Mark 12: 30-31 Christians try to build bridges towards one another every day. They ‘examine their consciences’ to see how they have kept these two commandments. Our conscience is like a voice or feeling inside us. This is the Holy Spirit helping us to respond to God. If we pay attention to the Holy Spirit, it will help us to know if something is good or bad. It is good to think every evening, before you go to bed, about how you have built bridges of love and friendship or, perhaps, broken them through sin. We can thank God for all the good and say sorry for the bad. and know that God, like the good shepherd, cares about us and loves us. Design a piece of work (however you would like) which illustrates at least 10 things you would like to thank God for and anything you feel you would like to say sorry for.

In this sacrament, those receiving it may be sure of the love and mercy of God. The most important thing that people preparing to receive the Sacrament of Reconciliation need is to be sorry for their sins. There is a special word for this – 'contrition'. When you have had a quarrel with someone, you can never make up unless you are really and truly sorry – that is, if you have contrition. It about realising the consequences of what you have done, the hurt you have caused to others, as well as to yourself. When you have contrition, you will try very hard not to sin again and there will be peace in your heart. Write your own prayer of sorrow to God. It is called an Act of Contrition.
