Romans chapter 8, verse 31
FROM THE MINISTER

Dear friends,
A journeys of faith theme is marking our more informal early services through the summer. All kinds of questions about a different journey of faith emerged in the wake of the European Referendum, but that’s not directly for me to comment on in this place. Rather a simple thought to fuel prayer for people who are on the move.

Close in our own family, and I know others, are children graduating and entering a new phase of their lives. Our daughter Hannah will be very shortly home from the year of travel she took on, and David is heading to India to teach English for a few months.

Others will be more immediately going into the world of paid work, or not, and we might remember them all. Then there are the younger children, children leaving their primary school and soon to enter the world of secondary; in Crown Primary a large number of teachers moving on, including the Head Teacher; and no doubt many families going on a holiday of one sort or another, an opening up of new experiences. Let’s pray for them. And we might remember those whose work lives are at a point of change. I mention elsewhere our taking on a new Church Secretary, and that will be a big change of work environment and day for her. For others, there may equally be work changes afoot, some exciting but some unwished for, and for some perhaps the beginning of retirement. And then as always for our prayers, there are those for whom it is illness or even bereavement which are the drivers of change, and that is not easy. We can talk about uphill struggles but sometimes that hardly begins to sum up what is being felt.

As we had the joy of ordaining and admitting new Elders at the end of June, the Biblical text for the day pushed me to preach on what it means to allow grace to flow through us. In a passage first about the sharing of money, Paul wrote to the Corinthians raising thoughts on what all there is to share; and on what all there is for our encouragement and strengthening of will and perseverance. We receive and we give, each according to his or her means. We are not asked to give more than we can, but what we have – in riches of spirit, of kindness, of prayer, of wisdom, of humility, of patience, of money and so much more – this we can and, as occasion asks for it, should offer to others.

“Shower, O heavens, from above, and let the clouds rain down righteousness; let the earth open, that salvation and righteousness may bear fruit.” (Isaiah 45:8) There is a cycle or a flow for us to be caught up in – that flow of the abundant mercies of God.
Sunday 11th September is the date to put in your diary if you want to be involved in the production of ‘Joseph and the Amazing Technicolour Dreamcoat.’ Rehearsals will commence that day after the morning service for an hour, and will continue each Sunday until the end of November, with a break for the first two Sundays of the October school holiday. In the new year, rehearsals will be on Sunday afternoons, and the shows will be staged on Friday 10th and Saturday 11th March.

Everyone Welcome! If you are unable to register on 11th September, but would like to be involved, please contact Eileen Ardern eileenardern@hotmail.com

SHALLOWFORD CHOIR ON 12th JUNE
What a great experience it was to welcome the Shallowford Chapel Choir in June. A huge number of young people, together with their chaperones, visited and sang so beautifully in the morning and then again in the evening – despite battling jetlag and having a long day which had begun in Perth! We enjoyed it as I reckon they did, not least on account of good weather and a barbeque lunch and outdoors party which marked the end of our Junior Church year before the summer holidays. Thank you very much to everyone for putting in that effort to be so hospitable.

Congratulations!
Calum Munro is to receive an MBE for his part in founding the Highland Cross. Calum is the son-in-law of the late Sinclair Lyall.

FARQUHAR FORBES and JEAN BOYD
Farquhar Forbes, who served with us as Probationer Minister, will be ordained to the Ministry of Word and Sacrament in Inshes Church on Friday 9th September at 7 pm. He is working there now as Associate Minister. It will be rather packed out we suspect, with Inshes Church not having a huge seating capacity, but anyone is most welcome to attend. Rather belatedly, we should note happily that Mrs Jean Boyd, who was a student attached with us before she went away to do her Probationary year, was ordained in March when she took up being Parish Minister in Drumoak and Durris in Aberdeenshire.
Goodbye from Katharina

As you may know after 8 ½ years in the office at Crown Church I moved on to a new challenge at Chest Heart and Stroke Scotland at the end of May. I have very much enjoyed my time at Crown and have made some very good friends there whom I will miss! I was especially touched by the gifts and flowers and the very generous donations of money which people have given me and would like to take this opportunity to say a huge thank you to all those who contributed!

I’m especially grateful to Peter for approaching me all that time ago to ask whether I might be interested in applying for the vacancy. He knew me from having worked for the then Church and Nation Committee at the Church Offices in Edinburgh. But that had been 10 years ago and I hadn’t worked in between. So I have Crown Church to thank for giving me the opportunity to regain my confidence, practice my skills and enhance my organisational abilities.

