Toubkal Group Trek - Full Itinerary

Day 1 - Arrive in Marrakech Menara International Airport

You will be met at Marrakech Menara International Airport and transferred to your accommodation. The rest of the day is at your own leisure to explore Marrakech. You may wish to hire a city guide to take you round the many souks inside the Medina or you may wish to visit some of the city's historical attractions such; the Koutoubia, Bahia Palace, Saadian Tombs, Dar Si Siad, Musee de Marrakech or Menara Gardens. Your guide will be able to tell you more about these attractions.

Hotel, meals at own expense

Day 2 - Marrakech to Oukemeiden. Trek to Tachedirt

This morning you will take a 2-3 hour bus journey to the start of your trek in Oukemeiden 2700m. We trek from Oukemeiden to Tizi n Eddi 2900m. From here we continue steeply downhill before joining a wider track down to Tachedirt 2300m where you will stay overnight in a gite.

Gite, B, L & D 3-4 hours, 6km, 200m ascent, 600m

Day 3 - Trek to Aremd

We now join the track heading gently downhill which takes us to the village of Ouaneskra and then on to the road taking us uphill and over Tizi n Tamatert 2279m, the highest point of the day. At the top of this Tizi (pass) you will be able to look down into the small Berber villages and terraces below. We follow the zigzag path takes us downhill through the trees to our gite in Aremd 1960m.

Gite, B, L & D 3.5-4.5 hours, 9.5km, 479m ascent, 519m descent

Day 4 - Trek to Refuge Nelter

Today we trek up through the Toubkal valley, with plenty of time to take in the stunning scenery. At Sidi Chamharouch we will see, a pre-Islamic saint's mausoleum and many pools that many Moroccan people go on pilgrimage to visit each year. Following the valley straight up, we will see the Refuge in the distance before arriving for our overnight stay. It is possible to shower and buy refreshments at the refuge.

Gite, B, L & D 6-8 hours, 10km, 1240m ascent

Day 5 - Trek to Toubkal Summit 4167m

You will be woken up by your guides at around 5am to have some breakfast and then depart for our exciting summit attempt at 6am, using headtorches. The first section of the trek crosses the river and crosses rocky terrain and then zigzags up to the saddle. From here the summit is an hour away where you can take your victory photographs. We will then return the same way back to the refuge for a late lunch. The afternoon is yours to relax and enjoy the views.

Gite, B, L & D 7-8 hours, 12km, 960m ascent, 960m descent

Day 6 - Trek to Imil and return to Marrakech

After breakfast we will retrace our steps back down to Imil via Sidi Chamharouch. Imil is a bustling town with souvenirs and cafes and as we descend we will discover the water irrigation system and many kashbahs clinging on to the edge of the mountain sides. We will transfer via bus to Marrakech and after 2-3 hours you will arrive at your accommodation. The rest of the evening is at your own leisure.

Hotel, B only. L & D at own expense.

Berber Treks

Day 7 - Free day in Marrakech

Today is a free day for you to choose to visit the many sights in Marrakech. We can arrange for a city guide to take you off the beaten track in the souks, visiting the tannery and herbalist. There are also many old palaces and mosques to visit within the medina such as Saadian, Bahia and Koutobia. If you are a keen gardener then you maybe interested to visit the Majorelle and Menara gardens. In the evening you will celebrate your group success in restaurant at the bustling De Jemma el Fna.

Hotel, B only. L & D at own expense

MOROCCO - FACT FILE

IS THIS THE HOLIDAY FOR YOU?

The nature of a group trekking holiday is that you will be spending the majority of your time with the same people. Sometimes your surroundings will not be as comfortable as you are used to in your own home in the UK. If you can put up with not having your own space, home comforts and eating strange food for a week or 2 then you will enjoy yourself. This is an active holiday. You will be required to walk up to 8 hours per day at a moderate and continuous pace. Unlike much of the UK the terrain is not flat in Morocco! The roads and paths are bumpy and rarely paved out in the mountains. You will be walking uphill and downhill on rough terrain which is sometimes rocky, dusty or consists of relentless rock steps. At times you will feel challenged physically and emotionally however, the breath-taking views and evocative culture will more than compensate.

