Dear Mr. Whinney,

Thank you for your letter concerning a proposed new Tyne River crossing at Low Prudhoe.

We have been informed by Northumberland County Council that any new bridge across the Tyne could cost in the region of £30 million and studies would need to be carried out to confirm that there would be no negative impact whatsoever from any new bridge on local villages such as Ovingham, Wylam, Bywell etc. However, if the Town Council could persuade Northumberland County Council to bring forward a proposal for review by the Department for Transport I would be more than happy to help facilitate that.

Yours sincerely
