

Set Sail Today for a Career at Sea

Merchant Navy Trainee Deck Officer - new entrant programme starting September in Peterhead

Clyde Marine Training is now recruiting talented and ambitious individuals - on behalf of top names in shipping - to join the prestigious Trainee Deck Officer programme, starting September 2019 at the Scottish Maritime Academy in Peterhead.

Adventurous lifestyle, exciting opportunities

To become a Deck Officer in the Merchant Navy you must undertake an officer cadet training programme. Deck Officers are vital members of the ship's management team responsible for vessel navigation and safety.

Training at College and at sea

The 3 year sponsored programme is a combination of College-based learning and sea time. A training allowance is provided to you throughout your training and all tuition costs are met by the sponsoring shipping company.

- Get paid whilst you study
- Learn at College and at sea
- Real responsibility at an early age
- Fantastic career opportunities, quick progression & salary to match

Entry Requirements

You must have at least 4 Standard Grades or 4 National 5 passes including English, Maths and a Science subject, and you will be required to pass a medical.
