Alan Percy Election Disclaimer

I wish to thank all those who voted for me in the recent parish council elections.

Election leaflets were delivered to many residents by a group of candidates, seeming to suggest that I and others might not be independent or inclusive.

In reply, I am not a member of any political party, trade union, closed shop, or secret society, and unlike some of the leaflet authors, was not a close friend or family member of any other candidate at the time.

In the last 20 years, I have not socialised in any parish councillors home, have never made a planning application when a parish councillor, or allowed any such application on land or property I own. I also have no involvement in either of the two planning pre-applications that were being processed during the recent election period on land owned by one of the leaflet authors.

It is difficult to see how more independent and open I could be, my name, address, and contact details were on the parish council noticeboards and my register of interests is available on the parish council website. Hopefully, this statement will bring better balance and response to the statements made in the leaflets.

A Swan thought to be the UK's oldest, has died days after turning 30. Whooper Swans usually live to 20 but can survive 10 longer in captivity. The Swan named "Pickles" lived in Leeds Castle, Kent and regularly swam in the 12th century fortifications moat and large lake. Leeds Castle is home to more than a dozen captive bred Swans. Wildlife manager Mark Brattle said "Pickles was a massive character and will be missed by staff and visitors alike."

Springwatch host Lolo Williams has joined police in condemning jet ski idiots who are smashing through flocks of Puffins. Lolo who has seen the seabirds sent flying off the North Wales coast, is backing a police crackdown on the issue. Sgt Dewi Evans who is leading the probe said "Knowingly causing injury to our wildlife is a criminal offence."

The Liberty's Owl, Raptor and Reptile Centre in Ringwood, Hants, has lost a Golden Eagle, blown off course by high winds. 5 year-old "Gerry" was spooked by crows during a public display flight, disoriented in a maize field, then caught by gusts. Staff are struggling to find him as he chewed off a tracking device. The bird is 3ft tall with a 6ft wingspan and has huge yellow feet and a large beak. Hopefully when he gets hungry in 2 weeks, he will start showing himself, as he's probably just sat up a tree.

A wildlife habitat at an MOD military base in Cyprus is considering plans to allow casino developers to concrete over a nature reserve. The land is home to 300 bird varieties including Flamingos. A petition by Birdlife Cyprus to block the move has been launched.

In early August residents in Taunton, Somerset, were trying to catch a distressed duck that has had its beak taped shut by cruel thugs.

Brilliant Chough news, this year 23 breeding pairs have produced 66 chicks.

Having not been seen for a while Little Egrets are being seen in the Gannel Estuary again.

On the 7th August I heard a Tawny Owl calling. The male calls to proclaim his territory and during courtship in late Winter and again in Autumn. The call is the familiar hoot "Hooo-hoo-hooo." The more familiar Barn Owl's call is a piercing shriek.

A Crow hit the windscreen of an air ambulance, forcing the pilot to make an emergency landing. This happened above Carsington Water in the Peak District as the helicopter was returning from a mission. The screen was not designed to withstand bird strikes. The Crow entered the cockpit, an air accident report reveals. Amendments are now being considered.

Walking around the Kelseys on 18th August, there was a lack of birdlife, only the odd Kestrel and a few Herring Gulls. The Fulmars have left their rocky cliff after breeding and have flown out to sea, but by October many will return to their breeding ledges.

The BALE PUSH 2021 starts rolling on Friday 10th September 5pm
 ROLLING ON FOR 21 YEARS

With the harvesting now completed the round and square bales are ready to be wrapped for the Bale Man construction team to begin their work! Remember to look out for him at the Crantock turn off sometime at the beginning of September.

This year we celebrate 21 years of pushing and invite to join us for an evening of fun. To date our event has raised over £117,000—all of which we donate to Cornish organisations and charities,

We have already put our collection boxes in a number of locations in Crantock, Cubert and Holywell so if you see one pop a few pennies in - any little amount it all helps, and of course all the profits from our event go towards supporting people who live in Cornwall.

This year we are supporting:

- ⇒ Young Lives vs Cancer [CLIC Sargent]
- ⇒ Parkinson's UK [Cornwall]

Plus our usual local organisations too!

