

Why do we collect and use information about you?

The General Data Protection Regulation 2018 (GDPR) is a set of rules designed to make sure people's personal data is kept safe and is not used inappropriately. We collect and use information about you, abiding by these rules, for the following reasons:

- By law we have to process your data to make sure we meet the requirements of:
 - The Education Act 1996
 - The School Admissions Code
 - Keeping Children Safe in Education
- We need to process your data to support and protect you, and make sure your best interests are looked after as a student at Stroud High School

We use your data:

- to support your learning and progress
- to monitor and report on your learning and progress
- to provide appropriate support for students in our school – this is known as 'pastoral care'
- to assess the quality of what we do as a school to try to be the best that we can be and provide you with the best education we can
- to meet the requirements of the law regarding data sharing

The categories of student information that we collect, hold and share (only with appropriate people when it is required) include:

- Information about you - such as your name, date of birth, address and home contact details and unique pupil number
- Your personal characteristics which we need for the annual school census and to ensure you receive financial support when needed. The census is an annual survey of all students in the country undertaken by the Government. This survey includes data such as:
 - Ethnicity eg Asian, African, White, mixed race etc
 - Language eg whether English is the main language spoken at home
 - Nationality eg Indian, British
 - Country of birth eg France, Poland, Great Britain
 - Whether you are eligible for financial support through 'pupil premium'. Students are eligible for pupil premium if:
 - They are entitled to free school meals, or have been at any time in the last 6 years
 - They are in care, adopted or fostered
 - They are the children of members of the armed forces
- Attendance information (such as morning and afternoon sessions attended, the number of absences you have had and the reasons for the absence). We need to record this by law to make sure you are receiving your entitlement to an education, and to keep the Local Authority and the Department for Education informed
- Assessment information (such as Key Stage 2 results, on-going assessments throughout your time with us and GCSE/A Level results) so that we can support you in meeting your personal best
- Information about your behaviour so that we can support your welfare and help you meet your personal best
- Special educational needs and disabilities information, and important medical information to ensure you have the support you are entitled to and are kept safe and well
- Medical information and parental consent for trips (such as allergies and existing medical conditions)

Collecting student information

Whilst the majority of information you provide to us has to be collected by law, some of it is provided to us on a voluntary basis. In order to abide by the rules of the General Data Protection Regulation 2018, we will inform you whether you are required by law to provide certain information to us, or if you have a choice in this.

Storing student data

Your data is held securely either on our school network or in locked filing cabinets. We restrict who can access your data so that only those people who need to can see it. We also make sure that people only have access to what they need for their job and not necessarily everything we hold about you. Access to any sensitive personal information is strictly restricted to only those who need to see it.

We keep the data and information we have about you until after your 25th birthday; we are required to do this by law. After that your data is deleted from our computer systems and any paper records we hold are destroyed. We use a company with special authorisation to destroy paper records for us.

Who do we share student information with?

We routinely share pupil information with:

- Schools that our students attend after leaving us
- Our local authority, which is Gloucestershire County Council (GCC)
- The Department for Education (DfE)
- The NHS/school nurse as applicable for your safety and wellbeing and to support national vaccination programmes
- Counsellors/Educational Psychologists as and when appropriate
- Alps, which is an organisation that uses our students' GCSE results to help us set appropriate targets for A Level study. Alps also analyse our A Level results to help us identify where we are doing well and what we need to improve (<https://alps-va.co.uk/about/>)
- Suppliers and service providers – to enable them to provide the service we have contracted them for (such as Travel agents, airline, ferry/coach companies, hotels etc)

We also share data about our 6th Form students with Marling School to ensure:

- Student progress can be tracked and monitored
- Students are safe and supported while they are learning on the Marling School site

Aged 14+ qualifications

For students who are taking post 14 qualifications such as GCSEs or A Levels, the Learning Records Service will give us your unique learner number (ULN) and may also give us details about your learning or qualifications. The Learning Records Service collect data on behalf of the Education and Skills Funding Agency for the Government.

