or district that –
 - (i) is prejudicial to the economic health or security interests of another region or district or of Kenya as a whole; or
 - (ii) impedes the implementation of national economic policy.
- (3) The conditions mentioned in clause (2)(a) are –
 - (a) the national legislation deals with a matter that cannot be regulated effectively by legislation enacted by the regions or districts individually;
 - (b) the national legislation deals with a matter that, to be dealt with effectively, requires uniformity across the nation, and the national legislation provides that uniformity by establishing –
 - (i) norms and standards; (ii) frameworks; or
 - (iii) national policies; and
 - (c) the national legislation is necessary for –
 - (i) the maintenance of national security; (ii) the maintenance of economic unity;
 - (iii) the protection of the common markets in respect of the mobility of goods, services capital and labour;
 - (iv) the promotion of economic activities across regional or district boundaries;
 - (v) the promotion of equal opportunity or equal access to government services; or
 - (vi) the protection of the environment.
- (4) Regional or district legislation prevails over national legislation if the requirements of clause (2) are not satisfied.
- (5) Regional legislation prevails over district legislation.
- (6) A decision by a court that a provision of legislation of one level of government prevails over a provision of legislation of another level of government does not invalidate that other provision, but that other provision becomes inoperative to the extent of the inconsistency.
- (7) When considering an apparent conflict between legislation of different levels of government, a court shall prefer any reasonable interpretation of the legislation that avoids a conflict to any alternative interpretation that results in conflict.
- (8) A subordinate court before which an apparent conflict between legislation of different levels of government arises shall decide the issue unless –
 - (a) because of the importance or complexity of the matter, the court, on its own motion, refers the matter to the High Court; or

- (b) any party to the proceedings requests that the matter be so referred.

Management of urban districts and urban areas

- 210A. (1) National legislation shall provide for the governance and management of urban districts and urban areas.
- (2) That legislation shall—
- (a) establish criteria for distinguishing between— (i) urban districts and areas; and
 - (ii) rural districts and areas;
 - (b) establish criteria and procedures by which transition from a rural district into an urban district is recognized;
 - (c) establish criteria for classifying an area within a district as an urban area;
 - (d) establish the principles of governance and management of urban districts and urban areas which take into account the special requirements of the national capital and other major centres;
 - (e) provide for participation, by the citizens of urban areas, in governance functions of the district within which it lies.
- (3) That legislation may—
- (a) provide for the identification of different categories of urban areas within a district; and
 - (b) make other provision for the better governance of urban areas and urban districts.

Suspension of Regional or District Government

- 210B. (1) A Regional or District Government may be suspended—
- (a) in an emergency arising out of internal conflict or war; or
 - (b) for gross inefficiency or corrupt practices, or for failure to comply with a code of conduct prescribed by an Act of Parliament in respect of regional or District Government.
- (2) A regional or District Government shall not be suspended under clause (1)(b) unless an independent Commission of inquiry has investigated the allegations against it, the President is satisfied that the allegations are justified and the Senate has authorised the suspension.
- (3) During a suspension under this Article, arrangements shall be made for the performance of the functions of the Regional or District Government in accordance with an Act of Parliament.
- (4) A suspension under this Article shall not extend beyond a period of ninety days, during which period new elections for the relevant council shall be held.

Prohibition against holding elective office at national and devolved levels

- 210C. Except as otherwise provided by this Constitution, a person shall not hold a public or elective office at the same time in both the National Government and a devolved government or in more than one devolved government, whether at the same or a different level.

Part II – Regions

Regional Governments

- 211. (1) There is established for each region, a Regional Government, consisting of a regional legislative assembly and a regional executive.
- (2) The Nairobi region shall be managed as a metropolitan capital city, as prescribed by Act of Parliament.

Regional legislative assemblies

- 212. (1) A regional legislative assembly –
- (a) consists of four delegates (not being members of any district council) elected from each district within the region by the council of that district;
 - (b) is constituted for a term of five years; and
 - (c) has the power to pass any laws that are reasonably necessary for, or incidental to, the effective exercise of the powers, and the performance of the functions, that are assigned to the region.
- (2) In electing delegates to the regional legislative assembly, a district council shall take into consideration the various diversities represented in the districts.
- (3) A member of a regional legislative assembly shall have a right to attend meetings of the district council by which that member was elected and take part in its deliberations but may not vote on any matter.

