

ST. TUDY HISTORICAL SOCIETY

are delighted to open their doors again on

MONDAY 26th OCTOBER

Our guest speaker is

Samantha Barnes

Who has been invited to talk to us about

'The Cornish Buildings Group

50 years of campaigning for Cornish buildings old and new'

Village Hall doors open at 7pm and the meeting will begin at 7.30pm.

Numbers are restricted to a maximum of 30 under the current Coronavirus regulations in force and entrance will be on the 'first come, first served basis. We must wear face masks, sanitize on arrival and departure and ensure we maintain social distance in addition to adhering to the Covid-secure guidelines of the Village Hall.

There will be a contactless bar open after the meeting for refreshments and snacks.

As always, we look forward to welcoming new and existing members to our meetings and visitors are always welcome.

Anyone may attend any talks throughout the year although we ask a £3 entrance fee from our visitors.

Our annual subscription is just £10 and we welcome new members.