We thank you in advance for your support and tolerance on the 10th - please be aware that we will be setting up on Thursday and Friday and taking it all down again on the Saturday. Access to Langurroc Road will be affected all day on the Friday and of course Beach Road and Poor House Lane will have bales thundering down it from about 7pm on Friday. Residents who usually park their cars in these areas are advised not to leave their vehicles exposed in those areas!

We advise that unattended children and animals could get squashed so please ensure that children are kept under control at all times!! The marshals are there to advise spectators when the bales are on the course.

Our Bale Push Mag will be delivered to your home very shortly.

We look forward to seeing you on the 10th September from 5pm, for an evening of Crantock fun!!

We would welcome volunteers to help us on Friday and Saturday.

We will have our usual stalls, entertainment from Andy Marshall during the event, nice grub, coffee and homemade cakes, and look forward to seeing lots of happy faces!

WI BOOK GROUP REVIEW

Title : THE SUMMER OF '69

Author : ELIN HILDERBRAND

ISBN : 978-1529374766

This novelist is an American romance writer with over 20 novels many of which are set on Nantucket Island where she lives. She has three children and describes herself as a 'grateful seven year breast cancer survivor'. The book choice, her first described as historical fiction, was made purely from a review and it was thought a trip down Memory Lane back to the sixties and a visit to Nantucket Island and Martha's Vineyard would make for some light relief from all things pandemic and UK political. And it was ...

"Every year the Levin children have looked forward to spending the summer at their grandmother's historic island home, but this year it's not to be. Blair, the oldest sister, is marooned in Boston, pregnant with twins and unable to travel. Middle sister Kirby is caught up in the thrilling vortex of civil rights protests with her friend Mary Jo Kopechne. And Tiger, the only son, has just been deployed to Vietnam. Thirteen year old Jessie, the youngest of them all, suddenly feels like an only child, marooned in the house with her out of touch grandmother – who is hiding secrets of her own ..."

This was described by the majority of the group as an easy, relaxing summer read and her style of writing was praised. The family members were well characterised as was the local area and the atmosphere of the island came across. There is a lot going on - alcoholism, unwanted pregnancy, husband with psychiatric problems, teenage angst, controlling and conservative Grandmother, military, suicide and racism and more.

it triggered and brought good memories of 60's music, fashion and foods which developed into a lot of reminiscing between the readers! Some readers felt it a bit predictable and not very challenging and others felt the absence of a defined plot or story but overall it was described as 'enjoyable' and determined good enough to be recommended.

Prickles and Paws Hedgehog Rescue

Cubert, Cornwall

Greetings one and all!

Just as the village and Cornwall are full to bursting, so is our Hogspital. July saw us admit 189 hedgehogs, many of them hoglets, taking our total admissions this year (at the time of writing) to over 650, a number we didn't reach until the end of September last year. Why the dramatic increase? Several other rescues have sadly had to close their doors meaning that we are taking in hedgehogs from all over the county. So far we haven't had to turn any hedgehogs away, despite being well over our ideal "capacity" of 80 patients, and we sincerely hope we will never have to.

You can help us in many ways, donations are always gratefully received, check out our website to register to be a release site, the Amazon wishlist is always growing and of course by following our Helping Hedgehogs advice you can support these wonderful creatures in your own garden!

In September we will be going "back to school" ourselves as we restart our educational talks, which are delivered via Zoom or Teams. These 30 to 40 minute virtual tour and talks have been really popular and provide a behind the scenes look at our Hogspital as well as lots of Hedgehog facts and gardening tips.

If you are interested in one of these, please email Talks@pricklesandpaws.org.

CUBERT METHODIST CHURCH

What an incredibly busy Summer it has been in our local community, with more people visiting Cornwall than I can ever remember before. Worship in the Methodist building continues to be uplifting and spiritually nourishing as we meet together every Sunday Morning at 10:30. Services are led by both ourselves (what we call 'Church Fellowship' services) as well as some of our local preachers. Following our time of worship, we have time to sit and chat with a cup of tea or coffee. We have also recently started running Saturday morning table top sales and coffee mornings which has been a wonderful opportunity to get people together again after such a long period of time not being able to do these kind of things. As a church, we want to reach out to our community and bring people together with the message that God loves you no matter what! Please feel free to join us on a Sunday morning or any other event that we might run such as our coffee morning.

