

Hen House

We all know about man flu,
It's been here since Adam,
And we make a fuss,
But its all right really.

What about bird flu?
I've got a friend who lives in a hen house,
That's what she tells me.

Where she goes to escape
From being a cook and a cleaner
From remembering for everyone else

To be a bird and not a mum
To write about our world
And sometimes just to be

Will she catch bird flu?
Is it a punishment?
For trying to be a bird in a world of men?

© Karen Ray 2008