Regional executive committee

- 213. (1) The executive authority of a Regional Government is exercised by a regional executive committee, consisting of –
- (a) a regional chief executive and a deputy regional chief executive, to be known –
 - (i) except in the case of the Nairobi region, as the premier and the deputy premier; and
 - (ii) in the case of the Nairobi region, as the mayor and the deputy mayor,and elected in accordance with Article 214 or 215, as the case requires; and
 - (b) other members appointed by the regional chief executive with the approval of the regional legislative assembly.

- (2) The number of members appointed under clause (1)(b) shall not exceed one-third of the number of members of the regional legislative assembly.
- (3) During the illness or absence of a regional chief executive, the deputy regional chief executive has all the functions, powers and responsibilities of the regional chief executive.

Election of regional premier and deputy regional premier

- 214. (1) A regional premier and a deputy regional premier shall each be elected by an electoral college consisting of all the elected members of district councils within the region.
- (2) A member of the electoral college constituted under clause (1) is not eligible to be elected regional premier or deputy regional premier.
- (3) At an election under clause (1) –
- (a) the candidate who obtains a two-thirds majority of the votes cast shall be declared elected; and
 - (b) if no candidate obtains such a majority –
 - (i) a second ballot shall be held, in which the only candidates are those who obtained the highest and second-highest number of votes in the first ballot; and
 - (ii) the candidate who obtains the greater number of votes in the second ballot shall be declared elected.

Election of mayor and deputy mayor of Nairobi

- 215. The mayor and deputy mayor of Nairobi shall each be elected, in the manner prescribed by Act of Parliament, by a simple majority of registered voters who meet the requirements relating to residence within the region prescribed by Act of Parliament.

Functions of regional executive committees

- 216. (1) The members of a regional executive committee, under the chairmanship of the regional chief executive, are responsible for the exercise of executive powers in relation to functions and powers assigned to the region.
- (2) Members of the regional executive committee are accountable collectively and individually to the regional legislative assembly for the exercise of their powers and the performance of their functions.

Part III – Districts

District Governments

- 217. There is established for each district a District Government, consisting of a district council and a district executive.

Legislative authority of district councils

- 218. (1) The legislative authority of a district is vested in its district council.

- (2) A district council may pass any laws that are reasonably necessary for, or incidental to, the effective exercise of the powers, and the performance of the functions, that are assigned to the district.
- (3) A district council has power to maintain oversight over the district executive committee and any other executive organs established by laws of the district council.
- (4) A district council may recommend to the regional legislative assembly the enactment of legislation concerning any matter outside the authority of that district council that is within the legislative competence of the regional legislative council.
- (5) A district council may formulate plans and policies for the management and exploitation of the district's resources and development and management of the district's infrastructure and institutions.

Election of district councillors

- 219. (1) A district council consists of –
- (a) one member elected for each of such number of wards, with such boundaries, as are prescribed by Act of Parliament, passed after taking account of the recommendations of the Electoral and Boundaries Commission;
 - (b) such number of special seat members, all of whom are women, as are required to ensure that at least a one-third membership of the council comprises women, elected after members have been declared elected under paragraph (a); and
 - (c) such number of members of marginalized groups, including persons with disabilities, older persons and youth, provided that at least two shall be persons with disabilities, as are prescribed by an Act of Parliament.
- (2) Nothing in this Article prevents a woman who stood unsuccessfully for election under paragraph (a) of clause (1) from contesting a special seat under paragraph (b) of that clause.
- (3) A district council is elected for a term of five years.

District executive committee

- 220. (1) The executive authority of a district is exercised by a district executive committee, consisting of –
- (a) a district governor and a deputy district governor; and
 - (b) subject to clause (2), such other members as are appointed by the district governor with the approval of the district council.
- (2) The number of members appointed under clause (1)(b) shall not exceed either –
- (a) one-third of the number of members of the district council; or
 - (b) ten persons.