September Table top and coffee morning:

Saturday 18th September from 10:00

for details about our table top sale if you wish to be involved, please call John on: 07791 939265

September services as follows:

5th September – Church Fellowship

12th September – Rev. Clare Anderson (communion)

19th September – Church Fellowship

26th September – Mick Roberts

The year progresses and it has been wonderful that we have been able to establish and maintain at least monthly contact.

Our final activity in July was a charity fund raiser for 'Cornwall Air Ambulance' and 'Prickles and Paws' held in the centre of the village. The weather couldn't have been better and our flower decked tables under the trees, gazebo and bunting looked an inviting place to eat. Many people did just that and we sold all our cream teas in under 2 hours. With customers still queuing up we were able to raid the cake stall and offer tea and cake at a very reasonable price. The cake stall, always popular, did very well and the raffle did too with its hamper full of Cornish goodies the star prize. Although we are no longer part of the WI project Operation Hedgehog, we thought it would be a good idea to sell the hedgehog themed items to raise funds for Prickles and Paws. £40 was raised. For Cornwall Air Ambulance, I'm pleased to say £600 plus almost £50 in the buckets was raised. Treasurer Sue Stevens and I presented a cheque to Cornwall Air Ambulance. (see next page for photos)

There is no Members meeting in August but we were still able to get together at the Summer Lunch hosted by our Treasurer Sue Stevens. We were certainly blessed with the weather which brought out the best in Sue's beautiful garden. Tables nestled in corners and elevated areas, surrounded by the most wonderful flowers. It was clear that a lot of work had gone on behind the scenes to create this scene. Like a well oiled machine, Sue Fern and her team ensured all the food was beautifully prepared and that everyone had a glass of cheer as they arrived. We all brought a dish, proving that, if we didn't already know it, the ladies of Crantock WI sure know how to cook! This was the last of our summer events and looking back I think we should be very pleased with ourselves. We have enjoyed some glorious sunshine, beautiful surroundings and raised funds for good causes while having a thoroughly enjoyable time.

Book group also had a break in August after reviewing Summer of 69 by Elin Hilderbrand. The general consensus was; a light enjoyable read that included every possible situation a family could face at the time the book was based. Our September book is Strays of Paris by Jane Smiley

The second Clay Poppy group was held in July and once again participants enjoyed the therapeutic effect of moulding clay. We have now made over 50 poppies and I hope those who have attended groups will continue at home. There will be one more session on Monday September 13th (2 places left) before all getting together to paint the poppies and fix on the stems on Wednesday 22nd September in the Methodist Chapel. We hope the display, along with the knitted poppies, will look spectacular in November.

The September competition will be a tray garden, real or artificial and should be brought to the September meeting on the 14th. Our speaker will be Kerry England who will talk about Volunteer Cornwall and the Stroke Befriending Service.

We are always happy to welcome new members. If you would like to find out more about us, come along to the village hall at 2.00pm on the 14th September where you will be given a warm welcome.

Have a lovely Summer.

POPPY APPEAL VACANCY

After 20 years, it is time for me to hand over the local Royal British Legion poppy appeal duties for Cubert and St Newlyn East.

The duty consists of supplying 20+ poppy boxes to schools, shops, and pubs, as well as arranging wreaths for the two memorials.

The actual work takes up four single days (make up boxes, deliver, collect, and bank donations), all in October/November.

It is rewarding voluntary work, just requiring availability on two specific days in October and November (deliver & pick up days).

Happy to provide instruction and help, there is a simple vetting procedure involved.

Making the most of short and precious lives across the South West
Registered Charity No. 1003354

CHSW Moonlight Memory Walk will be returning to Falmouth on 2 October, and there will also be a virtual option for those to take part wherever they live. The Moonlight Memory Walk is a 5 mile evening sponsored walk held annually in Falmouth which has raised almost £300,000 for the children's hospice charity since 2009.

