Weekly Project

We are having such fun with our weekly projects. The children have been sending us pictures of their fantastic work, which we enjoy looking at, so a very big well done.

The projects will continue to run Wednesday to Wednesday each week up until the February half term, in place of the homework. Please make sure the project work is returned to us via ClassDojo, each Wednesday.

Skittles Experiment:

We would like for you to become Scientists! This week you are going to need a small plate, a bag of skittles (sweets) and some warm water as part of your experiment. We are going to conduct a thorough experiment. We will predict what we think will happen during our experiment, we will then conduct our experiment and finally write up our findings.
