Year for Priests

Prayer of St Thérèse of Lisieux

O Jesus,

I pray for your faithful and fervent priests; for your unfaithful and tepid priests; for your priests labouring at home or abroad in distant mission fields; for your tempted priests; for your lonely and desolate priests; for your young priests; for your dying priests; for the souls of your priests in Purgatory.

But above all, I recommend to you the priests dearest to me; the priest who baptised me; the priests who absolved me from my sins; the priests at whose Masses I assisted and who gave me Your Body and Blood in Holy Communion; the priests who taught and instructed me; all the priests to whom I am indebted in any other way.

O Jesus, keep them all close to your heart, and bless them abundantly in time and in eternity. Amen

Parish Newsletter

Sunday 12 July 2009 – Fifteenth Sunday of the Year

The Mission of Jesus

Our Gospel today comes at a particularly difficult time for Jesus. We have just been told about his rejection by his own people and immediately after this extract we are told about the beheading of John the Baptist. Jesus is trying to get his mission off the ground and these are two major setbacks – rejection by the people he would naturally expect to be supportive and the terrible news that his cousin, who has been chosen to prepare the way for him, has been beheaded.

What does Jesus do? Rather than getting discouraged, Jesus decides to press ahead with his mission and move it forward to the next stage – the sending out of his disciples. The two important points being made about the mission of Jesus in this Gospel are:

1. In the face of opposition, setbacks and obstacles, the message must not be compromised, adapted or apologised for. The full message of the Gospel must be preached at all times and in all circumstances. The Gospel is a powerful message and no human forces can get in its way. The mission of Jesus [and later of the Church] goes forward in all times and circumstances. How the Gospel is presented and lived will vary and adapt to circumstances but its essential message remains the same. The message that Jesus asks his disciples to preach is exactly the same as what he preaches himself and they are asked to do the same work as he does. The work the Church does today and its message is exactly the same, though times, circumstances and methods have changed.

2. The disciples of Jesus are sent to bring the Good News to others. They must do so without any self-interest or any hope of personal gain. A disciple is at the service of Jesus and is totally dependent on the Holy Spirit. Again this is true for the Church in all times and circumstances. The building up of the Kingdom of God and the spreading of the Good News is not a human enterprise. No human forces can stop it. Likewise no human ingenuity, power or initiative can alter it, speed it up or improve it. It is a work of God, and his disciples are at its service.

'The Mystery of Faith' – Art Exhibition

For the past two thousand years the message of Jesus has been presented in many ways, one very important way is through art. For the next few months we are privileged to have in our Church an Exhibition of new or rarely seen religious paintings by Elizabeth Wang. For further information about Elizabeth's work, please see: www.radiantlight.org.uk So many people find Elizabeth's work a great inspiration to deepening their knowledge of the Gospel and as an aid to prayer. I look forward very much to having Elizabeth's work in our Church and I hope and pray it will be a source of grace and blessing for all who come here.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Elizabeth and her family for their generosity in making this Exhibition available to us.

Fr Matt

As a Catholic charity they rely solely on voluntary contributions to continue their mission.
