

Cromarty History Society is a small local volunteer run organisation. The Society's main function is to hold monthly talks on local history topics for its members and visitors during the winter period. The talks are usually delivered by guest speakers but occasionally are given by members.

The society does not have the resources or facilities to conduct family history research on behalf of others. However, we have included a short list of websites that have proved of use in researching the history of Cromarty, the surrounding area and the people and families who lived here:

- Scotland's People : www.scotlandspeople.gov.uk
- Cromarty Image Library : www.thecromartyarchive.com
- Highland Archive Centre : www.highlifehighland.com/highland-archive-centre
- Ancestry (Subscription required) : www.ancestry.co.uk
- Find My Past (Subscription required) : www.findmypast.co.uk