1. He did not stand up on stage, as most lecturers do, so could not be seen by me and many others. The pictures were bunched onto a single screen and were therefore too small in our large hall.
2. The lecturer's delivery was very clear, easily audible and with a light amusing touch. I thought the topic was insubstantial, BUT have since realised that I have thought about the topics he brought to our notice several times since the lecture. Very enjoyable.
3. The information content was not the greasiest novelty to an audience who are very aware of the decline in the value of eg brown wood furniture. He was entertaining but the content /informative value of the lecture skimpy
4. Enjoyable and informative.
5. Always a pleasure to listen to.
6. perfection!
7. It would have been better if the lecturer had stood on the platform, so that we could all see him instead of craning round the head of the person in front.
8. A most informative & enjoyable lecture.
9. Fantastic Hope he will come back
10. Some of the images, where there were multiple pictures on one 'slide', were rather small so that I found it hard to see the detail.
11. Excellent speaker, very clear and slides very good quality
12. Did not attend.
13. I thought the visuals could be clearer, bit too many images to a page.

14. I would be happy to have Mark on the programme every year. He is a an outstanding speaker, speaking entirely without notes, and is able to establish a seemingly effortless rapport with his audience.
15. Impossible to fault this lecture

18. Enjoyable, informative and well presented. Would like to hear him again.
19. Excellent
20. I thought the group slides were very poor as you could not really see them, he needed to enlarge the main ones that he was referring to.
21. Great lecture. Minor thought; like many presentations could just slow down a bit - pause between sentences.
22. An informative and amusing lecture. Perfect.
23. Fabulous presentation with easy, relaxed & super confident manner.
24. The images were often 5 on the screen at same time, hard to see all five at the back
25. Very enjoyable and informative. Warmly presented lecture.
26. would have liked to see more images
27. Excellent & entertaining talk which struck a chord !
