Highland Heat and Power are proud to announce a Partnership with HBS Ring to bring the benefits of woodfuel to all HBS members.

We provide a comprehensive installation and maintenance service for wood boiler systems throughout the Highlands of Scotland. Offering a specialist advice and design service to meet customers requirements Highland Heat and Power employ a range of highly qualified engineers.

With the continual rise in the cost of fossil fuels, such as oil and gas, having a serious financial impact on businesses and households alike, the convenience and availability of wood fuels, combined with the latest controls and technology, offers a financially attractive option.

Woodfuel installations can qualify for the Government's Renewable Heat Incentive (RHI) which provides significant incentives for qualifying installations and offers attractive financial returns. We will be pleased to discuss how to make RHI work for you.
