Antibacterial coating

OGRO door fittings with antibacterial C+ coating

All fittings from OGRO can be given a coating of the highly effective antibacterial agent C+. The C+ coating helps to kill transmittable germs on the door handle, thereby reducing the risk of unnecessary infections.

Thanks to the effective way it fights germs, the coating is especially suitable for hospitals and care facilities. It can also improve hygiene in many other highly frequented buildings such as schools, daycare centers for children, universities, public institutions as well as in hotels and restaurants.

Germs eliminated much faster with C+ than specified by the ISO standard

ISO 22196 requires 99.9% freedom from germs after 24 hours. The antibacterial coating from OGRO achieves this effect after just 30 minutes.
