

Names	Information
Robert Adam (1728–1792)	architect who designed Paxton House , near Berwick-upon-Tweed (modernised), Wedderburn Castle , Duns , Berwickshire (1770–1778), Mellerstain House , Kelso , Scottish Borders (1760–1768),
John Adam (1721–1792) designed ...	Gunsgreen House 1752, Paxton House 1758
Walter Anderson (1756-1803)	Minister in Chirnside; published on classics, history of France, philosophy of ancient Greece etc
John Armstrong (1709-1779)	Physician and essayist from Roxburghshire
Lady Grisell Baillie (1665-1746)	Polwarth, song-writer and Covenanter; daughter of Sir Patrick Hume
Rev. Thomas Boston (1676-1732)	Born in Duns. Minister in Chirnside and Simprim pious author
John Broadwood (1732-1812)	Pianos; born in Cocksburnpath
Dr John Brown (1735-1788)	Physician; went to school in Duns; wrote against William Cullen
James Brunlees (1816-1892)	Civil engineer and railways, from Kelso
Patrick Brydone FRS (1736-1818)	Traveller, Lennel buried there; son in law of William Robertson; son of minister of Coldingham; mother was half-sister of Matthew Dysart
Rev. Robert Brydone	Father of Patrick Brydone, held the living in Coldingham
Alan Archibald Campbell-Swinton (1863 – 1930)	of Kimmerghame who experimented with X-rays
Samuel Cockburn (1823-1915)	From Duns, homeopathy
Cadwallader Colden (1688-1766)	born in Ireland, Cadwallader Colden was the son of Alexander Colden (minister of Duns Parish Church from 1693 to 1700) physician, natural scientist, and a lieutenant governor for the Province of New York.
James Coutts (1737-)	Banker. MP of Hampton and Whitsome Hill
Reverend Adam Dickson (1721–1776),	Minister of Duns 1750-1769 wrote on agricultural reform
Thomas Dickson (1822-1884)	From Lauder, steam engines)
Alexander Dow (1736-1779)	Historian of India; worked at Gunsgreen House; uncle and cousins lived in Eyemouth
Matthew Dysart (1731-1773)	Minister in Eccles and his wife Jean was a relative of David Hume
Ebenezer Erskine (1680-1754)	Born Dryborough, Roxburghshire, Secession Church founder
Robert Fortune (1812-1888)	From Kelloe and Duns, RBGE, introduced tea from China to India
Rev. James Gray (1772-1835)	From Duns; biographer
William Hall of Whitehall (died circa 1749)	From Chirnside, was one of the Principal Clerks of the Court of Session.

James Hargrave (1798-1865)	From Hawick, went to Canada
Reverend John Hastie	Minister of Edrom, diarist from 1797-1822
Robert Hay (1799–1863)	Traveller, antiquarian, artist and early Egyptologist. He was born in Duns Castle,
Dr George Henderson (1800-1864)	of Chirnside, physician and author of works on nature
Robert Henry	Minister in Berwick in 1769; went on to Edinburgh; historian and author
Henry Home, Lord Kames (1696 – 27 December 1782)	Owned Kames House, between Eccles and Birgham; Scottish philosopher and agricultural improver Son of George Home of Kames, metaphysicist; became Lord Kames
Professor Francis Home (1719-1813)	Son of James Home of Eccles, physician, scientist and agriculturalist
David Hume (1711-1776)	Philosopher, Ninewells Chirnside
Reverend John Hume (1722–1808)	Minister of Green law and laird of Abbey St Bathans; playwright who wrote the famous controversial play Douglas
David, later Baron Hume,	the noted Scottish jurist was baptised 1757 at Chirnside
Patrick Hume, 1st Earl of Marchmont. (c.1550–1609)	court poet ( makar )
Hugh Hume-Campbell, 3rd Earl of Marchmont FRS (1708–1794)	Marchmont House between Duns and Greenlaw in Polwarth; had a large library
John Kelso Hunter (1802-1873)	Portrait painter, from Chirnside
James Hutton (1726-1797),	Geologist, Sighthouses
Alexander Jeffrey (1806-1884)	Historian of Roxburgh, born in Eccles
George Johnston (1797-1855)	Zoologist, Naturalist and leading taxonomist, born Simprim
John Ker, 3rd Duke of Roxburghe KG, KT, PC (1740–1804)	was a Scottish nobleman and bibliophile
John Ker, Earl of Roxburghe (1680–1741)	Floors castle, Kelso built in the 1720s by the architect William Adam for John, Earl of Roxburghe (1680–1741)
George Logan (1678-17550)	Minister in Lauder, Sprouston and Dunbar; voluminous author wrote on government
Rev. Thomas McCrie (1772-1835)	a Scottish historian, writer, and preacher born in Duns
John Millar (1733-1805)	Medical enlightenment; served in Kelso before going to London
Mungo Park (1771–1806)	West African explorer, born Foulshiels on the Yarrow Water, near Selkirk; his brother in law was brother-in-law, James Dickson, 1738–1822) was a Scottish nurseryman in London who was born near Traquair
Reverend John Gibson Paton (1824-1807)	Coldstream; missionary in New Hebrides, South Pacific
Sir John Pirie (1781-1851)	From Duns; a British shipbroker and Lord Mayor of London.
Francis Pringle (1680-1752)	Of Stichill became Professor of Greek in St Andrews

Sir John Pringle (1707-1782)	Physician, Medical research; brother of Sir Robert Pringle
Sir Robert Pringle 1690-1779	Agricultural reformer. Stichill
Andrew Pringle d.1776	Son of John Pringle. Solicitor-General
Bulent Rauf (1911–1987)	a Turkish-British mystic. Istanbul 1911 – d. Chisholme House, Robertson,
Revd George Redpath (1717-1772)	Stichill, diarist and friend of many Enlightenment figures
Revd Philip Redpath (1721–1788),	Hutton, classical scholar and translator of Boethius
John Redpath (1796-1869)	From Earlston, canal builder in Canada
Principal William Robertson (1721 –1793)	His elder daughter lived in Lennel House
Sir Walter Scott	Eyemouth Masonic lodge and Abbotsford of course
Henry Scott (1746–1812), third Duke of Buccleuch	Kelso, agricultural reformer esp. from 1767 and friend of Adam Smith
John Duns Scotus (1266-1308)	Theologian and philosopher
James Smail (1740-1793)	From Upsetlington near Ladykirk, agricultural reformer and inventor of a plough
Andrew Smith (1797-1872)	South African natural history; from Hawick
Thomas Somerville (1741–1830)	Minister in Jedburgh, historian. friend of Sir Walter Scott and uncle of Mary Somerville (1780–1872) born in Jedburgh, a Scottish science writer and polymath
John Stevenson LLD 1695-1775)	Professor of Logic and Rhetoric at Edinburgh; his brother lived at Home Byres, Stichill
James Thomson (1700–1748)	Poet from Ednam in Roxburghshire
James Watson (1780-1868)	diarist from Duns
Andrew Wilson (1718-1792)	Son of Gabriel Wilson, minister of Maxton. physician, Hutchesonian philosopher and author
William Yellowlees (1796-1856)	From Mellerstain, portrait painter