ACCOMMODATION

You will be accommodated in twin rooms in 3* hotels whilst staying in Marrakech. Whilst trekking, you will be accommodated in basic hotels known as gites or refuges with 2-3 other people. During the busy season you may be accommodated in a mixed dormitory. A single room supplement is available in Marrakech, please contact us for further information.

HEALTH & HYGIENE

In the gites and refuges it is possible to take a shower, however the water may not be hot or plentiful! We also recommend that you bring a flannel, wet wipes and anti-bacterial hand gel. We also recommend that you drink between 2-3 litres of water each day and eat more than you would at home to keep up your energy levels. Stomach upsets, headaches and blisters are to be expected on trek, but will pass quickly when treated immediately. Your leader is first aid trained and carries a comprehensive first aid kit but please bring your own personal medication including blister kit and ibuprofen.

FOOD/WATER

Food on trek is basic but substantial. Breakfast largely consists of porridge, cereals, eggs, bread and spreads. For lunch you should expect to have salad, bread, couscous, tinned fish and fruit. Dinner consists of tagine (steamed vegetables) rice, lentils, pasta, potatoes. Depending on the season it is likely that the same vegetables will be on the menu everyday such as potatoes and spinach. Meat is provided when available such as chicken. Vegetarians will have no problems in Morocco, however please let us know as soon as possible about your dietary requirements. Whilst in Marrakech you will have a greater range of food and restaurants.

The tap water in Morocco is not for drinking. Whilst in Marrakech please buy bottled water. This normally costs 10 MAD from the corner shops. You will be provided with drinking water whilst on trek. This water is boiled and therefore safe to drink however I also recommend using water purifying tablets.

ALTITUDE

Acute mountain sickness (AMS) can be encountered at anytime over the height of 3000m and very rarely over 2500m. Your leader will brief you on the symptoms of AMS, HACE and HAPE on your trek. To help avoid problems with altitude you will always be encouraged to keep a moderate but continuous pace and to drink plenty of water.

FITNESS

For this grade of trek you need a good level of fitness and will be required to walk steadily up to 8 hours in the mountains. A full day out walking in mountainous terrain in the Lake District would be comparable. A routine of 3-4 sessions a week of yoga classes, walking, aerobics, swimming or gym sessions are suggested in preparation for this trek.

Berber Treks

DAILY ROUTINE ON TREK

- 6am Wake up call. Pack up bags
- 6.30am Breakfast
- 7am Start trekking early to avoid the hot sun.
Arrive at camp or gite for lunch, time dependant on length of trek
- 4pm Tea and biscuits
- 6.30pm Dinner and briefing

STAFF

You will be met at the airport by your head guide, who will give you a full briefing about your trek at your hotel. He/she has overall responsibility for the trek and makes all final decisions on behalf of clients' welfare. He is responsible for the logistics of your trek. Your head guide will speak good English and will answer all your questions about Moroccan and Berber culture. You will also have a team of guides, kitchen staff, a cook and muleteers. Everybody works as a team.

MOUNTAINOUS CLIMATE & EQUIPMENT

As a general rule the days are clear bright and sunny during the day between 25-40 degrees Celsius and the evenings get cooler once the sun goes down around 15 degrees Celsius. We like to advise all our clients that you can encounter all 4 seasons of weather in just one day, in any season on the mountain. Therefore it is essential to come fully prepared with clothing for sunshine, rain, hail, wind and snow even in the summer. Whilst your leader will take every step to ensure your safety in the mountains, trekking activities do provide an element of risk of injury. We ask that you follow the advice of your leader at all times and respect the fact that they are qualified and responsible for making final decisions for the group. She/he however is not responsible for the changeable nature of our climate! Therefore we ask you to come suitably equipped with the following essential items. As a general rule, it is false economy to buy the cheapest that you can find, as they may not make it to the end of your trek and will cause you great discomfort!

Please do not hesitate to contact us if you need further advice regarding your equipment.

