Thank you so much for all your messages of support since I took on the newsletter. It's been a bit of a learning curve, but I hope I'm getting there now and I'm gradually getting to know who's who in the parish. It was great to meet so many people at the St. Piran's Day celebrations in the Treguth and it was such a fun evening. I'd like to put a call in for some veggie pasties next time though!

I'd like to offer a sincere apology to all the email recipients of the newsletter for the problems I've had with sending it out since January. I hope I've now got everything sorted and set up so that it goes out smoothly from now on.

Do check out the details of the Coronation Celebrations on page 5. If it's too small in the printed edition, please check out the details on our website. There will be a larger print version next month in time for the big event.

Happy April, Jenny

CUBERT

A NEW ADVENTURE IN EXISTENCE

Taken from UCB daily readings

When Charles Lindbergh, the first person to fly solo across the Atlantic, was dying of cancer, he wrote these words to be read at his burial service: 'We commit the body of Charles A. Lindbergh to its final resting place; but his spirit we commend to Almighty God, knowing that death is but a new adventure in existence and remembering how Jesus said upon the cross, "Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit." Death is just 'a new adventure in existence', so there is no need to dread it or ignore it. Because of Christ, you can face it with joy and confidence. Furthermore, His resurrection guarantees yours.

One day when St. Francis of Assisi was hoeing his garden, a man asked him what he would do if he suddenly learned he was to die at sunset that day. He said, 'I would finish hoeing my garden.' Here was a man who was ready to die, and without fear of death, he was ready to maximise every moment of life. That's how you need to live too!

CUBERT VILLAGE HALL MARCH REPORT

More Info On Website : spanglefish.com/cubertvillagehall

Committee Meeting Held 7th March

ANNUAL ACCOUNTS – WHERE ARE THEY ?

The Charity Commission made a mistake on their system when they should have changed our year end to 31st March. Until it has been corrected their end, we cannot upload our accounts onto their system, unfortunately.

We have been chasing for this to be corrected since last November but they are working through a huge backlog apparently.

However, if you look on our own CVH website the information is there and we can only apologise as it looks as if we haven't been submitting the details to the Charity commission – we have.

I do hope you can understand our predicament and feel able to support us again this year.

Any questions – please ring Judy 830150

?? THANK YOU CHCC AND THE QUIZZERS – 18/3/23 ??

CRANTOCK W.I. BOOK REVIEW

The book club choice for February was The Midnight Library by Matt Haig

Matt Haig is an English author who has written books for both adults and children. He has suffered from depression and anxiety and that influences his writing.

The story is about Nora, who is a very sad character. Different things have gone wrong in her life and the final straw for her was her cat being run over, so she decided to take her life.

This is where the Midnight Library comes in. She meets Mrs Elm who was the school librarian and had been very kind to her. Mrs Elm then asks her to pick books from the library of her life that show how her life would have worked out if she had made different decisions along the way. It starts with the book of regrets.

We were unable to meet to discuss this book but from peoples reviews of it they mostly quite liked it. Some found it a bit repetitive and slow at times. It made us think that every decision we make in life has an impact on what happens next and how one made differently may alter the rest of your life. An interesting concept and an enjoyable read, although not particularly memorable.

The March meeting was opened and chaired by Gail Wilson who is standing in as President while Linda Hallwood is on holiday. It was lovely to have three guests join the meeting and we hope that they return in the future.

After a short business section we welcomed our guest speaker – or in this case ‘singer’ – Tracey Bailey, the musical director of ‘Acapella Sound’ and organiser of regular singing groups at Ladock Village Hall.

Everyone had a wonderful hour as this excellent teacher taught us how to stand, breathe and sing!

After warm-up exercises we progressed to short pieces and some ‘rounds’ – Crantock has rarely heard such superb singing!!

After tea, some awards were presented. Maggie Billing won the month’s egg decorating competition. Juliette Weller was the overall winner of the many competitions held over the past twelve months and was presented with a trophy by the acting President.

A raffle and the presentation of birthday posies and a raffle brought the meeting to a successful conclusion.

We are very proud of a group of year 5 pupils who asked if they could raise money for Syria and Turkey following the devastating earthquake. They spent their break and lunchtimes collecting money and giving out stickers around school and raised £78.00. This was sent on to the Cornish charity Shelterbox to provide much needed support for the people affected. Well done to you all.

It was lovely to welcome back to school an ex teacher and now children's author for World Book Day. Claire Bond talked to our younger children about her stories and led writing workshops. Another former member of staff, Mrs Augarde Thomas, brought her Usborne Book Fair to the hall which was very well supported.

Earlier on this term, 3 teams from Cubert took part in an Under 8s hockey festival at Penzance. Each team suffered some losses, had a few draws and at least one win and all played with fantastic spirit and enthusiasm. A big thank you to the ladies from Newquay Hockey Club for running the after school club and organising the entry to the festival.

Our Year 3 and 4 children are busy rehearsing their production of The Jungle Book ready for performing to parents and carers. This is a really good opportunity for children to showcase their singing and speaking skills and they certainly seem to be enjoying themselves. I'm sure it will be a great success.

Have a happy Easter from all at Cubert school.

The National Trust has reviewed last year's sightings by rangers and volunteers. Orford Ness in Suffolk had a bumper year, recording 51 pairs of at-risk Redshanks (the highest number of pairs since recording began in 2005), as well as their highest numbers of breeding pairs of Lapwings and Avocets. The Trust contributes to the State of Nature report which uses wildlife data from a group of fifty conservation organisations. One ranger says that, during his lifetime, House Sparrows have declined by 60%. On the Northumberland coast, the rangers saw the seabirds on the Farne Islands in particular struggle because of the effects of avian flu. On the plus side, Little Terns had a good breeding season as branches were laid down where the birds nest and which trapped sand and helped raise the nests above the high tides. Volunteers have built shelters to protect rare Tern chicks from Kestrels and Falcons on Gronant Beach, Denbighshire.

Five roles are being offered by the UK Antarctic Heritage Trust to count Gentoo Penguins in Port Lockroy on Goudier Island, Antarctica. The positions are being offered on the 80th anniversary of its base on the island. Duties will include daily counts of the island's approximately 1,000 Penguins.

Avian flu measures being taken at Newquay Zoo have seen the Peacocks restricted in an enclosure, the walk-through aviary closed and the Penguin enclosure completely netted over to stop mainly gulls from coming. This, I think, is a good move anyway, as gulls have always been a nuisance. Living Coasts at Torquay has always had its Penguin enclosure completely netted over. Lateral flow tests are in line for a comeback if health experts see bird flu has spread from one person to another. The instant tests provide rapid information about the threat of the disease, although experts say that H5N1 virus does not usually pass on to people and the risk remains low.

Scotland Yard's Wildlife Crime Unit is hunting someone who blasted a Red Kite (protected species) with a shotgun. The bird, with pellets in its neck and body, crash landed on tourists in Greenwich Park, South-east London. RSPCA officer Rodney Kenny said, "Miraculously the pellets missed vital organs and the bird is recovering well. Once rehabilitated he can hopefully be released back into the wild."

Flamingos make friends and hang out with like-minded pink pals in the same flock. Exeter scientists found.