Why we share student information

We do not share information about our students with anyone without consent unless the law requires us to, or our policies allow us to. We ask parents, or students when it is relevant, for consent to use specific and limited data for educational or publicity purposes when we update our student contact forms each September/October.

We are required by law to share information about our pupils with the DfE under regulation 5 of The Education (Information About Individual Pupils) (England) Regulations 2013. This data sharing is needed so that school funding can be allocated appropriately.

Data collection requirements:

To find out more about the data collection requirements placed on us by the Department for Education (for example via the school census) go to <https://www.gov.uk/education/data-collection-and-censuses-for-schools>.

Youth support services - What is different about pupils aged 13+?

Once our students reach the age of 13 we also pass pupil information to our local authority and/or provider of youth support services as they have responsibilities in relation to the education or training of 13-19 year olds under section 507B of the Education Act 1996.

A parent/guardian can request that only their child's name, address and date of birth is passed to their local authority or provider of youth support services by informing us. This right is transferred to the student once they reach the age 16.

Our students aged 16+

We also share certain information about students aged 16+ with our local authority (Gloucestershire County Council) and the provider of youth support services (Prospects). We must do this as they have responsibilities in relation to the education or training of 13-19 year olds under section 507B of the Education Act 1996.

The National Pupil Database (NPD)

The NPD is owned and managed by the Department for Education (DfE) and contains information about students in schools in England and it provides important evidence on how schools are performing. This information is used to inform independent research, as well as studies the DfE asks others to conduct on their behalf. It is held in electronic format for statistical purposes and to analyse national trends. This information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, local authorities and awarding bodies such as AQA, OCR and Eduqas who set exams and award qualifications such as GCSEs and A Levels.

We must, by law, provide information about our students to the DfE as part of annual surveys, or data collections, these data collections are called the 'census'. Some of this information is then stored in the National Pupil Database. The law that allows this is the Education (Information About Individual Pupils) (England) Regulations 2013.

To find out more about the student information we share with the department, for the purpose of data collections, go to <https://www.gov.uk/education/data-collection-and-censuses-for-schools>.

To find out more about the NPD, go to <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/national-pupil-database-user-guide-and-supporting-information>.

The department may share information about our students from the NPD with third parties who promote the education or well-being of children in England by:

- Conducting research or analysis
- Producing statistics
- Providing information, advice or guidance

The Department has robust (strong) processes in place to ensure the data is kept confidential (safe and private) and there are very strict rules and controls in place regarding who can access and use the data. Decisions on whether DfE allows other people to access the data are subject to a strict approval process and based on a detailed assessment of:

- Who is requesting the data
- The purpose for which it is required
- The level and sensitivity of data requested: and
- The arrangements in place to store and handle the data

To be granted access to student information, organisations must obey the strict rules and terms and conditions covering the confidentiality (how it is kept private), security arrangements (how it is kept safe), retention (how long it is kept) and use of the data.

Requesting access to your personal data

Under data protection law, parents and students have the right to request access to information about them that we hold. To make a request for your personal information, or for a parent to be given access to their child's educational record, contact Mrs Sandra Thomson, Business Manager.

You also have the right to:

- Object to processing of personal data that is likely to cause, or is causing, damage or distress
- Prevent processing for the purpose of direct marketing (people contacting you to sell you something). Stroud High School does not provide data to anyone for marketing purposes.
- Object to decisions being taken by automated means (automated means a computer programme making decisions about you based on your data without a human being involved). Stroud High School does not use any automated decision making systems.
- In certain circumstances, have inaccurate personal data rectified, blocked, erased or destroyed; and
- Claim compensation for damages caused by a breach of the Data Protection regulations

If you have a concern about the way we are collecting or using your personal data, you should raise your concern with us in the first instance by contacting Mrs Sandra Thomson, Business Manager or directly to the Information Commissioner's Office at <https://ico.org.uk/concerns/>