For those not able to make it to Falmouth on the evening the charity is still offering a virtual alternative where supporters can do their own sponsored memory walk and will have access to watch a live stream of the memory ceremony online. This year's event is kindly being sponsored by National Friendly. Kiley Pearce, Events Fundraiser for CHSW said "We have made many tweaks to the event in Falmouth to ensure it is covid-safe for our walkers, staff and event volunteers and we look forward to people joining the virtual event from across the county and region." It costs just £10 to sign up for the walk if you would like to take part in Falmouth (limited places available). If you would prefer to take part virtually and plan your own route and distance this option is free however registering is still encouraged as you will receive items for your walk and the memory ceremony through the post.

To register for the event simply visit www.chsw.org.uk/moonlight

PRESENT: Cllrs. S. Bell, Cllrs. D. Hopkinson, W.C. Longden W. Caff, T. Hulbert, M. Smith, R.L.B. Spencer & Cornwall Councillor Adrian Dennis Harvey the Clerk: D. Hawken, and 1 member of the public.

APOLOGIES: Cllr. G. Rowe. Police Report – None.

Before the meeting opened: Alan Percy addressed the Parish Council meeting about his concerns regarding PA21/00704 Outline Application for up to 225 residential dwellings including access (all other matters reserved) – Land South Of A392 Opposite Supermarket Trevemper Newquay Cornwall.

OPENING: The Meeting was opened at 7.06 pm, by the Vice Chairman Cllr. R.L.B. Spencer

MATTERS ARISING FROM THE MINUTES OF 21st July 2021:

The Clerk reported success in resolving the issue of the dropped kerbs in Churchfields. All are now in place.

PLANNING: Decisions made by Cornwall Council: None

Applications:

PA21/05768 Conversion of an existing barn to a single bedroom annexe adjacent to the principal residence – Little Carines Cubert Newquay Cornwall TR8 5ET for Mr and Mrs Barritt - Resolved to support the application on the understanding that a condition is put in place to limit the use of the annex to family, friends and non-paying guests.

PA21/04005 Demolition of existing dwelling and outbuildings and construction of two new two storey dwellings - Homeslink Wesley Road Cubert TR8 5HB for Mr Radbourne - Resolved to raise no objection to the application.

PA21/03165 New Dwelling - 1 Park Allen, Curlew Cottage Lewannick Road Cubert TR8 5HL for – Mrs. Roberts. Resolved to Object on the grounds of over development of the site and the site is not within the settlement boundary. The subdivision of the existing plot to accommodate two dwellings would result in an unacceptable reduction in private outside space to both dwellings resulting in constricted form of development. Secondly the proposal is not 'rounding off' or 'infilling'. Visual Impact: The proposal would result in excessive massing of buildings in a semi-rural location.

PA21/07329 Proposed conservatory. - The Barns Trevemper Newquay Cornwall TR8 5JR for Mr & Mrs. Green Resolved to Support the application.

PA21/00704 Outline Application for up to 225 residential dwellings including access (all other matters reserved) – Land South Of A392 Opposite Supermarket Trevemper Newquay Cornwall – It was decided to discuss this at the next regular meeting. CORNISH LANGUAGE SIGNAGE INSTALLED AT THE BOWGIE

We're delighted to finally have our new signage installed around The Bowgie! Our new signs feel like the perfect finishing touch to our refurbishment, which was finished in 2020. After all the building work, and the big changes to the building itself, having these last few finishing touches in place is 'splann'-splendid!

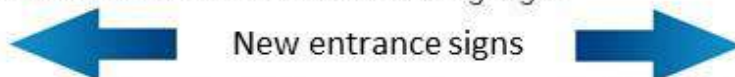

The idea of adding Cornish words to our signs sprung from our love of Cornwall and our Cornish heritage. The word 'bowgie' itself is Cornish for 'cow shed', and the building has been part of the landscape here at West Penitire since the 17th Century, only being transformed into an inn in the 1950s. We felt having a few Cornish words around the pub would be a great way to celebrate this history as well as our beautiful county.