I will not forget my time in Crown and hope to continue to see some of you around!

CHURCH SECRETARY

There’s good news in that we have managed to appoint a new Church Secretary, who will begin in early August. Mrs Gloria MacKintosh has been involved in Crown Church since she was a child growing up in Diriebught Road, and actually took on the post of Secretary in Mr Logan’s time for a few years. Since then she has been working for the National Trust for Scotland. We’re delighted that she has accepted our invitation to take up the post and look forward very much to her being in the church office.

LOVELY GENEROSITY

I continue to be so thankful that together we can do more than we realise! In May people were willing to do a house to house collection for Christian Aid which, once Gift Aid is added in, exceeded £4000. In the same month, in recognition of the Revd Stewart Frizzell’s retirement and move away, £824 was handed in to be given to him as a gift. Katharina Nimmo moved on from the post of Church Secretary and while we marked it at the time by small leaving gifts, around £170 was further handed in to be given to her. A fundraiser was held to set up the church musical and some £480 was raised. Thank you for all of this—and to everyone who puts in time and effort on Sundays and around special occasions, to foster our fellowship in the Gospel.

Lift To Church – minibus pilot

The Elders’ Council has encouraged church members to give others lifts to church. Usually this enables all to attend Sunday worship. However, there are times when for one reason or another a lift is not available. This then means that sometimes a person can miss Sunday worship.

Accordingly, the Pastoral Team propose to run a pilot ‘lift to church’ using a minibus hired specially for the purpose:

Where - the target ‘pick-up’ area is approximately the area from the Southern Distributor Road back along Culduthel Road to the Crown Church. Seating on the minibus is limited and so bookings will be taken on a ‘first come’ basis.

When - the pilot will be run on Communion Sunday 4th September 2016 and passengers will be picked-up from 10am onwards. Return home after church will be from 12:15pm onwards.

How - persons wishing to make use of this pilot service are invited to book in advance, by phoning John Barbour (tel 223140) giving their name, address and a contact telephone number.

Highland Malawi Trust
The Highland Malawi trust would like to thank everyone who supported the recent Strawberry tea. The quite amazing amount of £1438 was raised! Reay MacGill
The Vine Trust and the epic voyage of the Jubilee Hope

Many thanks to the Rev Morven Archer for bringing to our attention that you can follow this epic journey on STV at 8 pm on Monday 4th, 11th, 18th and 25th July.

The Vine Trust not only helps to provide homes for street boys in Peru and children orphaned by HIV and AIDS in Tanzania, it also provides houses for families in desperate need of somewhere decent to live.

This latest venture in the medical field has been to provide access to the many communities living on and around Lake Victoria. To achieve this, the trust refurbished a ship called the "Jubilee Hope". The TV programme follows its remarkable journey of over 9000 miles from Glasgow to Lake Victoria, some of which was overland!

Further detail can be found on the Vine Trust website.

New Elders

4 new elders were ordained into the eldership in a short ceremony which took place at the second service on the morning of Sunday 26th June. In addition, Alan Nelson (already an ordained elder) was admitted into the Kirk Session of Crown Church.

The photograph shows (from the left) Alan Nelson, the Minister, Mary-Ann Buchanan, Lyn Forbes, Janet MacPherson, Liz Forbes and the session clerk, Brian Macgill
The great thing about the still new Elders’ Council, which is at the heart of the Kirk Session’s day to day work, is that it has allowed all active elders (and increasingly some others too) to have the freedom within their team just to “get on with it”.

There are six teams and they are called just that, specifically not committees, as a symbol of the fact that this is a council which “does things” without being overburdened by a bureaucratic structure. A semantic difference only? Perhaps, but I regard it as significant. The structure was set up to support the minister by releasing him from the burden of always having to take the lead in setting up any new project. I have always admired ministers who have felt happy to allow others to take the initiative, confident that although not everything will work out this is the route to an empowered, energetic congregation. Although it is still early days, it is my impression that Peter himself is already feeling energised and excited by the possibilities, not least for cross-fertilisation of ideas from one team to another. Great credit should go to him for having the clear vision needed in setting up the Council.

The worship team, by its very nature, has a remit which is close to the minister’s own. Thus for example we have been involved in planning the current summer service series and similarly the various evening service series. Indeed it was perhaps the latter planning process, which has been going on for a few years, that demonstrated to Peter just how effective sharing of the burden can be. Within an hour we would go from having no ideas to a detailed plan for six weeks of evening services. A by-product of this, I have always felt, is the sense of camaraderie that comes from team working, giving me anyway a spring in my step!

