Dear Parents, Carers and Children

This week we have celebrated Children's Mental Health Week. All classes have been taking part in activities to promote this year's theme: Express Yourself which has culminated in today's event: Dress to Express. I have seen so many bright colours on display, some interesting headgear and masks. This morning, in our Celebration Assemblies, each class shared some of the activities they have been taking part in this week.

Our main message to children this week has been the following: Children's Mental Health Week does not end here. Every week is Children's Mental Health Week. There has never been a more important time to be mindful of our wellbeing and mental health. Mindfulness activities are part of our daily timetables and children will have many opportunities to reflect, consider their mental health and wellbeing and express themselves in different ways.

As half term approaches, all teachers want to encourage children to keep going, to keep working as hard as they have. They all know that it hasn't been easy, but children have shown us all every day that they are adaptable and determined to succeed.

It will be important this half term for all to have a deserved rest. Teachers will need time to rest and relax from a very intense half term. Parents, you will need a break from supporting your children's home learning. Children, you will need a break too because you have worked hard during the term.

Have a lovely weekend everyone and stay safe

Online Safety Training for Parents

The online world is posing an ever-increasing risk to children and it is important that schools, parents and carers work in collaboration to take an active role in teaching children about online dangers and being responsible cyber citizens.

Learning how to act safely when using the internet is an incredibly important part of safeguarding our children, and is key priority for our school. We are therefore delighted to provide E-Safety training for parents.

The video in the link below was created by our IT provider, Levett Consultancy. Please click on the link to access the E- Safety Parents Training video.
