The Story of the Coins and Tokens of the British World

£39.95
+p&p

This full colour profusely illustrated 380-page book tells the story of the coins and tokens used by the British to trade across the globe, from the very earliest trade in the 15th century through to the final days of the colonies. It examines the coins of The East India Company, the tokens of private individuals, the coins which are commonly referred to as "colonial coins" and the coins of the Commonwealth—stretching from the Americas to Asia and all points in between.

Coins of England & The United Kingdom

Coins of England needs little introduction to most numismatists. It has become the standard reference work for United Kingdom coins since it was first published by Seaby many years ago. Where the COIN YEARBOOK is a handy guide to the most commonly encountered coins and an ideal quick reference, Coins of England is a far more in depth publication covering die varieties, types etc. Now split into two volumes the book covers all English and United Kingdom coins up until decimalisation in the main, hardcover, book with all coins produced since the UK went decimal covered in the smaller paperback volume.

A Guide to the Guinea 1663 to 1813

From the publishers of the acclaimed The Gold Sovereign, comes a new, sister publication, A Guide to the Guinea—1663–1813. This definitive guide to one of the country's most fascinating gold coins is the life work of collector and acknowledged authority on the guinea, Roderick Farey. Bringing together never before seen information, facts, figures and fabulous illustrations, this new title is set to become the standard reference work on the subject. Covering the history of the guinea from its beginnings in the reign of the newly restored monarch Charles II to its demise as a circulating coin and subsequent replacement by the modern gold sovereign in the time of George III, this book provides all you need to know about the "golden guinea" and all its varieties. An eight page, separate Price Guide to the guinea is also included with the book.

In the Money: A guide to the coins that shaped Britain

£12.99

+p&p

Numismatic books usually fall into one of two categories—either they are general price guides or they are more specific, books that concentrate on one coin or maybe one type of coin/historical period. This new book In the Money by Dominic Chorney of Baldwin's, breaks that pattern and instead looks at a number of coins from across history; quite literally the "coins that shaped Britain". Starting with the Celtic gold stater and on to the Roman Britannia, the hammered penny, the sovereign and the decimal pound coin, Dominic looks at how these coins came into being, the political, historical economic and social background to their institution and the influence they had on the wider world. Whilst this isn't a book that will impart much new knowledge to specialist collectors it is one that will be of interest to all—and serves to give an excellent background into why coins are important and how they came to be so. It is well worth a read!

The Tribes & Coins of Celtic Britain

The Celts left no written records and the only historical accounts we have of them derive mainly from Roman writers. This makes archaeological finds all the more important and Celtic coins, in particular, unique as sources of information. This useful book outlines the history of the coins that we know of and the people who made them.

This new book by Chris Bate, looks at the awards, actions, and recipients for those Military Medals of the interwar period 1919–1939 which, naturally, included many awards for India. The book is divided up initially into theatres of war and actually starts with Waziristan Operations in 1917 (despite the book's cover which states it only covers from 1919!) moves on to Northern Turkana in 1918 and Afghanistan 1919 up to Palestine in 1936–39. A full alphabetical listing of recipients is also included, as are, very importantly, all the rediscovered citations!

The Annotations found on the Reverses of the Military Medal Index Cards (1916–1920)

£35.00
+p&p

This book is exactly what it says it is—a full list of all of the annotations found on the back of the MM index cards for World War I. Often the card that was used to index the award contained useful biographical details of the recipient or details of the action for which the award was made—those notes have, until now, been overlooked but now, for the first time, researchers can find out exactly what those little snippets were!

The Award of the Military Medal for the Campaign in Italy (1917–1918)

£35.00
+p&p

The latest volume in Howard Williamson and Chris Bate's magnum opus on the Military Medal covers the Italian campaign of the last two years of World War I. Featuring a brief outline of the campaign and then a full nominal roll of those who received the MM for it (including Italian Nationals) the book also gives the schedule number roll and the registered paper number roll. These are further broken down by Regiments and individual units. The annotated roll of the DCMs awarded for the campaign is also included as are details about VCs won and Lord Cavan's despatches for the campaign. Details on the cemeteries where MM recipients are buried and even Italian Army ranks are also to be found in a book that literally covers every aspect of the campaign in Italy.

Forgotten Heroes— The Charge of the Light Brigade

£29.99
+p&p

This book really is a masterpiece and an absolute must-have for anyone interested in the Crimea or this famous action which has gone into the annals of military folklore. It is absolutely chock-full of information about the Charge and, most importantly the Chargers themselves. Of particular interest to the collector is information on full medal and clasp entitlement and even when the medals last came up for sale and how much they sold for. Chargers are listed by Regiment and alphabetically.

Forgotten Heroes— The Charge of the Heavy Brigade

£29.99
+p&p

Like its sister publication on the Light Brigade this book really is a masterpiece and an absolute must-have for anyone interested in the Crimea or this famous action. Just like Forgotten Heroes The Light Brigade it's absolutely full of information about the Charge and the Chargers—including photographs; date of birth and date of death; medal and clasp entitlement (even when the medals last came up for sale and how much they sold for)—and all importantly whether the man rode in the Charge or not! Chargers listed by Regiment and alphabetically along with information about the charge itself.

Forgotten Heroes— The Zulu & Basuto Wars

+p&p

The latest in the series from Roy Dutton, author of the Forgotten Heroes books on the Charges of the Light and Heavy Brigades at Balaklava, this excellent publication looks at the campaigns in South Africa in 1877–79. Included, of course, are the best-known of the battles of the Zulu Wars of 1879—Isandlwana and Rorke's Drift. Includes complete Medal Roll for the South Africa Medal 1877–79 and its clasps.

Forgotten Heroes— The Charge of the 21st Lancers at Omdurman

£29.99
+p&p

The Charge of the 21st Lancers at Omdurman has gone down in history but establishing the identity of exactly who took part has always been a challenge. In this new book Roy Dutton follows his excellent works on those other famous Charges—those by the Heavy Brigade and the Light Brigade during the Crimean War—by providing us with both a full medal roll for Lancers who received the Queen's and Khedive's Sudan medals and some fascinating biographical details of the men who took part. With a plethora of photographs and a full history of the Lancers this is a book no cavalry, or Sudan, collector should be without.

For God, Queen and Colony

£45.00
+p&p

This enormous A4 456pp book by Terry Sole (with Foreword by Ian Knight) details the histories and the important roles of the Colonial and Native Units who fought alongside the British Army in the Zulu War of 1879, including the disaster at Hlobane. This fascinating work includes the muster rolls, many reproduced here for the first time—finally correcting many of the anomalies that exist in previously published histories. A vital resource for any Zulu War Collector.

Heroes of the Albert Medal & More Heroes of the Albert Medal

The Albert Medal was instituted by Royal Warrant on March 7, 1866, as an award for gallantry shown in saving, or attempting to save, life at sea. Ten years later, a new Royal Warrant created the Albert Medal for Saving Life on Land. The medal quickly became regarded as the premier award for gallantry "not in the face of the enemy"; in fact, the civilian equivalent of the Victoria Cross. The award could also be made to servicemen and women who performed acts of gallantry in the course of their daily lives, both in wartime and in times of peace. These recipients were featured in "Heroes of the Albert Medal". "More Heroes of the Albert Medal" concentrates on the many civilian recipients of this rare and hard-won award who did not survive to become holders of the George Cross in October, 1971.