- (3) During the illness or absence of the district governor, the deputy district governor has all the functions, powers and responsibilities of the district governor.

Election of district governor and deputy district governor

- 221. (1) The district governor and deputy district governor shall each be elected, in an election which they contest as a team, by registered voters who meet the requirements relating to residence within the district prescribed by Act of Parliament.
- (2) The district governor and deputy district governor each hold office for a term of five years, and each of them is eligible, if otherwise qualified, for re-election for one further term.
- (3) A member of the district executive committee other than the district governor or the deputy district governor may be dismissed from office by resolution of the district council.

Functions of district executive committee

- 222. (1) A district executive committee shall –
- (a) implement laws of the district council;
 - (b) implement, within the district, national and regional legislation, to the extent that that legislation so requires;
 - (c) coordinate the functions of the district administration and its departments; and
 - (d) coordinate the functions of locations and communities within the district.
- (2) Without limiting any power of the district council, a district executive committee may prepare and initiate proposed laws for enactment by the council.
- (3) The district executive committee has such other powers and functions as may be conferred on it by this Constitution or by national or regional legislation.
- (4) Members of a district executive committee are accountable collectively and individually to the district council for the exercise of their powers and the performance of their functions.
- (5) A district executive committee shall –
- (a) act in accordance with this Constitution; and
 - (b) provide the district council with full and regular reports concerning matters under the control of the district executive committee.

Part IV – Locations

Locational Governments

- 223. (1) There is established for each location a Locational Government, consisting of a locational council and locational executive committee.

- (2) A locational administrator is accountable to the locational council in the exercise of the powers and the performance of functions of the office.

Locational councils

- 224. (1) A locational council consists of representatives elected by registered voters who meet the requirements for residence in the location prescribed by Act of Parliament.
- (2) An election for the purposes of clause (1) shall be conducted in such manner as is prescribed by Act of Parliament, being a manner that ensures that an equal number of men and women are elected.

Location administrator

- 225. (1) The location administrator is the executive authority of the location and is to be elected, in the manner prescribed by district legislation, by voters resident in the location.
- (2) The term of office of a location administrator is five years and shall be eligible for re-election for a further and final term of five years.

Part V – General

Terms of office

- 226. Subject to specific provision made in this Chapter, a person holds –
- (a) an elective office for a term of five years and is eligible, if otherwise qualified, for re-election; and
 - (b) an appointive office for a term of five years and is eligible, if otherwise qualified, for re-appointment for one further term.

Power to summon witnesses

- 227. A regional legislative assembly or a district council has power to –
- (a) summon any person to appear before it or any of its committees for the purpose of giving evidence or providing information; and
 - (b) for the purposes of paragraph (a), has the powers of the High Court in –
 - (i) enforcing the attendance of witnesses and examining them on oath, affirmation or otherwise;
 - (ii) compelling the production of documents; and
 - (iii) issuing a commission or request to examine witnesses abroad.

Public access and participation, and powers, privileges and immunities

- 228. Articles 144 and 145 apply to the regional legislative assemblies and the district and locational councils in the same manner as they apply to the national legislature.

Balance of gender and diversity

- 228A. (1) At any time, not more than two-thirds of the members of any assembly, council or executive committee constituted under this Chapter are to be of the same sex.
- (2) An Act of Parliament shall be enacted to ensure that community and cultural diversity in a region, district or locality is reflected in legislative and executive bodies exercising power in the region, district or locality.
- (3) Without limiting the generality of clause (2), that legislation must prescribe means to protect minorities within districts.

Government during transition

- 228B. While any election is being held to constitute an assembly or council under this Chapter, the assembly or council as last constituted remains competent to function until reconstituted after the election.

Leadership and integrity

- 229. Members of an assembly, council or committee constituted under this Chapter shall act in accordance with the principles set out in Chapter Nine.

Publication of laws

- 229A. (1) A law or subordinate instrument made by a regional legislative assembly, a district or locational council or an executive committee does not take effect unless published in the Gazette.
- (2) National, regional and district laws may prescribe other requirements in relation to the publication of law of devolved governments.

