HYLLTEKNIK II

Cover

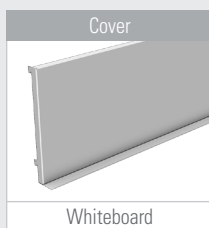

Mikael Jepson has become famous from his time as a guitarist in the pop group The Ark. Since then he has become a real entrepreneur within music, wine productions and interior design. Together with Hyllteknik, he has developed a concept that would later be called "Cover". Mikael wanted to cover the system's hollow in nice and functionally way. The result became a decorative panel made of sheet metal. By combining these in different colors you can build your own wall and form your own expression. The decor panel also acts as a suspension for the wire console designed for this concept. The console is clamped over the decor panel and has drops on the top that matches the pre-drilled shelves. You decide whether and where you want shelves. There are both straight and sloping shelf to choose from. In addition, it is possible to replace three panels with a whiteboard.
