

West of Scotland Boat Jumble

(FORMERLY THE SCOTTISH BOAT JUMBLE)

Following its successful launch last October, the organisers are pleased to announce that the event has moved to a larger venue for the Spring event on Sunday 4 May 2014.

“New” location

The event is moving to the Scottish Maritime Museum Wharf, on Irvine Harbourside beside the River Irvine. This is where the original Scottish Boat Jumble was held some 30 years ago.

Entry to the boat jumble will be £3.50, with accompanying children free.

Travelling to the venue is extremely easy. By road follow the signs to Irvine Harbourside and then the directions to the Boat Jumble. Free car parking is available within a few minutes walk, as is Irvine Railway Station and local bus services.

On site catering will be provided from a mobile unit and for those looking for a more relaxed break, Puffers Café will also be open.

Special offer

Half price entry to the Scottish Maritime Museum is offered to boat jumble customers on the day.

For those travelling from Northern Ireland, P&O ferries are offering specially arranged concession fares for both foot passengers and vehicles.
