

Visit of the Burrell Collection and Degas exhibition, 19th September, 2024

The Burrell Collection is hosting an international exhibition this summer on Degas, featuring its own substantial collection of the artist's works and some significant UK and international loans. There is already considerable interest in group bookings with Glasgow Museums, so we should confirm numbers as soon as possible to make a firm booking, and must know by the next meeting on 14th May at the latest if we can run the trip.

We are planning our visit on 19th September, leaving from the coach bays at the Helensburgh Leisure Centre at 9.30 am and returning there by 4 pm. This will allow over 4 hours to visit the exhibition and the collections with plenty of time for lunch at the museum.

The cost of £35 covers entrance to the exhibition, coach transport and driver's gratuity. It does not include lunch or other refreshments, but there is a large restaurant downstairs and a smaller snack bar near the former entrance.

Cheques should be made payable to 'The Arts Society Lomond & Argyll' and be sent to: Mrs Marion Maudsley, 4 Crawford Drive, Helensburgh G84 9DL.
