

Interpretation of Genomic Test Results

A two day multi-disciplinary workshop with a focus on the interpretation of genomic test results for endocrine, germline cancer and inherited cardiac conditions

3rd and 4th March 2020
Exeter

Faculty members include:

Professor Clare Turnbull
Professor James Ware
Dr Caroline Wright
Dr Ellen Thomas
Dr Christine Patch

Organisers:

Dr Julia Baptista
Dr Emma Baple
Professor Sian Ellard

This two-day workshop will cover the principles that underlie the classification, reporting and clinical interpretation of genomic variants.

LIMITED HEE funded places available for clinical geneticists, genetic counsellors, cardiologists, oncologists and endocrinologists

PLEASE BOOK BEFORE 17th JANUARY 2020

South West
Genomic Laboratory Hub

Health Education England

For further information and to apply for a fully funded place on this course, please contact:

UEMS_CPD@exeter.ac.uk or call +44 (0) 1392 722964