

As a musician I will learn:

- Listen to 'Dog Days Are Over' and describe it using musical terms.
- Make my own rhythms using Stone Age phrases to create a composition.

In my personal development I will learn:

- To work collaboratively to make a class charter.
- To celebrate gifts and talents.
- To think about feelings of anger and how we calm ourselves down.

As a historian I will learn:

- To be an archaeologist – looking at maps, digging in sand, putting pots back together.
- Explore the 3 periods of the Stone Age, houses, what they wore and compare.

As a sport person I will learn:

- Use Dog Days are over to create a Stone Age dance.
- Use 2 and 3 point balances and link with travelling movements.
- Throw, catch, develop fielding skills.

As an IT expert I will learn:

- How to create and use safe passwords.
- How to search the Internet safely.
- To research and present my work using PowerPoint.

In RE I will learn:

- Why commitment is important to Sikhs.
- To identify the 5 Ks.
- What happens during the Amrit ceremony.
- How Sikhs show commitment.

As a scientist I will learn:

- To investigate the properties of rocks.
- To make a sedimentary sandwich.
- To mix chocolate buttons to make igneous rock.
- To make fossils using plasticine and polyfiller.

As a writer I will learn:

- To use a variety of conjunctions.
- To retell a story including most events.
- To add detail to interest my reader.

Our theme and topic will be:

Stone Age Britain

As a reader I will learn:

- Test – The Stone Age Boy.
- Investigated – Features of text types.

As a mathematician I will learn:

- Investigate 2 and 3 digit place value
- Added and subtract 1s, 10s and 100s from 2 and 3 digit numbers.