Provision to be made by Act of Parliament

- 230. (1) Parliament shall by legislation make comprehensive provision for all matters necessary or convenient to give effect to this Chapter, including, in particular, provision for –
- (a) the phased transfer, over a period of not more than five years from the effective date, from the Government to the devolved governments of the powers and functions assigned to them under Article 209;
- (b) the governance of Nairobi, as the national capital, and of other urban areas;
- (c) the delegation of powers by one level of government to another, including the delegation from the Government to regional and District Governments of legislative powers with respect to matters specified in the following paragraphs of this Article as the subject-matter of an Act of Parliament, and the conditions for the transfer and recall of the powers delegated;
- (d) the manner of election or appointment of persons to, and their removal from, offices in devolved governments, including the qualifications of voters and candidates;

- (e) the procedure of assemblies, councils and executive committees, including the chairing and frequency of meetings, quorums and voting; and
 - (f) the suspension of assemblies, councils and executive committees.
- (2) An Act passed for the purposes of clause (1), shall make provisions for the matters provided for in Part VI that is at least as -
- (a) supportive of the principles of devolution; and
 - (b) comprehensive in content, as the provisions of that Part.

Part VI – Interim provisions

Qualification for election or appointment to devolved government bodies

- 231. Until relevant provision is made by Act of Parliament for the purposes of Article 230, a person is eligible to be a member of an assembly, council or executive committee established by this Chapter if that person –
- (a) is qualified for membership of the National Assembly;
 - (b) has been resident in the region, district or location concerned throughout the period of twelve months immediately before the date of the election or appointment.

Procedures and internal organization of devolved government bodies

- 232. (1) Until relevant provision is made by Act of Parliament for the purposes of Article 230, each assembly, council or executive committee established by this Chapter may, by resolution, regulate its own procedure and internal organization.
- (2) The power conferred by sub-section (1) includes the power to make provision with respect to –
- (a) the appointment or election, and removal, of persons as speakers and deputy speakers;
 - (b) the convening, frequency and chairing of meetings; and
 - (c) quorums and voting at meetings.

Election of mayor and deputy mayor of Nairobi

- 233. Until relevant provision is made by Act of Parliament for the purposes of Article 215 –
- (a) the manner of voting under that Article shall be the same as at a by-election for the National Assembly; and
 - (b) the residential requirement for the purposes of that Article is that a person has been resident in the region throughout the period of twelve months immediately before the date of the election.

Election of district councillors

- 234. Until relevant provision is made by Act of Parliament for the purposes of Article 219(1) –
- (a) the wards of each district are the wards existing immediately before the effective date;
 - (b) the number of members representing marginalized groups shall be the number that is as nearly as practicable equal to twenty per cent the number of members referred to in Article 219(1)(a); and
 - (c) the manner of conducting the election of members of a district council shall be as determined in the circumstances by the Electoral and Boundaries Commission.

Election of locational councils and locational administrators

- 235. (1) Until relevant provision is made by Act of Parliament for the purposes of Article 224(2), the manner of conducting the election of members of a locational council so as to ensure that an equal number of men and women are elected shall be as determined in the circumstances by the Electoral and Boundaries Commission.
- (2) Until relevant provision is made by district legislation for the purposes of Article 225(1), the manner of conducting the election of members of a locational council shall be as determined in the circumstances by the Electoral and Boundaries Commission.

CHAPTER FIFTEEN

PUBLIC FINANCE

Part I – Public Finance and Revenue Management

Principles and objects of public finance and revenue management

- 236. The primary object of the public finance management system of the Republic is to ensure –
- (a) efficient and effective generation of revenue;
 - (b) adherence to the principles of transparency and accountability and observance of law, including appropriate controls and oversight over borrowing and expenditure;
 - (c) equitable raising of revenue, and the sharing of national and local resources and revenue throughout the Republic, taking into account the special needs of marginalized communities;
 - (d) the application of the principles of universality, of equality of tax treatment and of taxation according to economic capacity;
 - (e) that imposition of tax shall take into account the burden of direct taxes on the devolved governments and the people;
 - (f) that the benefits and burdens of public borrowing and spending are shared equitably between present and future generations;
 - (g) that the budgets and budgetary processes promote transparency, accountability and the effective financial management of the economy, debt and public sector; and
 - (h) that public accounts are audited and reported on regularly.

