

When the sun eventually came out and it felt a bit warmer outside we went into the garden. It was a beautiful day so we cleared out the dead plants from the tubs and pots. Earlier in the week, Ruth and Ann went to the garden centre and bought some nice colourful flowers. So on this beautiful day some of us went out into the sunshine to help plant out the new flowers in the tubs and pots. It was great to do this.

Here are some pictures of the nice pots and everybody helping to make our garden pretty.