In conjunction with the discipleship team, we organised the recent successful series of lent bible studies where some thirty participants in six house groups took part in five sessions. This model has been used in recent years and seems to be a popular and rewarding format.

We have in mind an ambitious long-term project to make presentations of various kinds using a range of media on the subject of Faith and Science. This was prompted by the realisation that the so-called New Atheists have tried to drive an artificial wedge between faith, specifically Christian faith, and science. We see great scope for a variety of approaches to what is not an academic exercise but a means of engaging the wider community and challenging the perception that Christianity is not for thinking people. Two of us have attended a very inspiring conference with big name speakers held by Grasping the Nettle, “a movement formed by church leaders in Scotland to promote dialogue within the church and society at large about belief in God, especially in relation to science”. As one speaker put it, one aim is “to show that it is ok to believe”.

On a more mundane level but still at the core of our worship and witness, we have in our remit the organising of the rota for readers in church and people to shut the sanctuary doors during the summer open door period. An event that has become a fixture in the church calendar is the Christmas Quiet Day, another responsibility of the worship team. It’s a very restful, quiet, moving way to spend a few minutes or longer shielded from the hubbub of commerce outside. If you have never visited the sanctuary during the Christmas Quiet Day or for that matter on any day of the week during the summer, why not resolve to do so this year?

Still more mundane perhaps, have you ever thought about how the collection is removed from the sanctuary at the end of a service? Well, we have! We have made one or two changes to streamline the process.

Overall, I am excited, motivated and scared in equal measures by the possibilities opened up by the new Kirk Session structure and look forward to the next few years with anticipation.

The Young Crown Summer Update

Summer’s here! (We’ve had two days of sunshine anyway…) With the academic term drawing to a close, Young Crown has been busy helping schools and toddler groups to wind down well, wrapping up a year with Treasure seekers and the Youth Alpha course and starting off our summer programme a few weeks early.

We’ve already begun both the Decathlon youth and children’s clubs and the Journeys series 9:30 services. Partly so we can cover slightly longer programmes and partly so that people will already be part of the groups by the time the holidays hit. We’ve been delighted with the starts both have made – with 9:30 services proving popular, welcoming, lively and friendly and with the Decathlon clubs growing week-by-week too! Hopefully starting before the end of term will mean that people can come back to them after going on holiday (as opposed start coming midway through the break) – we’re excited by the invitation and welcome we’ve been able to extend so far and throughout the holiday period.

Thinking of Decathlon in particular, we’ve been so grateful for a quality team coming together and doing some great work with kids we know well and kids we’ve seen come in by friends-inviting-friends, etc. There’s a growing group of children we’ve been welcoming into church activities and we’re excited by the possibilities of growing relationships with them, their peers and showing them the love of God in a fresh way.

Not only that, but we’ve also been getting set up for the post-summer too… We’re looking forward to the autumn term where we have official approval to run our chaplaincy drop in at Millburn Academy; the YFC touring team confirmed for mid-November; a clothing exchange ready to start; invitations to continue supporting the toddler groups and schools groups and a bit of a blank canvas for an outreach project (details to follow soon hopefully).

Exciting times this summer and beyond for Young Crown!!

A prayer from Bangladesh

O Saviour Christ,
in whose way of life lies the secret of all life and the hopes of all the people, we pray for quiet courage to meet this hour.
We did not choose to be born or to live in such an age.
But let its problems challenge us,
its discoveries exhilarate us,
its injustice anger us,
its possibilities inspire us,
and its vigour renew us,
for your Kingdom’s sake.

Did you, like me, find the video of life in the Bangladeshi silt islands profoundly shocking? The floodwater was up to the table tops. This was no flash flood though. This is increasingly the norm. No rescue centre here. No evacuation to a community hall. No firemen with boats. No food and clothing packages from concerned citizens. Morsheda’s baby fell out of bed and into the flooded Brahmaputra River. Luckily Morsheda knew what the splash must be.

This is why we support Christian Aid. This is why we knock on doors and accept the (usually) polite refusals and no-responses as well as the welcomes. This is why we give of ourselves, share who we are.

Yes, we may have collected slightly less this year* but hidden behind that is the sacrificial giving here, the generous response from an immigrant there. This is why I am determined that we continue to ask at every door in the parish because behind that door there may be someone for whom it is more blessed to give than to receive.

Thank you so much to all who have taken part this year: collectors, counters, those who have prayed. We pray to the same God as the Bangladeshi Christians. We go in the name of the same God.

David Crippin*
