

On Thursday 2nd April I went into my back garden at 7.00am to find this egg!

I cannot pick it up as it is too hot to touch, if I sit quietly it moves ever so slightly left and right and I can hear a crunching sound.

What do you think it is?

Tell me what you think the egg is and what you think I should do with it.

- You could write this down as a letter.
- You could video yourself.
- You could voice record yourself
- You could write an information leaflet of what to do.

But most of all I need your help!
