

Cromarty Medieval Burgh Community Archaeology Project

A community excavation will take place during the summer of 2013 (dates TBD) on the site of Reeds Field, located on the eastern edge of Cromarty by the town allotments. Please contact us at rossandcromarch@gmail.com or 01381 600726 if you are interested in digging.

Location of the erosions on the shoreline exposed by 2012 winter storms (Cromarty in background, Reeds Field to left)

Geophysical survey of Reeds Field, Cromarty – conducted by Rose Geophysics in April 2012 (Cromarty allotments in back right of photograph)

One of the erosions on the shoreline in front of Reeds Field; initial clean-back revealed layers of ash and midden material with pit-like features visible (centre left and right)

Section of walling visible in one shoreline erosion in front of Reeds Field