

Taiwan Voyager Fleet Takes to the Water

A new fleet, the Taiwan Voyager Fleet, the first fleet in Taiwan and, in fact, the first in the Republic of China, was to be chartered in April, but due to the coronavirus pandemic, the charter ceremony had to be postponed. However, not to be put down, they have been able to take to the water and enjoy themselves, as restrictions are lifted on them. It is hoped that the fleet will be chartered in the not too distant future.

Hopefully, more of us will soon be able to join them in having fun on the water once again!