PIMCO Short-Term High Yield Corporate Bond Index Source UCITS ETF

A sub-fund of PIMCO Fixed Income Source ETFs plc
PIMCO Global Advisors (Ireland) Limited, part of Allianz, manages this fund.

ISIN: IE00B7N3YW49
Share class: USD Income

Objectives and Investment Policy

Objective  The fund aims to provide the performance of the ICE BofAML 0-5 Year US High Yield Constrained Index (the "Reference Index").

Investment Policy  The fund invests in a substantial portion of its assets in the underlying assets of the Reference Index. It will invest in fixed income securities. These are generally considered to be riskier investments but may pay a higher income.

In order to achieve its investment objective, the fund may also use financial derivatives particularly where investment in the underlying bonds or currencies is difficult.

Accordingly, the fund may invest in derivative instruments (such as futures, options and swaps) rather than directly in the underlying securities themselves. The derivatives return is linked to movements in the underlying assets.

The fund is passively managed (i.e. tracks the ICE BofAML 0-5 Year US High Yield Constrained Index (the "Index")).

For full investment objectives and policy details please refer to the prospectus.

Distribution Policy  This share class pays out a distribution of any investment income generated by the fund. You may elect for this to be reinvested into the fund.

Dealing Day  The fund's net asset value is calculated daily and the fund is open for redemptions on each day the NYSE Arca and banks in London are open for business. Please refer to the prospectus for further information. The fund shares are listed on one or more Stock Exchanges. As the fund is an exchange traded fund ("ETF"), in normal market conditions typically only authorised participants may subscribe or redeem shares directly with the fund. Other investors can buy or sell shares daily through an intermediary directly or on stock exchanges on which then shares are traded, i.e. on the secondary market.

The Reference Index  The Reference Index tracks the performance of short-term U.S. dollar denominated below investment grade corporate debt publicly issued in the U.S. domestic market including bonds, Rule 144a securities and pay-in-kind securities.

Fund’s Base Currency  US Dollars.

This rating is not a measure of the risk of capital loss, but a measure of the fund’s price movement over time. This rating:

- is based on historical data, which may be comparative, and may not be representative of future rating.
- as a result, this risk estimation may not be a reliable indicator of future risk and may be subject to change over time.
- is classified in the category indicated above due to its past behaviour, which may be comparative. The lowest category does not mean risk free investment.
- is designed to help investors understand the uncertainties both for loss and for growth that may affect their investment.
- does not provide its investors with any guarantee on performance, nor on the performance of monies invested in it.

Main risks not covered by the above indicator which could negatively affect the net asset value of the fund:

- Counterparty Risk  Other financial institutions provide services such as safekeeping of assets or as a counterparty to financial contracts such as derivatives. The fund is exposed to the risk of bankruptcy, or other type of default of transaction counterparties.

- Fixed Income Risk  There is a risk that the institution which issued the securities will fail, which would result in a loss of income to the fund. Fixed income values are likely to fall if interest rates rise.

- Liquidity on Secondary Market Risk  Lower liquidity means there are insufficient buyers or sellers to allow the fund to sell or buy the fund's Investments. On-exchange liquidity may be limited due to suspension of Reference Index pricing, a decision by one of the relevant stock exchanges, or a breach by one or more market makers of respective stock exchange requirements and guidelines.

- Risk of Using Derivatives  In order to reach its investment objective, the fund may use certain financial derivatives, including currency forwards. Such derivatives may result in gains or losses that are greater than the original amount invested.

For more information on risks, please see the fund prospectus which is available at etf.invesco.com.
Charges

The charges you pay are used to pay the costs of running the fund, including the costs of marketing and distributing it. These charges reduce the potential growth of your investment.

*Because the fund is an ETF, investors will typically only be able to buy or sell shares in the secondary market. The entry and exit charges outlined here are not applicable to such secondary market investors. However, secondary market investors may incur brokerage and / or transaction fees in connection with their dealings. Secondary market investors may also bear the costs of "bid-ask" spreads; meaning the difference between the prices at which shares can be bought and sold. You should discuss these fees and costs with your financial advisor or broker before you invest, as they may reduce the amount of your initial investment and the amount you receive on disposal.
