Walk & Talk in Inverness

Thursday 12 May 2016

Scottish Charity SCO15850

We begin our tour of old Inverness in Inverness Museum & Art Gallery, Castle Wynd, Inverness, IV2 3EB (just beside the Town House).

The museum is home to displays of geology, natural history, art and archaeology collections. You can learn about Scottish history and discover how the Highlands are linked with the rest of the world.

> "There has been human settlement at the northern end of the Great Glen for at least the last 5000 years. For most of that long history, we have to depend on the slivers and stratifications divined by archaeologists. For the last 1000 years we have at least the possibility of architectural remains; for the last 500 years we have records and memories of buildings; for the last 100 years we have a richness of reminiscence, memory and photographic record unsurpassed in any other Scottish burgh."
