

THE COLLECTOR OF BEDFORD STREET (Ref. 152)

This short documentary is about a very special man who lives in the West Village of New York City. Larry Selman is a fundraiser, dog lover, and friendly voice in the neighbourhood who lives with a mental disability that leaves him feeling concerned about his future and how he is going to take care of himself once his elderly Uncle Murray passes on. One of the most inspiring tales we've seen about how a few people can make a huge difference by opening their hearts and focusing their energy within their own community to help a friend in need.

(40 minutes)