ESSENTIAL TREKKING EQUIPMENT

- 3-4 season down sleeping bag
- Waterproof walking boots not approach shoes or trainers. Please wear them in!
- Wicking t-shirts, not cotton
- Fleece jumpers, not cotton
- Quick drying walking trousers or shorts, not cotton or denim
- Sun hat
- Sunblock Factor 30
- Sunglasses
- Water container at least 2 litres, I recommend platypus, source or camelbak pouches with a drinking hose
- Water purifying tablets
- 20 - 30 litre rucksack to carry during the day
- Waterproof bag inside your rucksack
- Camera & spare batteries
- Walking poles, scientifically proven to reduce wear and tear on your knees and improve balance on mountainous terrain
- Gore-Tex (waterproof and breathable) jacket and trousers. It does rain in Morocco!
- Fleece hat/beanie
- Neck gaiter (Buff) good to keep dust out of your nose!
- Gloves
- Walking socks
- Head torch
- Blister kit and personal medication such as ibuprofen, anti-histamines, dioralyte, lemsip, throat lozenges
- Thermal base layers, top and bottoms

DONATIONS TO VILLAGES & SCHOOLS

Please check with your airline about your luggage allowance however it would be wonderful if you would like to bring old clothing particularly warm jumpers and coats to donate to the Berber villages that you trek through. In addition any stationery, books or art materials would be gratefully received at the local schools. We do not recommend that you give out sweets to children as dentists are not readily available in remote areas.

BAGGAGE ON TREK

You are allowed 1 large duffel bag for your luggage whilst on trek. There will be muleteers employed to carry them so please keep the weight down to 15kg. Any excess luggage may be stored in the hotel and collected after the trek.

PASSPORT & VISAS

It is essential that your passport is valid for 6 months after your entry to Morocco. British citizens do not require a visa for entry to Morocco. For citizens of other countries please visit: <http://morocco.embassyhomepage.com/>

VACCINATIONS

There are no specific vaccinations required for entry into Morocco however we suggest that you are covered for; diphtheria, tetanus, measles, mumps, rubella, polio and Hepatitis B. Please consult your doctor for further information or visit: <http://www.netdoctor.co.uk/travel/africa/morocco.shtml> or <http://www.who.int/countries/mar/en/>

TRAVEL INSURANCE

This is compulsory and must cover repatriation to your own country, trekking activities and helicopter rescue in the mountains. You will be required to carry your insurance documents whilst trekking. We recommend www.thebmc.co.uk

CURRENCY & SPENDING MONEY

On the day of writing, the currency exchange rate was 13.16 dirhams (MAD) to £1 sterling. There are many bureaux and ATMs where you can exchange money or withdraw dirhams in Marrakech. ATMs generally take visa, cirrus and maestro. Payments made by Visa in shops and souks are readily accepted although often a surcharge is added. Travellers cheques may also be exchanged in banks and bureaux. It is best to bring US$ or £ in cash to exchange. Throughout the trek all meals are provided so you will only need enough spending money for souvenirs, soft and alcohol drinks and personal items. A budget of £200-300 spending money would be plenty for the whole trip. To give a rough idea in Marrakech; a bottle of coke cost 5 MAD a 1.5 litre bottle of water cost 10 MAD and a tagine in a local restaurant cost 30 MAD.

TIPPING

We make it our policy to pay our staff well. We believe that in paying our staff properly for their experience and qualifications, in return they will be willing to work to their best standard. Please tip your staff team at your own discretion. Donations of old equipment and clothing are always gratefully received.

RELIGION & RESPONSIBLE TOURISM

In Morocco today 99% of the population are Muslims. The other percent are Jewish or Christian. Please buy local produce as much as possible, talk to the locals, dress modestly in religious buildings and remote villages ie; long trousers and long sleeved tops for both men and women, never leave litter and ask first before taking photos. We endeavour to employ local staff and buy local produce as much as possible.

ELECTRICITY

240 volts, 2 round pin European plug. It is not possible to charge your electrical gear everyday on trek so please bring plenty of spare batteries.

Berber Treks

COMMUNICATIONS

Mobile phone reception is not available all the time trek, however 5 bars are possible in Marrakech. There are also many cybercafés with slow speed internet computers, wifi and internet phone for overseas calls.

TIME ZONE

During BST Morocco is 1 hour behind UK time. During GMT Morocco is on the same time as the UK.

MAP OF TREKKING REGIONS

Every effort has been made to ensure that the information on this fact file is correct in 'average conditions' however, we will not be held liable for any inaccuracies due to extreme circumstances.
