

Good Love

By Margaret Alicia (Farrell) (Cabey) Gage-Forrester 2012

Love knows no boundary, just honesty,
God himself operates in love, in other words charity,
Love is continual, not partial, not circumstantial,
Sin on the other hand, a habit of it, is daringly perpetual,
Sometimes love can be a right challenge,
True love a sacrifice never out of vantage,
So be just, be positive, not high minded,
Not provoking, not lying, but be constructively guided,
Patiently pause to calculate your every responses,
Have non-submissions to evil advances,
Don't go around hating your brother,
You'll be then called a murderer,
Grow in love, let no evil penetrate,
Ward off the evil sufferings and pain as you supplicate,
Praying that insensitivity, unappreciative brutish behaviour obliterate,
While consciously wholeheartedly seek to communicate.

Good Love shows up when you seek to be genuine,
So let the joys of love automatically kick-in,
Grab there principles to manufacture in you good Love,
Agape love, storge love, philos love, eros love,
Demonstrations of love sometimes make you look weak,
Let your attitude, actions, motives speak, just be meek,
When God love, family love, friendship love, romantic love, strong,
Anger, falsehood, furiousity gone, hands made strong all day long,
Your heart feels another's pain, travailing for gain,
Your brain triggers right than wrong, again and again,
It won't be a shore to lend a helping hand,
You'll be motivated even without someone's command,
No opportunity to say, 'once bitten twice shy',
Your discerning heart hears the cry and will not deny,
Your brain switch on flowing words tapered in love,
Shows a heart who knows good value and the greatest which is Love.