Part II – Taxation powers and revenue sharing.

Imposition of tax

- 237. (1) No person or authority may –
- (a) impose a tax, fee or charge on behalf of either the Government or a devolved level of government, except under the authority of legislation; or
 - (b) waive or vary any tax, fee or charge imposed by law except as expressly provided by legislation.
- (2) Legislation that provides for any waiver of any tax, charge or fee shall provide that a record of such waivers and the reason for them is kept and reported to the Auditor-General.

Taxation

- 238. (1) The taxation and other revenue-raising powers of the Government and devolved governments are set out in the Fifth Schedule.
- (2) The taxation and other revenue-raising powers of a devolved government shall not be exercised in a way that materially and unreasonably prejudices national economic policies, economic activities across regional, district or locational boundaries or the national mobility of goods, services, capital or labour.

- (3) When two or more governments have taxation or other revenue-raising powers and functions with regard to the same subject-matter, an appropriate division of those powers and functions shall be made by Act of Parliament.
- (4) Nothing in this Article precludes the sharing of revenue raised under this Article between governments that have taxation or other revenue- raising powers and functions with regard to the same subject-matter.
- (5) An Act of Parliament referred to in clause (3) may be enacted only after the Commission on Revenue Allocation, the Minister responsible for devolved government and the Controller of Budget have been consulted, and their recommendations have been tabled in Parliament.

Devolved governments' shares of national funds

- 239.
- (1) The Government shall promote financial equalization among all levels of government.
 - (2) Each devolved government –
 - (a) is entitled to an equitable share of revenue raised nationally; and
 - (b) may receive equalization grants or other allocations from Government revenue, either conditionally or unconditionally.
 - (3) Additional revenue raised by a devolved government may not be deducted from its share of revenue raised nationally, or from other allocations made to it out of Government revenue.
 - (4) There is no obligation on the Government to compensate a devolved government that does not raise revenue commensurate with its fiscal capacity and tax base.
 - (5) A devolved government's share of revenue raised nationally shall be transferred to that government promptly and without deduction, except when the transfer has been stopped under Article 255(2).

Legislation

- 240.
- (1) Subject to Article 238(1), an Act of Parliament shall regulate the taxation and other revenue raising powers of devolved governments and the sharing of revenue and making of grants to devolved governments.
 - (3) An Act of Parliament referred to in clause (1), may be enacted only after the Commission on Revenue Allocation, the Minister responsible for the devolved governments and the Controller of Budget have been consulted, and their recommendations have been tabled in Parliament.
 - (4) An Act of Parliament referred to in clause (1), shall take into account - (a) the national interest;
 - (b) any provision that must be made in respect of the national debt and other national obligations;
 - (c) the needs and interests of the Government;

- (d) the need to ensure that the devolved governments are able to perform the functions allocated to them;
- (e) the fiscal capacity and efficiency of the devolved governments; (f) developmental and other needs of devolved governments;
- (g) economic disparities within and among the devolved governments, including the needs of marginalized areas;
- (h) obligations of the devolved governments in terms of national legislation;
- (i) the desirability of stable and predictable allocations of revenue shares; and
- (j) emergencies or other temporary needs.

Part III – Funds for holding Public Money

Consolidated Fund

- 241. (1) There is established a fund to be known as the Consolidated Fund.
- (2) Subject to clause (3), all money raised or received for the purposes of, on behalf of, or in trust for, the Government shall be paid into the Consolidated Fund.
- (3) The money referred to in clause (2) does not include any money –
- (a) that is payable under an Act of Parliament into some other public fund of the Government established for a specific purpose; or
 - (b) that may, under an Act of Parliament, be retained by the State organ, at national or devolved level, that received it for the purpose of defraying the expenses of that State organ.