So - you'll be able to spot some Cornish words featuring on a few of our signs around the venue. The most noticeable is right in the entrance way, where we've got our huge Bowgie logo displayed on a big white wall with the words "Dydh da - Hello" written underneath. It's certainly hard to miss! We've also used the language on our outside signs either side of the entrance as you first walk up to the pub: "Welcome - Dydh da," "Cheers - Yeghes da!" and "Thank you - Meur ras."

In a happy accident, the installation of the signs coincided with Speak Cornish Week back in June. Even though we hadn't planned for it to fall in line with this event, we were so pleased it did - it gave us even more reason to celebrate!

Speak Cornish aims to make the language accessible to all, and increase the use of Cornish in community life. We feel their work is so incredibly important for keeping the Cornish heritage alive, so if our signage goes some small way to contributing to that, we'll be over the moon! It was so lovely to hear them commend us on our signage:

"We're so delighted to see the splann Cornish language signage at The Bowgie Inn. Support for the language from businesses such as this helps to get Cornish spoken. Yeghes da onan hag oll!" - Gemma Goodman, Speak Cornish.

The new signs were designed by Idenna Creative, who worked alongside Graphique Media Solutions (GMS) to produce and install them. In addition to our signage in the entrance way and outside the entrance, we've also got new signs for the car park, toilet facilities, fire exits, board room and no-entry points - so no one will get lost on their way to the loo!

We're so thrilled with how they've all turned out, and think they create a really welcoming atmosphere as soon as you walk in which we hope all of our customers will feel and enjoy.

Why not come and see for yourself?

'A'gas gweles yn skon' - see you soon! Team Bowgie xxx

The international conference on Climate Change, due to take place in Glasgow in November, known as COP26, will have a greater urgency than expected since the publication at the beginning of August of the first chapter of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change's report on its assessment of climate change. Following the release of this first part, the UN has declared once more that the world is now hastening towards crisis, and it might even be too late to turn the tide, with global emissions still not reducing enough to meet the target of 1.5C temperature rise by 2050. It is now widely accepted that the world will have already warmed by that amount by 2040, and is warming at a faster rate than was originally predicted. Daily news of wildfires and floods are demonstrating to the rest of the world just how extreme the effects of global warming are. The recent fires in Greece have prompted the Greek Prime Minister to say " If there are even a few people who have reservations about whether climate change is real , I call upon them to come here and see the intensity of the phenomena." Greece has appointed an 'officer of heat' for Athens, who has suggested that the city may become uninhabitable if temperatures remain so high in the summer months and nothing is done to make the city more heat resilient. In other parts of the world rising sea levels have meant whole islands and swathes of coastal land have been lost, and with this of course the loss of people's homes and communities. The recent floods in Germany and Belgium have brought home the message that the world must work together to face this challenge, so that huge changes can take place to begin the process of recovery. Ending the massive use of fossil fuels would be a major step, and yet our own government is unable to make a decision about calling a halt to a new coal field development in the North East, and to the proposed drilling for oil and gas off the coast of the Shetland Islands.

Reducing carbon emissions and improving resilience is even more difficult for developing countries who are often burdened with huge historic debt payments, but the World Bank Group's new Climate Change Action Plan is attempting to deliver record levels of climate finance to countries most in need of support. Priority areas for spending include renewable energy, agriculture, food, water and land, cities, transport and manufacturing. The Group delivered $83 billion of climate finance in its previous five-year action plan and hopes to increase this considerably over the next five years.

In the natural world, good news from Indonesia, which holds one third of the world's tropical rainforests. Under a new government, established in 2014, land-use reforms and a logging control system have seen four consecutive years of decline in deforestation. This culminated in 2020 when the country had its lowest forest loss with a 75% drop year on year. Sadly, deforestation in the Amazon Basin now means that the forest is beginning to emit more carbon than it absorbs with countries like Brazil doing very little to address the problem. The crucial importance of trees in regulating climate is now becoming better known, and loss of coastal forest means that areas further inland will suffer drought and erosion. Trees also help to regulate water supplies and prevent flooding, as well as absorbing CO2, so protecting forests both great and small is an essential part of tackling climate change and making our communities more resilient, as well as sustaining habitats of rare and beneficial animal and plant species.

