

True or False?

Statements	True	False	Evidence or no evidence? Explain.
Lower class children did not play much.	✓		The lower class children had to work in the fields.
Wealthy families could afford for their children to learn with a Governess.
A Governess would teach the children about saving money.
Lower class children played with expensive toys.
Middle class families had more money to spend on their children.
Lower class children found their own toys to play with.
Upper and middle class children had to go to work.
Children from a wealthy family had to play in the street.
Children from a poor family had a nursery to play in.
Lower class children went to work for a short time only.			