Withdrawals from Consolidated Fund

- 242. (1) Money shall not be withdrawn from the Consolidated Fund except –
- (a) to meet expenditure charged on the Fund by this Constitution or an Act of Parliament; or
 - (b) when the issue of that money has been authorized by an Appropriation Act or a Supplementary Appropriation Act.
- (2) Money shall not be withdrawn from any public fund of the Government other than the Consolidated Fund, unless the issue of that money has been authorised by an Act of Parliament.
- (3) Money shall not be withdrawn from the Consolidated Fund or any other public fund of the Government unless the Controller of Budget has approved the withdrawal in accordance with Article 256(4).

Revenue Fund for devolved governments

- 243. (1) There shall be established a Revenue Fund for each devolved government, into which shall be paid all money received by the devolved government, except money reasonably excluded by an Act of Parliament.

- (2) Money may be withdrawn from the Revenue Fund of a devolved government only –
 - (a) by an appropriation by legislation of the devolved government; or
 - (b) as a direct charge against the Revenue Fund that is provided for by an Act of Parliament or by legislation of the devolved government.

Contingency Fund

- 244. There is established a fund, to be known as the Contingency Fund, the operation of which shall be in accordance with an Act of Parliament.

Part IV - Borrowing

Borrowing by Government

- 245.
- (1) The Government may borrow from any source.
 - (2) The Government shall not, on behalf of itself or any other public institution, authority or person, borrow money, guarantee a loan or receive a grant, unless the terms and conditions of the transaction have been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament.
 - (3) All money received as a result of a transaction referred to in clause (2) shall be paid into, and form part of, the Consolidated Fund or some other public fund that is existing or is created for the purpose of that transaction.
 - (4) Within seven days after either House of Parliament, by resolution, so requests, the Minister responsible for finance shall present to both Houses of Parliament all information concerning a loan that is necessary to show –
 - (a) the extent of the total indebtedness by way of principal and accumulated interest;
 - (b) the provision made for servicing or repayment of the loan;
 - (c) the use made of the proceeds of the loan; and
 - (d) the progress made in the repayment of the loan.
 - (5) For the purposes of this Article, “loan” includes any money lent or given to the Government on condition of return or repayment and any other form of borrowing or lending in respect of which money from the Consolidated Fund or any other public fund may be used, or is required to be used, for payment or repayment.

Borrowing by devolved governments

- 246.
- (1) A devolved government may raise loans for development or recurrent expenditure in accordance with conditions determined by an Act of Parliament.
 - (2) An Act of Parliament referred to in clause (1) may be enacted only after all relevant recommendations of the Commission on Revenue Allocation have been considered.

- (3) A devolved government shall not borrow without first obtaining approval from its assembly or council.

Public debt

- 247. (1) Subject to clause (2), the public debt of the Republic is a charge on the Consolidated Fund.
- (2) Provision may be made by Act of Parliament for charging all or part of the public debt of the Republic to other public funds.
- (3) For the purposes of this Article, the public debt includes the interest on that debt, sinking fund payments in respect of that debt, the costs, charges and expenses incidental to the management of that debt and outstanding guarantees by the State.
- (4) The aggregate amounts borrowed in any financial year by both the Government and all devolved governments shall not be such as to increase the accumulated public debt to an amount greater than fifty per cent of the overall gross domestic product of the Republic in the immediately preceding financial year.

Loan guarantees by governments

- 248. (1) An Act of Parliament shall provide terms and conditions under which each level of government may guarantee a loan.
- (2) An Act of Parliament referred to in clause (1) may be enacted only after any recommendations of the Commission on Revenue Allocations have been considered.
- (3) Within two months after the end of each financial year, each government, shall each publish a report on the guarantees that it gave during that year.

Part V – Budgets

Principles

- 249. Budgets of the Government and devolved governments shall contain –
 - (a) estimates of revenue and expenditure, differentiating between recurrent and development expenditure;
 - (b) proposals for financing any anticipated deficit for the period to which they apply; and
 - (c) all proposals regarding borrowing and other forms of public liability that will increase public debt during the ensuing year.

National annual estimates

- 250. (1) On a date not later than two months before the end of each financial year the Minister responsible for finance shall lay before the National Assembly –
 - (a) estimates of the revenues and expenditure of Government for the following financial year; and
 - (b) a detailed fiscal, monetary and development strategic plan for a period of at least three years (or such longer period as is provided for by Act of Parliament) prepared by the Minister responsible for finance in collaboration with the Minister responsible for planning and national development.

