Suddenly they stopped. They heard a deafening screech from the mysterious cave that was louder than a dinosaur's roar. As they peered around the rocky entrance to the cave they could see a pirate. He was dressed in a spatchky red jester's outfit as brown as bark skraped of a branch of a tree. His eye patch was as dark as midnight and a peculiar looking hat. He has scruffy black hair that looked like a walrhog that hadn't been washed for days. Instead of a hand he had a crazy, shreay, polatly hook and a rusted sharpe sword that was hanging from his belt. crossly he marched towards the childre sneering while every step.

(bad character)

Suddenly, he stopped. He heard a loud cackle from a distance that was so loud it sent shivers down his spine and made the airs on his back stand up.

As he turned around he could see a witch.
He was dressed in a long cape/pointy hat and holding a long wand. She had a long pointy nose/ dark menacing eyes and warts on cheeks.

She walked with such a steely and commanding presence as she approached him.

She landed softly with a wave of her wand and a flash of light into the little boy's bed room he looked so happy playing with his toys. Later that night Toy fairy spotted a broken doll waiting for her. The Toy Fairy watched as the little girl had wished for her help, hugged the girl tight. girl said I hope the Toy Fairy comes and makes you all better then the girl went to bed.

TANTASTIC

actually got to see it.

Right in the corner of the forest lives an excitable little gnome.

He had a kind face and a jolly laugh. His name is Pickle. Joyfully, he would dance outside his charming little cottage and everyone that saw him felt fantastic.

Every day after checking on the animals he would have an ice cream with marshmallows then he skips merrily to the middle of the forest.

MAX
POWER!

Within the forest there lived a magical frog. He had smooth, moist skin and big bulging eyes. This stocky green fat frog was the most shiniest down you have seen! He looked so charming, like a prince. He was very lucky when little Red Riding Hood found him. Every day deep in the forest the frog spent his time alone looking up at the trees and listening to the birds, whilst he hunts all the delicious insects.

YOU
ROCK

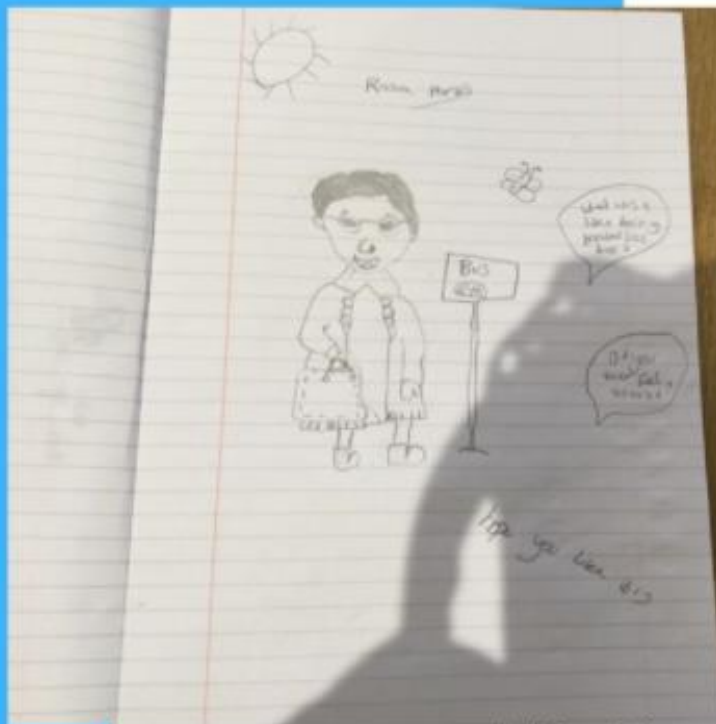

I made this from my toucan box. I used coffee filters to make the planets and i used felt tips, tissue paper, water and pipet to make the effects on the planets.
