Abraham, our Father in Faith

“Take your son, your only son Isaac, whom you love, and go to the land of Moriah. There you shall offer him as a burnt offering, on a mountain I will point out to you”.

This is the command God gives to Abraham in our first reading today – Abraham is asked by God to murder his own son. Is it possible that God would command a human being to kill another human being? Of course not, we have to see this story as a parable. Like all good parables, it gets us to think, question, and it leaves us disturbed and searching for answers. Abraham must have been very confused, sad and frightened. Yet Abraham also knew this was a call of God [God calls Abraham by name and Abraham responds “Here I am” – this is typical of a vocation story in the bible]. Abraham is the first person in the bible to be called by God, to all who follow he is “Our Father in Faith” and here his faith is put to the most severe of tests.

As we reflect on this passage of scripture, let us remember the times in life when our faith is put to the most severe and painful of tests: illness, worry, insecurity, pressure, prayers not answered, rules or expectations one struggles to accept or understand, feeling of God’s absence, this list could go on forever. We have all been where Abraham was – what God is asking, expecting, ignoring or revealing is just too much, unacceptable and could not be right. Abraham places his total trust in God, he has the faith to remain loyal and obey no matter what is asked. For this, God rewards him and rewards him more than he could ever have asked or expected. Abraham had to be willing to give up even his only son whom he loved so much in order to receive all that God wanted to give him. Our goals, ambitions, attachments, desires and wants also need to be purified and transformed, otherwise they become obstacles to God’s will in our lives. This process can be painful, confusing and demanding but it is the only road to true freedom and to the openness we need in order to receive the great gifts God wants to give us. The more we can let go of, the more we can receive from God – this story of Abraham demonstrates this so clearly for us.

To help us reflect on this I will finish by quoting some well-known lines from St John of the Cross:

To reach satisfaction in all, desire satisfaction in nothing.

To come to possess all, desire the possession of nothing.

To arrive at being all, desire to be nothing.

To come to the knowledge of all, desire the knowledge of nothing.

To come to enjoy what you have not, you must go by a way in which you enjoy not.

To come to the knowledge you have not, you must go by a way in which you know not.

To come to the possession you have not, you must go by a way in which you possess not.

To come to be what you are not, you must go by a way in which you are not.

Fr Matt Blake, Prior