Finally, a study from America has found that plants living in the shade of solar panels are more abundant and later flowering, attracting many different pollinators. Land under solar panels is normally managed to reduce the amount of growth, but since this study it is now clear that the land could be of use both for nature conservation and agriculture, making that kind of renewable energy even more beneficial.

Let's hope there will be more and more desire to make changes in our lives which will lead us into a greater appreciation of the importance of the living world and the need to treasure and protect the wealth of 'natural capital' that is still around us. Wendy

GIFT TO THE VILLAGE HALL COMMITTEE

2nd December 2020

This picture of the "Wishing Well In Cubert Village Square", painted by the Newquay artist William Brereton, has been gifted to the Village Hall Committee by Theresa Malin, a long time resident of Cubert who ran "The Well Gift Shop" (now the Baker's Dozen) with her husband Peter, for many years.

They have now moved away from Cubert, but she felt the picture should remain within our Parish.

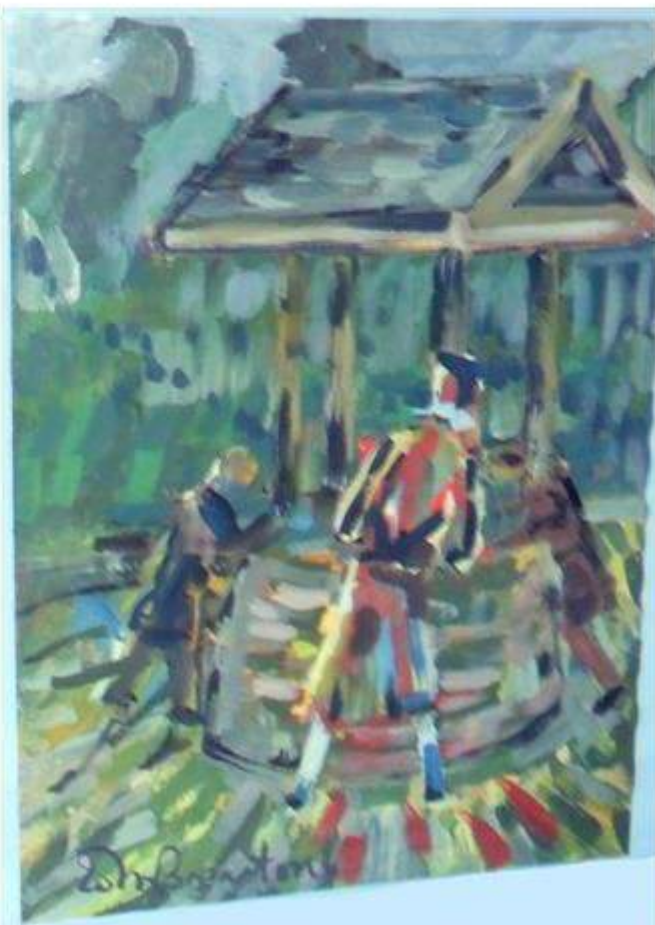

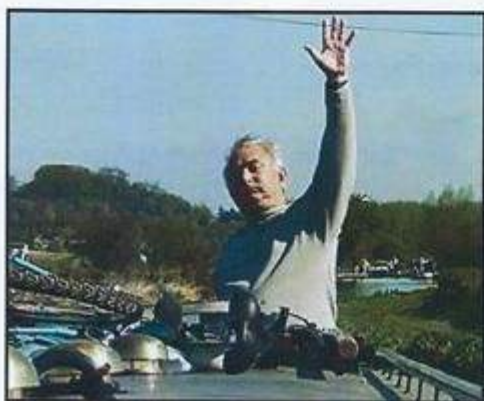

Many thanks go to her for her generosity.

Deborah Hopkinson, Village Hall Secretary

William Brereton, much loved Newquay artist, poet, sculpture and musician.

William Brereton, much-loved Newquay artist, poet, sculpture and musician. Bill died too young of a heart attack in 2007, having recently returned from "my first holiday for a very very long time". We hired a canal boat on the Trent and Mersey Canal and he sat in the prow painting, delighted when we broke down as "the scenery stood still".
