

Quality Policy

Our quality policy is to manufacture and deliver products that meet our customers' requirements, needs and expectations.

If the requirements are not formally specified, we will deliver the quality that according to our experience is right for the customer given the use of the product.

Quality should be the natural result of a high level of competence, good organisation and commitment by our employees.

Management is responsible for the quality system fulfilling the current ISO standards, with focus on continuous improvements.

Our quality policy and our stated quality objectives are systematically monitored by the management.