- (2) The Minister responsible for finance shall include in the annual estimates a special budgetary provision for the development of marginalized areas and communities.
- (3) At least three months before the end of each financial year, the head of each self-accounting department, State organ, commission or organization established under this Constitution shall submit estimates of revenues and expenditures for the following year to the Minister responsible for finance.
- (4) The estimates prepared under clause (2) shall be laid before the National Assembly by the Minister responsible for finance without revision but with any recommendations that the Commission on Revenue Allocation may have on them.
- (5) At any time before the National Assembly considers the estimates of revenue and expenditure laid before it by or on the authority of the Minister responsible for finance, an appropriate committee of the National Assembly shall discuss and review the estimates and make appropriate recommendations to the National Assembly.
- (6) The committee referred to in clause (4) shall, in discussing and reviewing the estimates, seek representations from the public and the Economic and Social Council, and those recommendations shall be taken into account when the committee makes its recommendations to the National Assembly.

Division and appropriation of revenue Bills

- 251. (1) In each financial year, the Minister responsible for finance shall introduce in Parliament a division of revenue Bill based on the recommendations of the Commission on Revenue Allocation dividing revenue raised by the Government among the four levels of government.
- (2) On the basis of the division of revenue Bill passed by Parliament under clause (1), each level of government shall prepare and pass its own budget and appropriation Bills.
- (3) When the estimates of Government expenditure, other than expenditure charged on the Consolidated Fund by this Constitution or an Act of Parliament, have been approved by the National Assembly, they shall be included in a Bill, to be known as an Appropriation Bill, which shall be introduced into the National Assembly to provide for the issue from the Consolidated Fund of the sums necessary to meet that expenditure and for the appropriation of those sums for the purposes specified in the Bill.
- (4) If, in respect of any financial year –
- (a) the amount appropriated for any purpose under the Appropriation Act is insufficient or that a need has arisen for expenditure for a purpose for which no amount has been appropriated by that Act; or

- (b) money has been expended out of the Contingency Account for a purpose for which no amount has been appropriated by that Act, a supplementary estimate showing the sums required or spent shall be laid before the National Assembly and, in the case of excess expenditure, within four months after the first drawing on the money is made.

- (5) The sums sought in a supplementary estimate for purposes for which money already appropriated was insufficient shall not in total exceed ten per cent of the sums previously appropriated by National Assembly for those purposes during that financial year.
- (6) Where, in respect of any financial year, a supplementary estimate has, or supplementary estimates have, been approved by National Assembly in accordance with clause (2), a Supplementary Appropriation Bill shall be introduced into National Assembly in the financial year next following the financial year to which the estimates relate, providing for the appropriation of the sums so approved for the purposes specified in those estimates.
- (7) Article 250(5) applies to estimates prepared under clause (4).

(a) The National Flag

Description:

Three major strips of equal width coloured from top to bottom black, red and green and separated by narrow white strips, with a symmetrical shield and white spears superimposed centrally.

(b) The National Anthem

Ee Mungu nguvu yetu
Ilete baraka kwetu.

Haki iwe ngao na mlinzi
Natukae na undugu

Amani na uhuru
Raha tupate na ustawi

Amkeni ndugu zetu
Tufanye sote bidii

Nasi tujitoe kwa nguvu
yetu ya Kenya,

Tunayoipenda
Tuwe tayari kuilinda.

Natujenge taifa letu
Ee, ndio wajibu wetu

Kenya istahili heshima
Tuungane mikono

Pamoja kazini
Kila siku tuwe na shukrani.

O God of all creation
Bless this our land and nation.

Justice be our shield and defender
May we dwell in unity

Peace and liberty
Plenty be found within our borders.

Let one and all arise
With hearts both strong and true.

Service be our earnest endeavour, Nchi
And our Homeland of Kenya

Heritage of splendour,
Firm may we stand to defend.

Let all with one accord
In common bond united,

Build this our nation together
And the glory of Kenya

The fruit of our labour
Fill every heart with thanksgiving
