- Impressive 360° recording: the innovative full radius meeting recorder captures everyone's ideas in excellent audio quality no matter where they are seated at the table
- The impressive built-in motion sensor detects the recorder when it is placed on a desk or held and selects the microphone sensitivity to suit the recording situation
- Spontaneously record important parts of a conversation: The pre-recording function allows you to record the last five seconds before you press the record key
- Capture your recordings in MP3. The popular file format allows you to play back your files virtually anywhere and simply share them with others
- The large colour display offers sharp images, making it easier to see and read everything at first glance. The clear user interface supports eight languages and is optimized for intuitive operation
