

Module T03: Faith and Revelation

This module shows how Christian faith is firmly grounded in divine revelation.

The question is approached by means of a general analysis of religious experience that shows how the human experience of faith opens out to the vast panorama of God's love that ultimately is revealed decisively in Jesus Christ.

Taking its cue from Church teaching on faith and revelation as enunciated by Vatican Councils I and II, the module investigates the historical unfolding and theological witness to revelation in the life and history of Israel, before proceeding to show how all is brought to completion in Christ's life, death and resurrection.

Examples from the Carmelite tradition are used to illustrate points when appropriate.