

Hello

Cross and Compton Bishop

If you are unable or worried to leave your home because of the coronavirus

We can help

We are a group of local residents who are working together to help our community during this extraordinary time. Please don't feel you are alone or cannot call someone to help run your errands, pick essential items up for you, anything else you might need. There is no charge for this help. Stronger communities are more resilient communities and we must look out for one another.
